

G. W. MEREDITH ARRESTED HELD UNDER $5,000 BOND

Wholesale Liquor Dealer Charged by the Revenue Officers With Serious Offences.

MUST APPEAR BEFORE THE U. S. GRAND JURY

A dispatch from Cleveland states that investigation in that city has resulted in the discovery in the United States district attorney's office that part of the wholesale liquor establishment of G. W. Meredith, of East Liverpool, has been seized by Collector of Internal Revenue McCord, by authority of the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington.

The Cleveland dispatch says further: "A revenue agent located at Cincinnati has been quietly investigating the case at East Liverpool, and the facts were laid before McCord, who in turn reported the affair officially to the United States Attorney John J. Sullivan. A warrant, which was sworn to by T. E. Peckinpaugh, McCord's first deputy, was issued for Meredith's arrest.

"The affidavit charged Meredith with unlawfully making false entries and failing to make entries and with rectifying spirits without giving notice to the collector and without the intervention of a gauger. He was also charged with changing the inspection marks, using his goods with fraudulent brands, shipping them under false trade names and failing to destroy the marks and stamps on empty spirit packages.

"As soon as the affidavit was sworn to, Sullivan notified Meredith to come to Cleveland. He did so Saturday and was formally placed under arrest. He was accompanied by a number of influential citizens of East Liverpool, including Judge Billingsley, of Billingsley & Tayler, who acted as his attorneys.

"A hearing was had Saturday afternoon before United States Commissioner John Simpson. Meredith pleaded not guilty and he was bound over to the United States grand jury on $5,000 bail."

spree was prolonged until last evening and McCord was in a half-crazed condition. About 9 o'clock he entered the saloon of Mrs. Maud Smith on lower Broadway and drawing a 38-calibre bulldog revolver from his pocket chased all the occupants from the room. He then went to the rooms above the bar, occupied by Mrs. Smith and threatened to shoot any person who attempted to ascend the stairs. The police had been telephoned for and Officer McDermott was the first to respond. The dangerous looking weapon in the hands of the drink-crazed man did not bluff him, and although it was necessary to use force the arrest was soon made.

U. J. SMITH COMES WITH NEW PROMISES

Is Now Very Anxious to Build a Trolley Line From Salem to This City.

OFFER TO POST FORFEIT

Of $50,000 That He Will Carry Out the Project—Started Today to Drive Over the Line of the Surveyed Road.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special).—U. J. Smith, of Cleveland, the electric railway promoter who secured franchises along the public highway for a line from Salem to East Liverpool a few years ago, was in Lisbon today and started early this morning to drive over the old route. He was accompanied by T. A. Wright and son, of Wilkes-barre, Pa.

Mr. Smith says he will build the line which was projected when the franchises were secured, and signified his willingness to post a $50,000 forfeit that his project will be carried out.

With J. C. Kernahan, son of Landlord J. J. Kernahan, of the Hostetter House, Mr. Smith has been developing lead mines at Pitton, Mo. The property abounds in rich deposits of lead and zinc ore, some of which shows an assay of 80 per cent. A mine on contiguous territory produces a supply from which $500 worth is sold daily. Landlord Kernahan is about to dispose of his interests here preparatory to moving to the field of operations in Missouri.

MEEK AS A LAMB IN THE MORNING

John McCord Terrorized Smoky Row And Now Wonders Where His $52 Is.

John McCord, from Rochester, Pa., terrorized Smoky Row last evening, but was as meek as a lamb this morning when arraigned before the mayor. He was sorry he had been a bad actor and pleaded guilty to the charges of drunk and disorderly and carrying concealed weapons. He was assessed $2 and costs for the former and $5 and costs for the latter offense, and he is to stand committed until the fine and costs are paid. McCord is wondering what has become of the $52 he came to town with, as it would come in quite handy in satisfying the claims of justice.

McCord came to town Saturday and found the Smoky Row district so attractive that he could not get away from it. He had a roll and soon found friends to help him spend it. The

WANT CONIACKERS

Secret Service Men in the City on the Trail of a Band of Counterfeiters.

Several secret service detectives, on the trail of a band of counterfeiters who have been flooding the upper Ohio valley with spurious coins during the past few months, have been in this city for the past several days. So mysterious was the visit of the detectives here that no one knew of their presence until they had been here and gone. They kept their presence completely concealed, not even notifying the local police, and their identity was not discovered until after they had been here for some time and left for parts unknown.

Three of them arrived here about two weeks ago and sought employment in different parts of the city, meeting clandestinely each night to go over the information each one had discovered during the day. One of the party was a barber, and giving the name of Richard Wynn, secured a position with Fred Furrer, the Sixth street barber. He had little to say as to who he was, except that he had come from Milwaukee to secure employment in this part of the country. He was a man of prepossessing appearance and of more than ordinary intelligence. During the time he worked in the barber shop he received several telegrams each day, which aroused the suspicions of Mr. Furrer that the newcomer was something more than a barber, but just who or what he was he could not understand.

His leaving was as mysterious as his coming. He worked three days, and without notifying anybody that he was going away, or even asking for his pay, suddenly disappeared, and it was not until after he had gone that his identity was discovered. One of the other men secured a position in the tin mill at Chester, and like his partner, left suddenly without even asking for his pay.

The third one pretended to work in Wellsville, but the most of his time was spent in riding on the street cars and loafing about the saloons on Third street in Wellsville. The three went away together and no one knows where they have gone. From what information could be learned of their visit here they were on the trail of the counterfeiters who have been making and passing counterfeit dimes in nearly every city between Pittsburgh and Wheeling during the past few months.

The banks in particular in many of the towns have been heavy losers by having the spurious coins passed on them, and they have been instrumental in bringing the government officers to this part of the country. The counterfeit money is described as being almost perfect in appearance, having the exact weight and size of the genuine coins, and it is only after they have been used for a considerable time that it is possible to detect that they are not genuine.

HERRICK AND DICK BOTH IN THE RACE

The Way the Situation as Regards Gubernatorial Contest Stands at Present.

HANNA KEEPING HANDS OFF

Conference at Cleveland Not Productive of Results—Announcement of Col. Herrick's Candidacy Expected Soon—Gen. Dick's Position.

Cleveland, December 30.—Unless there is a decided change in the mind of either General Charles Dick, of Akron, or Colonel Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, both will be candidates for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Although these gentlemen held a long conference yesterday in reference to their respective aspirations for the governorship the meeting did not result in any material change in the situation. If anything, it only resulted in a more firm determination on the part of both men to be candidates. Senator Hanna is not only being embarrassed, but is being actually annoyed by the determined efforts on the part of friends of General Dick and Colonel Herrick to induce him to use his good offices and influence toward having one of the candidates withdraw from the field and then come out in an open declaration for the remaining candidate. Several days ago the senator said emphatically that he did not desire to become involved in the candidacies of his two friends and argued that it was no more than just and right that he should be permitted to remain absolutely neutral in the matter. He himself is a candidate for reelection next fall, and for that reason if no other, he believes that he should be relieved of all of the embarrassments and entanglements connected with active participation in contests for nomination for state offices.

While he does not like to see two of his close friends pitted against each other for a nomination and would be greatly pleased to see one of them withdraw from the race, he believes that it is the inherent right of every man to be ambitious and realize his ambition if possible. Believing this, he determined to assume an absolutely neutral position so far as General Dick and Colonel Herrick are concerned. It was therefore only in accordance with this determination that Senator Hanna took no part in the conference held by the two candidates yesterday.

NEW CONTRACT IS TO BE MADE

Board of Education Will Cut Loose From the Fort Pitt Gas Company.

EAST END SCHOOL HOUSES

Hereafter to Be Supplied With Fuel By the Ohio Valley Company—Contractor Cain Ordered to Hasten the Work on McKinley School Building.

The board of education intends to cut loose from the Fort Pitt Gas company, and at the meeting last evening instructed its clerk, Walter B. Hill, to enter into a contract with the Ohio Valley company to supply gas to the two East End school buildings. Until very recently these buildings were served by the Fort Pitt company, but the numerous breaks in the mains proved such an inconvenience that it was found necessary to change the furnaces so that coal could be used in them. On several occasions school was dismissed on account of the shortage in the gas supply. At the present time the Ohio Valley company has no service along the streets on which these buildings are located, the nearest main being the one that serves the Laughlin No. 2 and the National potteries. The board proposes that the gas company put in all the necessary pipes, and for the first school year are to receive 20 cents per thousand feet for the gas. After the first of the year the price is to be reduced to 15 cents.

John C. Cain, who has the contract for the new McKinley school building in the Bradshaw addition, was severely censured for the slow progress of his work. Some of the members of the board think he is making no special effort to have the building ready for occupancy in the near future, and they are very desirous of having at least a few of the rooms, as they are greatly needed. According to the contract four of the eight rooms were to have been ready for use on the first day of December. The roof is not yet on the building. The clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Cain that unless he proceeded with all possible speed to finish his contract the board would take the building out of his hands and finish it and charge the cost to his account.

President Vodrey reported that it had been found impossible to make the proposed sanitary improvement on the Grant street school building on account of the cold weather. The board ordered the payment of

A few weeks ago a similar article relating to scenes and incidents in the early history of this county, with special reference to the region about Lisbon, appeared in a Pittsburg paper, and was published in the News Review.

I have read many other sketches of a historic character in recent years concerning this immediate region more especially sketches of the early history of East Liverpool, or Fawcettstown, as it was originally called. In this communication I wish to call attention to the fact that these sketches without exception fail to make mention of one of the most interesting and important historical facts in connection with either our town or county.

A letter received in this city today by Mrs. James Cain, of Third street, from Mrs. Dr. McFarland, at the bedside of her husband, Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, says the doctor is slightly better.

Mrs. McFarland stated her husband was still unconscious at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, but was better later on.

A HORSE KILLED UPON THE STREET

COLLISION BETWEEN SLEIGHS RESULTS FATALLY.

The Animal Driven By James Finn Met Death—Occupants of Both Vehicles Upset.

A horse being driven by James Finn, the well known dipper, was instantly killed last night at 10 o'clock in a collision on Fifth street with an outfit in the hands of Jesse Fisher, the baker.

Considerable racing had been going on during the evening, but at the time of the accident few other vehicles were on the street. The men were driving in opposite directions and at the spot where they met there had been left a mortar box. Fisher was keeping well to the curb, but when the box was reached was compelled to pull out.

When the horses came together the occupants of both sleighs were thrown out and the horses were knocked down. The animal driven by Finn was instantly killed, and Fisher's horse was stunned for several minutes, but was soon able to walk to the barn. The horse killed was valued at $60.

In spite of the precautions of the health officers and the severe weather the scarlet fever epidemic is not at an end, although its progress has been effectually checked. Both of these cases are in the home of Edward Annon, of lower Third street. The other case is in the East End, a little daughter of Elmer Stevenson being the victim.

Mr. Stevenson and his family are visiting here in the family of Will Price, of St. George street, and had been here but a few days when their child was taken with the contagion.

U. J. SMITH COMES WITH NEW PROMISES

Is Now Very Anxious to Build a Trolley Line From Salem to This City.

OFFER TO POST FORFEIT

Of $50,000 That He Will Carry Out the Project—Started Today to Drive Over the Line of the Surveyed Road.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—U. J. Smith, of Cleveland, the electric railway promoter who secured franchises along the public highway for a line from Salem to East Liverpool a few years ago, was in Lisbon today and started early this morning to drive over the old route. He was accompanied by T. A. Wright and son, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Mr. Smith says he will build the line which was projected when the franchises were secured, and signified his willingness to post a $50,000 forfeit that his project will be carried out.

With J. C. Kernahan, son of Landlord J. J. Kernahan, of the Hostetter House, Mr. Smith has been developing lead mines at Pitton, Mo. The property abounds in rich deposits of lead and zinc ore, some of which shows an assay of 80 per cent. A mine on contiguous territory produces a supply from which $500 worth is sold daily. Landlord Kernahan is about to dispose of his interests here preparatory to moving to the field of operations in Missouri.

John McCord, from Rochester, Pa., terrorized Smoky Rok last evening, but was as meek as a lamb this morning when arraigned before the mayor. He was assessed $2 and costs for the former and $5 and costs for the latter offense, and he is to stand committed until the fine and costs are paid. McCord is wondering what has become of the $52 he came to town with, as it would come in quite handy in satisfying the claims of justice.

G. W. MEREDITH ARRESTED HELD UNDER $5,000 BOND

Wholesale Liquor Dealer Charged by the Revenue Officers With Serious Offences.

MUST APPEAR BEFORE THE U. S. GRAND JURY

A dispatch from Cleveland states that investigation in that city has resulted in the discovery in the United States district attorney's office that part of the wholesale liquor establishment of G. W. Meredith, of East Liverpool, has been seized by Collector of Internal Revenue McCord, by authority of the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington.

The Cleveland dispatch says further: "A revenue agent located at Cincinnati has been quietly investigating the case at East Liverpool, and the facts were laid before McCord, who in turn reported the affair officially to the United States Attorney John J. Sullivan. A warrant, which was sworn to by T. E. Peckinpaugh, McCord's first deputy, was issued for Meredith's arrest.

"The affidavit charged Meredith with unlawfully making false entries

and failing to make entries and with rectifying spirits without giving notice to the collector and without the intervention of a gauger. He was also charged with changing the inspection marks, using his goods with fraudulent brands, shipping them under false trade names and failing to destroy the marks and stamps on empty spirit packages.

"As soon as the affidavit was sworn to, Sullivan notified Meredith to come to Cleveland. He did so Saturday and was formally placed under arrest. He was accompanied by a number of influential citizens of East Liverpool, including Judge Billingsley, of Billingsley & Taylor, who acted as his attorneys.

"A hearing was had Saturday afternoon before United States Commissioner John Simpson. Meredith pleaded not guilty and he was bound over to the United States grand jury on $5,000 bail."

spree was prolonged until last evening and McCord was in a half-crazed condition. About 9 o'clock he entered the saloon of Mrs. Maud Smith on lower Broadway and drawing a 38-calibre bulldog revolver from his pocket chased all the occupants from the room. He then went to the rooms above the bar, occupied by Mrs. Smith and threatened to shoot any person who attempted to ascend the stairs. The police had been telephoned for and Officer McDermott was the first to respond. The dangerous looking weapon in the hands of the drink-crazed man did not bluff him, and although it was necessary to use force the arrest was soon made.

WANT CONIACKERS

Secret Service Men in the City on the Trail of a Band of Counterfeiters.

Several secret service detectives, on the trail of a band of counterfeiters who have been flooding the upper Ohio valley with spurious coins during the past few months, have been in this city for the past several days. So mysterious was the visit of the detectives here that no one knew of their presence until they had been here and gone. They kept their presence completely concealed, not even notifying the local police, and their identity was not discovered until after they had been here for some time and left for parts unknown.

Three of them arrived here about two weeks ago and sought employment in different parts of the city, meeting clandestinely each night to go over the information each one had discovered during the day. One of the party was a barber, and giving the name of Richard Wynn, secured a position with Fred Furrer, the Sixth street barber. He had little to say as to who he was, except that he had come from Milwaukee to secure employment in this part of the country. He was a man of prepossessing appearance and of more than ordinary intelligence. During the time he worked in the barber shop he received several telegrams each day, which aroused the suspicions of Mr. Furrer that the newcomer was something more than a barber, but just who or what he was he could not understand.

His leaving was as mysterious as his coming. He worked three days, and without notifying anybody that he was going away, or even asking for his pay, suddenly disappeared, and it was not until after he had gone that his identity was discovered. One of the other men secured a position in the tin mill at Chester, and like his partner, left suddenly without even asking for his pay.

The third one pretended to work in Wellsville, but the most of his time was spent in riding on the street cars and loafing about the saloons on Third street in Wellsville. The three went away together and no one knows where they have gone. From what information could be learned of their visit here they were on the trail of the counterfeiters who have been making and passing counterfeit dimes in nearly every city between Pittsburgh and Wheeling during the past few months.

The banks in particular in many of the towns have been heavy losers by having the spurious coins passed on them, and they have been instrumental in bringing the government officers to this part of the country. The counterfeit money is described as being almost perfect in appearance, having the exact weight and size of the genuine coins, and it is only after they have been used for a considerable time that it is possible to detect that they are not genuine.

HERRICK AND DICK BOTH IN THE RACE

The Way the Situation as Regards Gubernatorial Contest Stands at Present.

HANNA KEEPING HANDS OFF

Conference at Cleveland Not Productive of Results—Announcement of Col. Herrick's Candidacy Expected Soon—Gen. Dick's Position.

Cleveland, December 30.—Unless there is a decided change in the mind of either General Charles Dick, of Akron, or Colonel Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, both will be candidates for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Although these gentlemen held a long conference yesterday in reference to their respective aspirations for the governorship the meeting did not result in any material change in the situation. If anything, it only resulted in a more firm determination on the part of both men to be candidates.

Senator Hanna is not only being embarrassed, but is being actually annoyed by the determined efforts on the part of friends of General Dick and Colonel Herrick to induce him to use his good offices and influence toward having one of the candidates withdraw from the field and then come out in an open declaration for the remaining candidate. Several days ago the senator said emphatically that he did not desire to become involved in the candidacies of his two friends and argued that it was no more than just and right that he should be permitted to remain absolutely neutral in the matter. He himself is a candidate for reelection next fall, and for that reason if no other, he believes that he should be relieved of all of the embarrassments and entanglements connected with active participation in contests for nomination for state offices.

While he does not like to see two of his close friends pitted against each other for a nomination and would be greatly pleased to see one of them withdraw from the race, he believes that it is the inherent right of every man to be ambitious and realize his ambition if possible. Believing this, he determined to assume an absolutely neutral position so far as General Dick and Colonel Herrick are concerned. It was therefore only in accordance with this determination that Senator Hanna took no part in the conference held by the two candidates yesterday.

NEW CONTRACT IS TO BE MADE

Board of Education Will Cut Loose From the Fort Pitt Gas Company.

Hereafter to Be Supplied With Fuel By the Ohio Valley Company—Contractor Cain Ordered to Hasten the Work on McKinley School Building.

The board of education intends to cut loose from the Fort Pitt Gas company, and at the meeting last evening instructed its clerk, Walter B. Hill, to enter into a contract with the Ohio Valley company to supply gas to the two East End school buildings. Until very recently these buildings were served by the Fort Pitt company, but the numerous breaks in the mains proved such an inconvenience that it was found necessary to change the furnaces so that coal could be used in them. On several occasions school was dismissed on account of the shortage in the gas supply. At the present time the Ohio Valley company has no service along the streets on which these buildings are located, the nearest main being the one that serves the Laughlin No. 2 and the National potteries. The board proposes that the gas company put in all the necessary pipes, and for the first school year are to receive 20 cents per thousand feet for the gas. After the first of the year the price is to be reduced to 15 cents.

John C. Cain, who has the contract for the new McKinley school building in the Bradshaw addition, was severely censured for the slow progress of his work. Some of the members of the board think he is making no special effort to have the building ready for occupancy in the near future, and they are very desirous of having at least a few of the rooms, as they are greatly needed. According to the contract four of the eight rooms were to have been ready for use on the first day of December. The roof is not yet on the building. The clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Cain that unless he proceeded with all possible speed to finish his contract the board would take the building out of his hands and finish it and charge the cost to his account.

President Vordrey reported that it had been found impossible to make the proposed sanitary improvement on the Grant street school building on account of the cold weather.

The board ordered the payment of

FACT LONG FORGOTTEN OF HISTORIC INTEREST IN THIS PART OF OHIO

The Grandfather of Gen. Grant Once a Resident Here and Remembered by Old Settlers.

BY REV. W. E. HILL.

I perused with much interest the article reproduced in your columns last week from the Wayne county Democrat descriptive of the historic scenes, notable men and glorious landscapes of old Columbiana county. A few weeks ago a similar article relating to scenes and incidents in the early history of this county, with special reference to the region about Lisbon, appeared in a Pittsburg paper, and was published in the News Review.

I have read many other sketches of a historic character in recent years concerning this immediate region more especially sketches of the early history of East Liverpool, or Fawcettstown, as it was originally called. In this communication I wish to call attention to the fact that these sketches without exception fail to make mention of one of the most interesting and important historical facts in connection with either our town or county.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special).—A Pittsburg firm is preparing to prospect for coal in this vicinity, and has its representative, A. H. Porter, securing options in Elkrun township.

If it was ever known to the public it seems to have been forgotten that the immediate ancestors of General U. S. Grant once resided within the present corporate limits of the city of East Liverpool.

During the civil war my brother, Colonel H. R. Hill, was for a time with his company—he was then a captain—stationed at Cincinnati as part of a detached command doing patrol duty in that city. One day he had a caller who introduced himself by simply saying that his name was Grant, and that he understood there was a company stationed in the city from East Liverpool, and he wished to make inquiry about a number of persons whom he formerly knew and who had once resided in that community. He himself had resided there when a boy and was anxious to know if any of the associates of his boyhood were still living there and how they fared.

DR. M'FARLAND SOMEWHAT BETTER

Had Brief Periods of Consciousness Yesterday and Friends Were Encouraged.

LETTER TO RELATIVES HERE

Gives Ground For Hope—Two Specialists in Constant Attendance—Wife Keeps a Sleepless Vigil at Her Husband's Bedside.

A letter received in this city today by Mrs. James Cain, of Third street, from Mrs. Dr. McFarland, at the bedside of her husband, Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, says the doctor is slightly better.

Mrs. McFarland stated her husband was still unconscious at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, but was better later on.

Two specialists have been constantly in attendance, and one of them, a brain expert, admits that he is puzzled. However, he gives Mrs. Rose a little hope.

The doctor is well cared for, Mrs. McFarland says, having two nurses constantly in attendance. They are very kind to her, and though she was not slept since her arrival at Columbus, she is permitted to remain at the bedside of her husband.

A dispatch from Columbus this morning says:

It was reported from Mt. Carmel hospital Monday morning that Dr. Fred McFarland, of East Liverpool, who became unconscious at the Davidson hotel Saturday, had partially regained consciousness. He asked where he was and whether he had been sick, and insists that he is not now sick. His wife is with him and when he saw her he anxiously inquired what had happened to him. After learning what had happened to him he asked whether his money or clothing were safe. After brief periods of consciousness the patient lapses into a stupor and the physicians are still very much puzzled. They say, however, that the patient's chances for recovery now appear to be very good.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

PRINTERS' OCCUPATION GOING.

Although much has been said concerning the introduction of improved machinery in the potteries, and in some cases it seems the argument in its favor in several departments has succeeded in encouraging and inviting its establishment, the fact remains that in the printing department the new process has worked injury. It has been but a comparatively short time since the first press for labor saving and rapid work was introduced in the potteries throughout the district, but nevertheless the trade of the printer is not as good as it was before, and is steadily growing worse. The question of whether labor saving machinery has been a detriment to the tradesmen generally is one which has been discussed for many years, and while nearly all of the union organizations antagonized its introduction in the beginning, there are many trades today in which the men are glad to see it come. It may be said here, however, that in the latter instance the craftsmen have absolute control of the various devices, in the matter of their operation and also the wages which are to control their manipulation. With the pottery printing press it is different. In not a few cases these machines have proved a failure, and when this occurs no time is lost in re-establishing the printers at their benches. Where this occurs the cause has invariably been traced to a defect in the make of the machine. It must be remembered that there are a number of different kinds of presses, and more failures have been recorded than is worth while to count. Many of the presses found to be unreliable have been allowed to remain in position, and upon these machines the decorations of a cheaper grade are done. There are few decorating shops in the East Liverpool district where a press or presses have not been installed, but there are not many that have proved the success expected—that is, that first class decorations can be made from. In several shops not a printer is now employed where formerly there were from two to half a dozen. What makes it much worse for the trade is not an instance has been recorded where a printer has been placed in charge of one of the machines. It can be seen that under such a condition of affairs the old time printer is either compelled to enter another department of the potting trade or leave the craft entirely.

48 NEW KILNS.

Although the advancement of Trenton as a pottery center has never been questioned, it will doubtless occasion some surprise when it is stated that forty-eight kilns have been added to its facilities during 1902. This number, too, does not include the acquisition to old plants or the construction of new potteries in Camden, Elizabeth, Philadelphia and other cities within easy reach of Trenton. The additions have all been made in this city alone. The sales record of 1902 easily overtopped any previous Trenton achievement. Prices have been well maintained throughout the past twelve months, and operatives who, in former years frequently found occasion to investigate trouble in the wage or other questions have not been heard from in a single instance. Trenton operative potters will, for the larger part, be obliged to satisfy their vacation ideas this year with but two days' lay-off—Christmas and New Year's. With not more than one or two exceptions the potteries are to operate uninterrupted throughout the holiday week, save for the two days mentioned. It has been many years since the establishments have been so pushed for time as to necessitate the resumption of manufacture on the day succeeding Christmas.

A SHORT VACATION.

The West End pottery is in full operation in spite of the fact that it is the gay holiday season and nearly all the other plants are resting or making repairs. The operatives were allowed only Christmas day and while it was disappointing to some, very few complaints were heard. The disappointment will entirely disappear on pay day. The work on the new part of the plant has progressed as rapidly as the weather would permit though it is still far from completion. The new decorating kilns are now in use and a great deal of decorated ware is being turned out. It was the intention to remove the decorating department temporarily to the part of the new building to be used for the packing shed but one thing and another has prevented. Manager Dudley has found his department much cramped in its present quarters but there seems to be no immediate relief as the orders continue to come thick and fast.

MANY VISITORS.

The number of out of town operatives who visited this city during the holiday vacation is conservatively estimated at between 500 and 600. A large proportion of them have worked in this city at one time and another, leaving for the new pottery towns as they sprang up. Many of them have relatives here and all are glad to get back to the old town at least once a year. Brotherhood headquarters have been thronged for the past week with out-of-town operatives who drop in to pay their respects to President Hughes and Secretary Duffy. The latter's many friends were disappointed until today as he has been visiting relatives in Wheeling. It was not alone for the welfare of the craft that so many visitors have been received at headquarters. Both the president and secretary are personally very popular and they know how to welcome the boys whom they delight in seeing.

ENGLISH NOTES.

The Staffordshire Sentinel says: "The staple trade of the district shows signs of further improvement, and it is generally anticipated that with the entry of the new year a much greater business will be transacted. Trade with the states maintains the improvement recently reported, and better orders are being received by each mail. These are mostly of an all-round character, but the better class of decorated ware in new shapes and designs are most freely inquired after. There are also fair inquiries for flat ware and good dinner services have been in request of late. Holloware pressers report employment as most regular. Sanitary pressers are in most cases working full time. Flat pressers report a general improvement, full time being the rule."

DIPPERS ARE PROSPEROUS.

At the meeting of Dippers' local No. 18, held late in the week, the following officers were elected: President, Major Adams, Sr.; recording secretary, William Greene; financial secretary, Major Adams, Jr.; treasurer, William Pittinger; inspector, Thomas Carr; guard, Henry Davis. P. J. McKeone at once installed the newly elected officers, and the new year will begin with an excellent prospect for good work. Though not many are employed at the trade, and consequently the membership is not large, the local is one of the most successful and prosperous in the Brotherhood.

NOTES OF THE POTTERS.

It was reported today that the Union would resume January 5. John Tracy, a saggermaker for the Akron China company, is among the prominent operatives here for the holidays.

Ed. J. Miller, presser at the French, at Sebring, is shaking hands with his numerous friends in this city. The French will resume operations Friday of this week.

Edward G. Hayes, of Fallston, Pa., is spending a few days in this city with old friends. He is now with the Keswick China company in the capacity of a printer and says he is well pleased with his employment. He re-

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

At Pittsburg This Week—Program includes Herbert's Music and Ham-bourg, the Great Pianist.

The eighth program of the Pittsburg orchestra season will be given in Carnegie music hall on Friday evening, January 2, and Saturday afternoon, January 3, with the assistance of Mark Hambourg, pianist, the separate numbers being:

Symphony, "Im Walde"..... Raff
Concerto for piano and orchestra
In E Flat..... Liszt
Columbus, op. 35..... Herbert
(New, first performance.)

Piano soli.
Music of the Automaton and
Waltz from "Coppelia".... Delibes
This is a list of modern composers. The "Im Walde" symphony has not been heard in Pittsburg in three seasons; it is extremely poetic and altogether is one of the modern classics.

Naturally there will be particular interest in Mr. Herbert's new composition, which comes as a pleasant surprise, as even those close to him were not aware that a composition of so much scope had been completed. It is in four movements.

The Delibes music is from the fascinating ballet of "Coppelia" and makes the sort of ending that is now expected at the close of Pittsburg orchestra programs.

Mark Hambourg, the soloist, was heard in Pittsburg three seasons ago, and those who heard him then have not forgotten the tremendous impression he made. Hambourg is a Russian, a pupil of Rubinstein, and his playing has the virility as well as the poetry of that great master.

Harrisburg, Dec. 30.—An opinion by Judge Weiss was handed down yesterday in the case of the commonwealth vs. H. B. The question was decided against the commonwealth and judgment given for the defendant.

WANSTEAD INQUEST.

Dispatcher Kerr Takes Stand
and Gives Testimony as to Cause of Accident.

SENT ORDERS SIMULTANEOUSLY

Says Instructions Were Properly Repeated Back by Both Operators.
Andrew Carson, at Whose Door Is Laid the Blame, Testifies.

London, Ont., Oct. 30.—It was reported by the house surgeon at Victoria hospital last night that the condition of the injured in the Wanstead wreck was gratifying. All of them improved during the day, with the exception of Alex. M. Stewart, of Chicago, who is very low.

The seriously injured, Francis Baker, of London; John Bird, of Chicago; James Barnes, of Woodstock, and Flossie Cuthbertson, of Port Huron, have improved wonderfully and all are expected to recover.

Inquest Begun.

Wyoming, Ont., Dec. 30.—The inquest into the cause of the death of the victims of the recent accident on the Grand Trunk railway at Wanstead was begun here yesterday. Dispatcher James Kerr, who sent the train from London, was called. Kerr's evidence was to the effect that he sent orders to the Watford and Wyoming operators simultaneously to have the express meet the freight at Wanstead. Shortly after Wyoming reported to the dispatcher that the freight was slow in getting out. Kerr's order was properly repeated back by both operators and Kerr marked it "OK." Kerr asked Wyoming why the freight was slow in getting out, Wyoming replying that he did not know. Kerr then called Watford and asked if No. 5 was coming. Watford's reply being "yes," Kerr said, "Min may bust it." Wyoming then reported the freight pulling out. Kerr said, "Let her go." He then called the Watford operator, who reported No. 5 had gone and that he had "bustled" the order for No. 5. Kerr then called Wyoming and told him to stop the freight. Wyoming answered, "I can't."

Asked for Auxiliary.

Kerr said, "You must stop her." Kerr then called Kings Court for seven or eight minutes before raising that office. Kings Court reported No. 5 had passed. In a few minutes Wanstead called the dispatcher, asking if the trains were to cross at Wanstead, as he had heard a noise and had run from his house, thinking there was trouble. In a few minutes Assistant Superintendent Costello, who was on the express train, called Kerr and asked for the auxiliary to be sent, as a collision had occurred. W. J. Hanna, who appeared for Carson, cross-examined Kerr.

At the afternoon session of the inquest Dispatcher Kerr was recalled. Solicitor Pope, of the Grand Trunk, put him through a lengthy cross-examination on the subject of the company's rules for operators and dispatchers.

The witness would not say that the Kings Court operator, James Troyer, was remiss in his duty.

Did Not Hear Word "May."

Andrew Carson, the Watford operator, at whose door is laid the responsibility of the accident by the Grand Trunk officials, followed Kerr on the stand. He appeared to be cool and collected. He got the order for the two trains to cross at Wanstead, he said, and displayed his order board to stop the express. Soon after he heard Wyoming tell of the delay to the freight and then the London dispatcher called the witness and said, "Bust it." He did not hear the word "may" preceding "bust it." The express had stopped and the conductor asked for his order, but the witness told him it had been canceled, and gave the conductor a clearance order. "Bust it" is a common form of cancellation of orders, he said. He did not get a formal order annulling it. There was no written record of the order, "bust it."

The inquest then adjourned until today.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

PRINTERS' OCCUPATION GOING.

Although much has been said concerning the introduction of improved machinery in the potteries, and in some cases it seems the argument in its favor in several departments has succeeded in encouraging and inviting the establishment, the fact remains that in the printing department the new process has worked injury. It has been but a comparatively short time since the first press for labor saving and rapid work was introduced in the potteries throughout the district, but nevertheless the trade of the printer is not as good as it was before, and is steadily growing worse. The question of whether labor saving machinery has been a detriment to the tradesmen generally is one which has been discussed for many years, and while nearly all of the union organizations antagonized its introduction in the beginning, there are many trades today in which the men are glad to see it come. It may be said here, however, that in the latter instance the craftsmen have absolute control of the various devices, in the matter of their operation and also the wages which are to control their manipulation. With the pottery printing press it is different. In not a few cases these machines have proved a failure, and when this occurs no time is lost in re-establishing the printers at their benches. Where this occurs the cause has invariably been traced to a defect in the make of the machine. It must be remembered that there are a number of different kinds of presses, and more failures have been recorded than is worth while to count. Many of the presses found to be unreliable have been allowed to remain in position, and upon these machines the decorations of a cheaper grade are done. There are few decorating shops in the East Liverpool district where a press or presses have not been installed, but there are not many that have proved the success expected—that is, that first class decorations can be made from. In several shops not a printer is now employed where formerly there were from two to half a dozen. What makes it much worse for the trade is an instance has been recorded where a printer has been placed in charge of one of the machines. It can be seen that under such a condition of affairs the old time printer is either compelled to enter another department of the potting trade or leave the craft entirely.

48 NEW KILNS.

Although the advancement of Trenton as a pottery center has never been questioned, it will doubtless occasion some surprise when it is stated that forty-eight kilns have been added to its facilities during 1902. This number, too, does not include the acquisitions to old plants or the construction of new potteries in Camden, Elizabeth, Philadelphia and other cities within easy reach of Trenton. The additions have all been made in this city alone. The sales record of 1902 easily overtopped any previous Trenton achievement. Prices have been well maintained throughout the past twelve months, and operatives who, in former years frequently found occasion to instigate trouble in the wage or other questions have not been heard from in a single instance. Trenton operative potters will, for the larger part, be obliged to satisfy their vacation ideas this year with but two days' lay-off—Christmas and New Year's. With not more than one or two exceptions the potteries are to operate uninterrupted throughout the holiday week, save for the two days mentioned. It has been many years since the establishments have been so pushed for time as to necessitate the resumption of manufacture on the day succeeding Christmas.

A SHORT VACATION.

The West End pottery is in full operation in spite of the fact that it is the gay holiday season and nearly all the other plants are resting or making repairs. The operatives were allowed only Christmas day and while it was disappointing to some, very few complaints were heard. The disappointment will entirely disappear on pay day. The work on the new part of the plant has progressed as rapidly as the weather would permit though it is still far from completion. The new decorating kilns are now in use and a great deal of decorated ware is being turned out. It was the intention to remove the decorating department temporarily to the part of the new building to be used for the packing shed but one thing and another has prevented. Manager Dudley has found his department much cramped in its present quarters but there seems to be no immediate relief as the orders continue to come thick and fast.

MANY VISITORS.

The number of out of town operatives who visited this city during the holiday vacation is conservatively estimated at between 500 and 600. A large proportion of them have worked in this city at one time and another, leaving for the new pottery towns as they sprang up. Many of them have relatives here and all are glad to get back to the old town at least once a year. Brotherhood headquarters have been thronged for the past week with out-of-town operatives who drop in to pay their respects to President Hughes and Secretary Duffy. The latter's many friends were disappointed until today as he has been visiting relatives in Wheeling. It was not alone for the welfare of the craft that so many visitors have been received at headquarters. Both the president and secretary are personally very popular and they know how to welcome the boys whom they delight in seeing.

ENGLISH NOTES.

The Staffordshire Sentinel says: "The staple trade of the district shows signs of further improvement, and it is generally anticipated that with the entry of the new year a much greater business will be transacted. Trade with the states maintains the improvement recently reported, and better orders are being received by each mail. These are mostly of an all-round character, but the better class of decorated ware in new shapes and designs are most freely inquired after. There are also few inquiries for flat ware and good dinner services have been in request of late. Hollowware pressers report employment as most regular. Sanitary pressers are in most cases working full time. Flat pressers report a general improvement, full time being the rule."

DIPPERS ARE PROSPEROUS.

At the meeting of Dippers' local No. 18, held late in the week, the following officers were elected: President, Major Adams, Sr.; recording secretary, William Greene; financial secretary, Major Adams, Jr.; treasurer, William Pittinger; inspector, Thomas Carr; guard, Henry Davis. P. J. McKeone at once installed the newly elected officers, and the new year will begin with an excellent prospect for good work. Though not many are employed at the trade, and consequently the membership is not large, the local is one of the most successful and prosperous in the Brotherhood.

NOTES OF THE POTTERS.

It was reported today that the Union would resume January 5. John Tracy, a saggermaker for the Akron China company, is among the prominent operatives here for the holidays.

Ed. J. Miller, presser at the French, at Sebring, is shaking hands with his numerous friends in this city. The French will resume operations Friday of this week.

Edward G. Hayes, of Fallston, Pa., is spending a few days in this city with old friends. He is now with the Keewick China company in the capacity of a printer and says he is well pleased with his employment. He re-

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

At Pittsburg This Week—Program includes Herbert's Music And Hamburg, the Great Pianist.

The eighth program of the Pittsburg orchestra season will be given in Carnegie music hall on Friday evening, January 2, and Saturday afternoon, January 3, with the assistance of Mark Hambourg, pianist, the separate numbers being:

Symphony, "Im Walde".....Raff
in E Flat.....Liszt
Columbus, op. 35.....Herbert
(New, first performance.)

Piano soli.
Music of the Automaton and
Waltz from "Coppelia"....Delibes

This is a list of modern composers. The "Im Walde" symphony has not been heard in Pittsburg in three seasons; it is extremely poetic and altogether is one of the modern classics.

Naturally there will be particular interest in Mr. Herbert's new composition, which comes as a pleasant surprise, as even those close to him were not aware that a composition of so much scope had been completed. It is in four movements.

The Delibes music is from the fascinating ballet of "Coppelia" and makes the sort of ending that is now expected at the close of Pittsburg orchestra programs.

Mark Hambourg, the soloist, was heard in Pittsburg three seasons ago, and those who heard him then have not forgotten the tremendous impression he made. Hambourg is a Russian, a pupil of Rubinstein, and his playing has the virility as well as the poetry of that great master.

WANSTEAD INQUEST.

Dispatcher Kerr Takes Stand and Gives Testimony as to Cause of Accident.

SENT ORDERS SIMULTANEOUSLY

Says Instructions Were Properly Repeated Back by Both Operators. Andrew Carson, at Whose Door is Laid the Blame, Testifies.

London, Ont., Oct. 30.—It was reported by the house surgeon at Victoria hospital last night that the condition of the injured in the Wanstead wreck was gratifying. All of them improved during the day, with the exception of Alex. M. Stewart, of Chicago, who is very low.

The seriously injured, Francis Baker, of London; John Bird, of Chicago; James Barnes, of Woodstock, and Flossie Cuthbertson, of Port Huron, have improved wonderfully and all are expected to recover.

Inquest Begun. Wyoming, Ont., Dec. 30.—The inquest into the cause of the death of the victims of the recent accident on the Grand Trunk railway at Wanstead was begun here yesterday. Dispatcher James Kerr, who sent the train from London, was called. Kerr's evidence was to the effect that he sent orders to the Watford and Wyoming operators simultaneously to have the express meet the freight at Wanstead. Shortly after Wyoming reported to the dispatcher that the freight was slow in getting out. Kerr's order was properly repeated back by both operators and Kerr marked it "OK." Kerr asked Wyoming why the freight was slow in getting out, Wyoming replying that he did not know. Kerr then called Watford and asked if No. 5 was coming. Watford's reply being "yes," Kerr said, "Min may bust it." Wyoming then reported the freight pulling out. Kerr said, "Let her go." He then called the Watford operator, who reported No. 5 had gone and that he had "busted" the order for No. 5. Kerr then called Wyoming and told him to stop the freight. Wyoming answered, "I can't."

Asked for Auxiliary. Kerr said, "You must stop her." Kerr then called Kings Court for seven or eight minutes before raising that office. Kings Court reported No. 5 had passed. In a few minutes Wanstead called the dispatcher, asking if the trains were to cross at Wanstead, as he had heard a noise and had run from his house, thinking there was trouble. In a few minutes Assistant Superintendent Costello, who was on the express train, called Kerr and asked for the auxiliary to be sent, as a collision had occurred. W. J. Hanna, who appeared for Carson, the station agent at Watford, cross-examined Kerr.

At the afternoon session of the inquest Dispatcher Kerr was recalled. Solicitor Pope, of the Grand Trunk, put him through a lengthy cross-examination on the subject of the company's rules for operators and dispatchers.

The witness would not say that the Kings Court operator, James Troyer, was remiss in his duty.

Did Not Hear Word "May."

Andrew Carson, the Watford operator, at whose door is laid the responsibility of the accident by the Grand Trunk officials, followed Kerr on the stand. He appeared to be cool and collected. He got the order for the two trains to cross at Wanstead, he said, and displayed his order board to stop the express. Soon after he heard Wyoming tell of the delay to the freight and then the London dispatcher called the witness and said, "Bust it." He did not hear the word "may" preceding "bust it." The express had stopped and the conductor asked for his order, but the witness told him it had been canceled, and gave the conductor a clearance order. "Bust it" is a common form of cancellation of orders, he said. He did not get a formal order annulling it. There was no written record of the order, "bust it."

The inquest then adjourned until today.

Waltz from "Coppelia"....Delibes

This is a list of modern composers. The "Im Walde" symphony has not been heard in Pittsburg in three seasons; it is extremely poetic and altogether is one of the modern classics.

Naturally there will be particular interest in Mr. Herbert's new composition, which comes as a pleasant surprise, as even those close to him were not aware that a composition of so much scope had been completed. It is in four movements.

The Delibes music is from the fascinating ballet of "Coppelia" and makes the sort of ending that is now expected at the close of Pittsburg orchestra programs.

Mark Hambourg, the soloist, was heard in Pittsburg three seasons ago, and those who heard him then have not forgotten the tremendous impression he made. Hambourg is a Russian, a pupil of Rubinstein, and his playing has the virility as well as the poetry of that great master.

Decided Against Commonwealth. Harrisburg, Dec. 30.—An opinion by Judge Weiss was handed down yesterday in the case of the commonwealth vs. H. B. Richter, recorder of deeds of Montgomery county, to decide whether the net excess of fees collected by the recorder in excess of $2,000 during any given year belong to the commonwealth, even though the act of 1901 directs the recorder to pay one-half of any such excess over $2,000 to the county treasurer for the use of the county. The question was decided against the commonwealth and judgment given for the defendant.

WANSTEAD INQUEST.

Dispatcher Kerr Takes Stand and Gives Testimony as to Cause of Accident.

SENT ORDERS SIMULTANEOUSLY

Says Instructions Were Properly Repeated Back by Both Operators. Andrew Carson, at Whose Door Is Laid the Blame, Testifies.

London, Ont., Oct. 30.—It was reported by the house surgeon at Victoria hospital last night that the condition of the injured in the Wanstead wreck was gratifying. All of them improved during the day, with the exception of Alex. M. Stewart, of Chicago, who is very low.

The seriously injured, Francis Baker, of London; John Bird, of Chicago; James Barnes, of Woodstock, and Flossie Cuthbertson, of Port Huron, have improved wonderfully and all are expected to recover.

Inquest Begun. Wyoming, Ont., Dec. 30.—The inquest into the cause of the death of the victims of the recent accident on the Grand Trunk railway at Wanstead was begun here yesterday. Dispatcher James Kerr, who sent the train from London, was called. Kerr's evidence was to the effect that he sent orders to the Watford and Wyoming operators simultaneously to have the express meet the freight at Wanstead. Shortly after Wyoming reported to the dispatcher that the freight was slow in getting out. Kerr's order was properly repeated back by both operators and Kerr marked it "OK." Kerr asked Wyoming why the freight was slow in getting out, Wyoming replying that he did not know. Kerr then called Watford and asked if No. 5 was coming. Watford's reply being "yes," Kerr said, "Min may bust it." Wyoming then reported the freight pulling out. Kerr said, "Let her go." He then called the Watford operator, who reported No. 5 had gone and that he had "bust it" the order for No. 5. Kerr then called Wyoming and told him to stop the freight. Wyoming answered, "I can't."

Asked for Auxiliary.

Kerr said, "You must stop her." Kerr then called Kings Court for seven or eight minutes before raising that office. Kings Court reported No. 5 had passed. In a few minutes Wanstead called the dispatcher, asking if the trains were to cross at Wanstead, as he had heard a noise and had run from his house, thinking there was trouble. In a few minutes Assistant Superintendent Costello, who was on the express train, called Kerr and asked for the auxiliary to be sent, as a collision had occurred. W. J. Hanna, who appeared for Carson, the station agent at Watford, cross-examined Kerr.

At the afternoon session of the inquest Dispatcher Kerr was recalled. Solicitor Pope, of the Grand Trunk, put him through a lengthy cross-examination on the subject of the company's rules for operators and dispatchers.

The witness would not say that the Kings Court operator, James Troyer, was remiss in his duty.

Did Not Hear Word "May."

Andrew Carson, the Watford operator, at whose door is laid the responsibility of the accident by the Grand Trunk officials, followed Kerr on the stand. He appeared to be cool and collected. He got the order for the two trains to cross at Wanstead, he said, and displayed his order board to stop the express. Soon after he heard Wyoming tell of the delay to the freight and then the London dispatcher called the witness and said, "Bust it." He did not hear the word "may" preceding "bust it." The express had stopped and the conductor asked for his order, but the witness told him it had been canceled, and gave the conductor a clearance order. "Bust it" is a common form of cancellation of orders, he said. He did not get a formal order annulling it. There was no written record of the order, "bust it."

The inquest then adjourned until today.

EAST END A BROKEN LEG

Among the Accidents Due to Falls Upon the Slippery Streets.

The condition of the streets of the East End was very slippery this morning and many residents of that section of the city received bad falls. Several ladies sustained slight injuries and one or two rather serious. One lady residing in the Klondike slipped early this morning on the ice and fell to the ground breaking her leg. This was probably the worst of any of the accidents.

The doctors were called several times on account of these accidents but only this one was serious.

New Trial Refused.

Attorney J. E. Davis, of the East End, has received word from the justice of St. Clair township in regard to the arguments for a new trial in the case of Laughlin vs. S. Randall. This case was heard a few days ago and after it was finished one of the jurymen claimed that undue influence had been used in securing the decision. Upon that ground a motion for a new trial was made and the arguments heard by the justice. In his communication to Mr. Davis the justice said that he had overruled the motion for a new trial and Laughlin will recover possession of his farm at once.

Fourteen Initiated.

The Ben Hur lodge held another meeting last night in the East End and fourteen new members were initiated. District Deputy D. T. McClelland was present and had charge of the degree work. The meeting was very enthusiastic and the members show considerable interest and hope to receive many new members before the coming year expires.

P. H. C. Meeting.

The Protected Home Circle will hold another meeting tonight in its hall in the East End. A large number of new candidates will be initiated and the business of the year will be closed. This lodge has been the most successful of any in the city in the past year in point of new members secured and has good prospects for the coming year.

Team Ran Away.

A team belonging to Larkins & Ferguson became frightened yesterday afternoon by snow sliding from the roof of the grocery and ran away around several blocks before it could be stopped. No damage was done to either the horses or delivery wagon to which the team was attached.

Taken Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Taylor Larkins was brought home from Sebring today at noon. Mrs. Larkins recently went to visit several relatives but was taken seriously ill upon her arrival there. Her condition is now rather serious and she was brought home today.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Clifford McCray returned to Sebring this morning after a short visit with relatives here.

John Outright and Sam Young returned this morning to Ford City, Pa., after a short visit with friends here.

Justice W. L. Carman and son returned yesterday evening after a week's visit with relatives in Washington county, Pa.

Mrs. C. W. Mayers, of St. George street, expects to entertain a number of friends at her home this evening. The affair promises to be very pleasant as Mrs. Mayers is a delightful hostess.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

And Election of Officers Held By Painters' And Paper Hangers' Union.

Local union No. 165, Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, held a very important meeting at the hall last night. A number of matters were attended to, among them being a discussion of a few changes in the working conditions which now govern the local.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, E. L. Provo; vice president, J. H. Ingersoll; recording secretary, W. T. House; financial secretary and treasurer, Philip Mulligan; conductor, F. M. Beatty; warden, C. A. Trunic; trustee, 18 months, George Mulligan.

The year will be wound up with a smoker, to which the employing painters have been invited. It is proposed to make the affair one of the most enjoyable of the many entertainments held by No. 165, and with this end in view preparations have been in progress for some time.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

A piece of cold turkey left over from Christmas was fatal to David Regan, aged 65, at Youngstown. He choked to death.

Harry Jackson, a Youngstown electrician, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid after attending the funeral of a friend.

John Keith, who assaulted and nearly killed Thomas Knight at Kelly's coal works, near Steubenville, was arrested at Bellaire and is now in jail.

The residence of Cromwell Bucey at Brilliant, occupied by himself and son Oliver and Amanda Brindley, their house keeper, was burned to the ground. Mr. Bucey is 85 years old and very feeble.

Report comes from the neighborhood of Mahan's station of a demented man wandering about in the snow. He was seen several times and was supposed to be going in the direction of Holiday's Cove.

Rev. W. A. Williams began revival services in Cross Creek church Sunday and will continue each night. He closed the revival services at Two Ridges on Sunday with the communion service. There were seven accessions Friday night.

Good News.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of croup is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

WAITING ON CASTRO.

Allies Want to Hear from Venezuela Before Arranging Terms of Settlement.

WILL ARBITRATE IN ANY EVENT.

German Government Silent as to When Blockade Will Be Raised. Praise for United States for Having the Dispute Sent to The Hague.

Berlin, Dec. 30.—Foreign Secretary Von Richthofen is awaiting the receipt of President Castro's answer to the proposal to submit the Venezuela dispute to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal, with certain reservations, before corresponding with Great Britain over the personnel of the tribunal or the date for raising the blockade. "Assuming that President Castro declines to accept the reservations, will arbitration fall through?" asked the correspondent of the Associated Press of a foreign office official yesterday. The official replied: "A settlement will be reached by arbitration in any event."

Silent as to Raising of Blockade. The German government is completely silent as to when the blockade will be raised or whether it will be raised at all until every question concerning arbitration is settled. The acceptance of arbitration after the blockade was begun is certainly not received with popular favor in Germany.

General Von Boguslawski, one of the foremost military writers, contributed to the Tagliche Rundschau his views of the Monroe doctrine and argues that the withdrawal of the blockade at this stage would show singular weakness. After alluding to the late Prince Bismarck's expression that the Monroe doctrine was "a great piece of impudence," the general says: "That was a true word. America is divided into many states. In varieties of race and language she is hardly second to Europe. How can one state assert that it has the right of interference and protection over an entire continent, and that it will tolerate only under certain conditions any action, however just, of European nations against an American state?"

Hails Refusal as Good News.

The Frankfurter Zeitung hails President Roosevelt's refusal as good news and praises the United States for having done so much to bring The Hague tribunal into vogue, referring to the cases already sent there at the United States' instance.

The Lokal Anzeiger prints an inspired statement to the effect that nothing is known by the Berlin officials regarding the reported intention of the powers to raise the blockade, adding that the question has not yet been taken into consideration. The Neueste Nachrichten says it hopes the statement that Minister Bowen will represent Venezuela's case is not true, since the United States action would thus appear in a bad light, after refusing arbitration, and keeping the biggest hand in the game in a responsible way. The Lokal Anzeiger's Caracas correspondent asked President Castro if he was ready to apologize to the powers, to which the president replied: "General Castro has nothing to apologize for." The bystanders, the correspondent adds, cheered and shouted "Bravo" when they heard the president's reply.

The German merchants of Caracas, it is asserted by the correspondent, say they are ready to advance President Castro the money to meet the demands of Germany, "although they know the president is able to pay it himself."

Italy Appoints Representative.

Rome, Dec. 30.—The Italian minister at The Hague, the Chevalier Tunge, has been ordered personally to supervise the procedure in the matter of the settlement of the Italian claims against Venezuela before the international peace court at The Hague. The documents in the case will be forwarded to him by courier.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Mr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, who has been in New York for some weeks past on a business mission, called at the state department yesterday and talked with Secretary Hay on the Venezuelan situation. The ambassador was unable to throw additional light on the subject, having received no advices from Berlin.

The Venezuelan negotiations now wait upon President Castro. Minister Bowen has been fully advised by the state department of the result of its exchanges with the foreign offices in London, Berlin and Rome, and he has been charged to take the case in hand himself and arrange the details of the protocol which will precede the submission of the foreign claims to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal. In so doing Mr. Bowen is acting not as United States minister, but as Venezuela's representative. The officials here wish it to be understood that their functions ceased, so far as the Venezuela difficulty was concerned, when they brought the parties to the controversy together.

Killed While Experimenting.

Doylstown, Pa., Dec. 30.—Frank Ross, aged 18 years, an assistant at the sub-power station of the Newtown Electric Street Railway company at Rushington, was instantly killed Sunday evening while experimenting with a high tension wire. The full current of 5,000 volts passed through his body.

BIG NEW SHEET MILL TO COST $135,000

IMPROVED PLANT TO BE ERECTED AT CANAL DOVER.

It Will Be Absolutely Fire Proof. Other Mills to Start February 1.

Canal Dover, December 30.—A new sheet steel mill to cost over $135,000 will be built here in the near future on the site of the big plant destroyed by fire two weeks ago. The new mill will be built entirely of structural steel and fire brick and will be absolutely fireproof. It will be equipped with all the latest improved machinery, and local officials say it will be one of the best sheet steel and roofing plants owned by the American Sheet Steel company.

Immediately after the fire two weeks ago the city officials took steps to prevent another big fire at the big mills. Arrangements were made for laying a big six-inch water main on all streets surrounding the mills, and about 15 or 20 fire plugs will be placed at convenient places. A large amount of new fire hose has been ordered, and as soon as the contemplated improvements are made it is thought that the plant will be amply protected. The prompt action of the city officials in making arrangements for the improvements is in a large measure responsible for the decision of the company to rebuild the mills here larger than ever.

The success of the American Sheet Steel company in closing a big contract at Pittsburgh last Saturday for over $2,500,000 was also partially responsible. It was said today by a local official that the mills in New Philadelphia and Canton, both of which are admirably adapted for the work required by the contract, would probably be started about February 1, when the season opens.

The six big mills of the local plant, which were saved from destruction at the time of the big fire, but which had to be shut down the following Wednesday owing to the breaking of the main shaft, has started in full, giving employment to about 200 men.

CHILD LOVE LEADS TO STEALING

Two Tiny Cincinnati Girls Turn Shoplifters and Give Booty to Sweethearts.

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—Cloaked like real old-time shoplifters, Katie Sexton, aged 10, of Broadway, and Minnie Figue, also aged 10, of Hunt and Broadway, entered the Knox notion store, on Main street, yesterday and started to steal. With all the dexterity of skilled shoplifters they lifted several trinkets off the counters until observed by a saleswoman, who gave the alarm, and the children were turned over to the police. Not until they were arraigned before Chief Deitsch did they betray that they were merely amateurs.

The Figue girl looks innocence personified and cried when interviewed. The Sexton girl claimed that the Figue girl taught her to steal. They finally confessed that they had been stealing things from the store for some time and had given them to Luke and Arthur McGuff, of Twelfth street, their sweethearts. Upon investigation it was learned the boys were the recipients of numerous stolen presents, which their aunt, upon learning the facts, turned over to the police.

The Sexton girl when arrested had a bottle of cologne, a pair of spectacles and four pocketbooks.

CARDINAL AT WHEELING.

A Thousand Persons Greeted His Eminence at the Depot.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Cardinal Gibbons and party arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon in the special car of President Loree, which was attached to the regular passenger train. A thousand persons greeted his eminence at the station, but there was no demonstration. The original program of an escort of Catholic societies was modified on account of inclement weather, and one company of the cathedral high school cadets formed a hollow square about the cardinal's carriage. At the episcopal residence the cardinal listened to an address on behalf of the cadets. Last night hundreds of city and county officials and clergymen of other denominations attended a public reception to his eminence at the Carroll club, and Cardinal Gibbons made a short address.

Found Dead.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Miss Zeda Ogden, aged about 42 years, of Scranton, Pa., was found dead yesterday in her room at No. 675 North Eleventh street. The gas was turned on and the room was filled with the deadly odor. Two empty bottles which had contained laudanum were also found in her room, but the police found no evidence of its use.

EAST END

A BROKEN LEG

Among the Accidents Due to Falls Upon the Slippery Streets.

The condition of the streets of the East End was very slippery this morning and many residents of that section of the city received bad falls. Several ladies sustained slight injuries and one or two rather serious. One lady residing in the Klondike slipped early this morning on the ice and fell to the ground breaking her leg. This was probably the worst of any of the accidents.

The doctors were called several times on account of these accidents but only this one was serious.

New Trial Refused.

Attorney J. E. Davis, of the East End, has received word from the justice of St. Clair township in regard to the arguments for a new trial in the case of Laughlin vs. S. Randalls. This case was heard a few days ago and after it was finished one of the jurors claimed that undue influence had been used in securing the decision. Upon that ground a motion for a new trial was made and the arguments heard by the justice. In his communication to Mr. Davis the justice said that he had overruled the motion for a new trial and Laughlin will recover possession of his farm at once.

Fourteen Initiated.

The Ben Hur lodge held another meeting last night in the East End and fourteen new members were initiated. District Deputy D. T. McClelland was present and had charge of the degree work. The meeting was very enthusiastic and the members show considerable interest and hope to receive many new members before the coming year expires.

P. H. C. Meeting.

The Protected Home Circle will hold another meeting tonight in its hall in the East End. A large number of new candidates will be initiated and the business of the year will be closed. This lodge has been the most successful of any in the city in the past year in point of new members secured and has good prospects for the coming year.

Team Ran Away.

A team belonging to Larkins & Ferguson became frightened yesterday afternoon by snow sliding from the roof of the grocery and ran away around several blocks before it could be stopped. No damage was done to either the horses or delivery wagon to which the team was attached.

Taken Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Taylor Larkins was brought home from Sebring today at noon. Mrs. Larkins recently went to visit several relatives but was taken seriously ill upon her arrival there. Her condition is now rather serious and she was brought home today.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Clifford McCray returned to Sebring this morning after a short visit with relatives here.

John Cutright and Sam Young returned this morning to Ford City, Pa., after a short visit with friends here.

Justice W. L. Carman and son returned yesterday evening after a week's visit with relatives in Washington county, Pa.

Mrs. C. W. Mayers, of St. George street, expects to entertain a number of friends at her home this evening. The affair promises to be very pleasant as Mrs. Mayers is a delightful hostess.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

And Election of Officers Held By

Painters' And Paper Hangers' Union.

Local union No. 165, Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, held a very important meeting at the hall last night. A number of matters were attended to, among them being a discussion of a few changes in the working conditions which now govern the local.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, E. L. Provo; vice president, J. H. Ingersoll; recording secretary, W. T. House; financial secretary and treasurer, Philip Mulligan; conductor, F. M. Beatty; warden, C. A. Trunk; trustee, 18 months, George Mulligan.

The year will be wound up with a smoker, to which the employing painters have been invited. It is proposed to make the affair one of the most enjoyable of the many entertainments held by No. 165, and with this end in view preparations have been in progress for some time.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

A piece of cold turkey left over from Christmas was fatal to David Regan, aged 65, at Youngstown. He choked to death.

Harry Jackson, a Youngstown electrician, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid after attending the funeral of a friend.

John Keith, who assaulted and nearly killed Thomas Knight at Kelly's coal works, near Steubenville, was arrested at Bellaire and is now in jail. The residence of Cromwell Bucey at Brilliant, occupied by himself and son Oliver and Amanda Brindley, their house keeper, was burned to the ground. Mr. Bucey is 85 years old and very feeble.

Report comes from the neighborhood of Mahan's station of a demented man wandering about in the snow. He was seen several times and was supposed to be going in the direction of Holiday's Cove.

Rev. W. A. Williams began revival services in Cross Creek church Sunday and will continue each night. He closed the revival services at Two Ridges on Sunday with the communion service. There were seven accessions Friday night.

Good News.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of croup is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

WAITING ON CASTRO.

Allies Want to Hear from Venezuela Before Arranging Terms of Settlement.

WILL ARBITRATE IN ANY EVENT.

German Government Silent as to

When Blockade Will Be Raised.

Praise for United States for Having the Dispute Sent to The Hague.

Berlin, Dec. 30.—Foreign Secretary Von Richthofen is awaiting the receipt of President Castro's answer to the proposal to submit the Venezuela dispute to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal, with certain reservations, before corresponding with Great Britain over the personnel of the tribunal or the date for raising the blockade. "Assuming that President Castro declines to accept the reservations, will arbitration fall through?" asked the correspondent of the Associated Press of a foreign office official yesterday. The official replied: "A settlement will be reached by arbitration in any event."

Silent as to Raising of Blockade.

The German government is completely silent as to when the blockade will be raised or whether it will be raised at all until every question concerning arbitration is settled. The acceptance of arbitration after the blockade was begun is certainly not received with popular favor in Germany.

General Von Boguslawski, one of the foremost military writers, contributed to the Tagliche Rundschau his views of the Monroe doctrine and argues that the withdrawal of the blockade at this stage would show singular weakness. After alluding to the late Prince Bismarck's expression that the Monroe doctrine was "a great piece of impudence," the general says: "That was a true word. America is divided into many states. In varieties of race and language she is hardly second to Europe. How can one state assert that it has the right of interference and protection over an entire continent, and that it will tolerate only under certain conditions any action, however just, of European nations against an American state?"

Hails Refusal as Good News.

The Frankfurter Zeitung hails President Roosevelt's refusal as good news and praises the United States for having done so much to bring The Hague tribunal into vogue, referring to the cases already sent there at the United States' instance.

The Lokal Anzeiger prints an inspired statement to the effect that nothing is known by the Berlin officials regarding the reported intention of the powers to raise the blockade, adding that the question has not yet been taken into consideration. The Neueste Nachrichten says it hopes the statement that Minister Bowen will represent Venezuela's case is not true, since the United States action would thus appear in a bad light, after refusing arbitration, and keeping the biggest hand in the game in a responsible way. The Lokal Anzeiger's Caracas correspondent asked President Castro if he was ready to apologize to the powers, to which the president replied: "General Castro has nothing to apologize for." The bystanders, the correspondent adds, cheered and shouted "Bravo" when they heard the president's reply.

The German merchants of Caracas, it is asserted by the correspondent, say they are ready to advance President Castro the money to meet the demands of Germany, "although they know the president is able to pay it himself."

Italy Appoints Representative.

Rome, Dec. 30.—The Italian minister at The Hague, the Chevalier Tunge, has been ordered personally to supervise the procedure in the matter of the settlement of the Italian claims against Venezuela before the international peace court at The Hague. The documents in the case will be forwarded to him by courier.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Mr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, who has been in New York for some weeks past on a business mission, called at the state department yesterday and talked with Secretary Hay on the Venezuelan situation. The ambassador was unable to throw additional light on the subject, having received no advice from Berlin.

The Venezuelan negotiations now wait upon President Castro. Minister Bowen has been fully advised by the state department of the result of its exchanges with the foreign offices in London, Berlin and Rome, and he has been charged to take the case in hand himself and arrange the details of the protocol which will precede the submission of the foreign claims to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal. In so doing Mr. Bowen is acting not as United States minister, but as Venezuela's representative. The officials here wish it to be understood that their functions ceased, so far as the Venezuela difficulty was concerned, when they brought the parties to the controversy together.

Killed While Experimenting.

Doylestown, Pa., Dec. 30.—Frank Ross, aged 18 years, an assistant at the sub-power station of the Newtown Electric Street Railway company at Rushington, was instantly killed Sunday evening while experimenting with a high tension wire. The full current of 5,000 volts passed through his body.

BIG NEW SHEET MILL

TO COST $135,000

IMPROVED PLANT TO BE ERECTED AT CANAL DOVER.

It Will Be Absolutely Fire Proof.

Other Mills to Start February 1.

Canal Dover, December 30.—A new sheet steel mill to cost over $135,000 will be built here in the near future on the site of the big plant destroyed by fire two weeks ago. The new mill will be built entirely of structural steel and fire brick and will be absolutely fireproof. It will be equipped with all the latest improved machinery, and local officials say it will be one of the best sheet steel and roofing plants owned by the American Sheet Steel company.

Immediately after the fire two weeks ago the city officials took steps to prevent another big fire at the big mills. Arrangements were made for laying a big six-inch water main on all streets surrounding the mills, and about 15 or 20 fire plugs will be placed at convenient places. A large amount of new fire hose has been ordered, and as soon as the contemplated improvements are made it is thought that the plant will be amply protected. The prompt action of the city officials in making arrangements for the improvements is in a large measure responsible for the decision of the company to rebuild the mills here larger than ever.

The success of the American Sheet Steel company in closing a big contract at Pittsburg last Saturday for over $2,500,000 was also partially responsible. It was said today by a local official that the mills in New Philadelphia and Canton, both of which are admirably adapted for the work required by the contract, would probably be started about February 1, when the season opens.

The six big mills of the local plant, which were saved from destruction at the time of the big fire, but which had to be shut down the following Wednesday owing to the breaking of the main shaft, has started in full, giving employment to about 200 men.

CHILD LOVE LEADS TO STEALING

Two Tiny Cincinnati Girls Turn Shoplifters and Give Booty to Sweethearts.

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—Cloaked like real old-time shoplifters, Katie Sexton, aged 10, of Broadway, and Minnie Figue, also aged 10, of Hunt and Broadway, entered the Knox notion store, on Main street, yesterday and started to steal. With all the dexterity of skilled shoplifters they lifted several trinkets off the counters until observed by a saleswoman, who gave the alarm, and the children were turned over to the police. Not until they were arraigned before Chief Detsch did they betray that they were merely amateurs.

The figure girl looks innocence personified and cried when interviewed. The Sexton girl claimed that the figure girl taught her to steal. They finally confessed that they had been stealing things from the store for some time and had given them to Luke and Arthur McGuff, of Twelfth street, their sweethearts. Upon investigation it was learned the boys were the recipients of numerous stolen presents, which their aunt, upon learning the facts, turned over to the police.

The Sexton girl when arrested had a bottle of cologne, a pair of spectacles and four pocketbooks.

CARDINAL AT WHEELING.

A Thousand Persons Greeted His Eminence at the Depot.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Cardinal Gibbons and party arrived from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon in the special car of President Loree, which was attached to the regular passenger train. A thousand persons greeted his eminence at the station, but there was no demonstration. The original program of an escort of Catholic societies was modified on account of inclement weather, and one company of the cathedral high school cadets formed a hollow square about the cardinal's carriage. At the episcopal residence the cardinal listened to an address on behalf of the cadets. Last night hundreds of city and county officials and clergymen of other denominations attended a public reception to his eminence at the Carroll club, and Cardinal Gibbons made a short address.

Found Dead.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Miss Zeda Ogden, aged 42 years, of Scranton, Pa., was found dead yesterday in her room at No. 675 North Eleventh street. The gas was turned on and the room was filled with the deadly odor. Two empty bottles which had contained laudanum were also found in her room, but the police found no evidence of its use.

How can one state assert that it has the right of interference and protection over an entire continent, and that it will tolerate only under certain conditions any action, however just, of European nations against an American state?"

Hails Refusal as Good News.

The Frankfurter Zeitung hails President Roosevelt's refusal as good news and praises the United States for having done so much to bring The Hague tribunal into vogue, referring to the cases already sent there at the United States' instance.

The Lokal Anzeiger prints an inspired statement to the effect that nothing is known by the Berlin officials regarding the reported intention of the powers to raise the blockade, adding that the question has not yet been taken into consideration. The Neueste Nachrichten says it hopes the statement that Minister Bowen will represent Venezuela's case is not true, since the United States action would thus appear in a bad light, after refusing arbitration, and keeping the biggest hand in the game in a responsible way. The Lokal Anzeiger's Caracas correspondent asked President Castro if he was ready to apologize to the powers, to which the president replied: "General Castro has nothing to apologize for." The bystanders, the correspondent adds, cheered and shouted "Bravo" when they heard the president's reply.

The German merchants of Caracas, it is asserted by the correspondent, say they are ready to advance President Castro the money to meet the demands of Germany, "although they know the president is able to pay it himself."

Italy Appoints Representative.

Rome, Dec. 30.—The Italian minister at The Hague, the Chevalier Tunge, has been ordered personally to supervise the procedure in the matter of the settlement of the Italian claims against Venezuela before the international peace court at The Hague. The documents in the case will be forwarded to him by courier.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Mr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, who has been in New York for some weeks past on a business mission, called at the state department yesterday and talked with Secretary Hay on the Venezuelan situation. The ambassador was unable to throw additional light on the subject, having received no advices from Berlin.

The Venezuelan negotiations now wait upon President Castro. Minister Bowen has been fully advised by the state department of the result of its exchanges with the foreign offices in London, Berlin and Rome, and he has been charged to take the case in hand himself and arrange the details of the protocol which will precede the submission of the foreign claims to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal. In so doing Mr. Bowen is acting not as United States minister, but as Venezuela's representative. The officials here wish it to be understood that their functions ceased, so far as the Venezuela difficulty was concerned, when they brought the parties to the controversy together.

Killed While Experimenting.

Doylesburg, Pa., Dec. 30.—Frank Ross, aged 18 years, an assistant at the sub-power station of the Newtown Electric Street Railway company at Rushington, was instantly killed Sunday evening while experimenting with a high tension wire. The full current of 5,000 volts passed through his body.

BIG NEW SHEET MILL TO COST $135,000

IMPROVED PLANT TO BE ERECTED AT CANAL DOVER.

It Will Be Absolutely Fire Proof. Other Mills to Start February 1.

Canal Dover, December 30.—A new sheet steel mill to cost over $135,000 will be built here in the near future on the site of the big plant destroyed by fire two weeks ago. The new mill will be built entirely of structural steel and fire brick and will be absolutely fireproof. It will be equipped with all the latest improved machinery, and local officials say it will be one of the best sheet steel and roofing plants owned by the American Sheet Steel company.

Immediately after the fire two weeks ago the city officials took steps to prevent another big fire at the big mills. Arrangements were made for laying a big six-inch water main on all streets surrounding the mills, and about 15 or 20 fire plugs will be placed at convenient places. A large amount of new fire hose has been ordered, and as soon as the contemplated improvements are made it is thought that the plant will be amply protected. The prompt action of the city officials in making arrangements for the improvements is in a large measure responsible for the decision of the company to rebuild the mills here larger than ever.

The success of the American Sheet Steel company in closing a big contract at Pittsburgh last Saturday for over $2,500,000 was also partially responsible. It was said today by a local official that the mills in New Philadelphia and Canton, both of which are admirably adapted for the work required by the contract, would probably be started about February 1, when the season opens.

The six big mills of the local plant, which were saved from destruction at the time of the big fire, but which had to be shut down the following Wednesday owing to the breaking of the main shaft, has started in full, giving employment to about 200 men.

CHILD LOVE LEADS TO STEALING

Two Tiny Cincinnati Girls Turn Shoplifters and Give Booty to Sweethearts.

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—Cloaked like real old-time shoplifters, Katie Sexton, aged 10, of Broadway, and Minnie Figue, also aged 10, of Hunt and Broadway, entered the Knox notion store, on Main street, yesterday and started to steal. With all the dexterity of skilled shoplifters they lifted several trinkets off the counters until observed by a saleswoman, who gave the alarm, and the children were turned over to the police. Not until they were arraigned before Chief Deitsch did they betray that they were merely amateurs.

The Figue girl looks innocence personified and cried when interviewed. The Sexton girl claimed that the Figue girl taught her to steal. They finally confessed that they had been stealing things from the store for some time and had given them to Luke and Arthur McGuff, of Twelfth street, their sweethearts. Upon investigation it was learned the boys were the recipients of numerous stolen presents, which their aunt, upon learning the facts, turned over to the police.

The Sexton girl when arrested had a bottle of cologne, a pair of spectacles and four pocketbooks.

CARDINAL AT WHEELING.

A Thousand Persons Greeted His Eminence at the Depot.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Cardinal Gibbons and party arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon in the special car of President Loree, which was attached to the regular passenger train. A thousand persons greeted his eminence at the station, but there was no demonstration. The original program of an escort of Catholic societies was modified on account of inclement weather, and one company of the cathedral high school cadets formed a hollow square about the cardinal's carriage. At the episcopal residence the cardinal listened to an address on behalf of the cadets. Last night hundreds of city and county officials and clergymen of other denominations attended a public reception to his eminence at the Carroll club, and Cardinal Gibbons made a short address.

Found Dead.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Miss Zeke Ogden, aged about 42 years, of Scranton, Pa., was found dead yesterday in her room at No. 675 North Eleventh street. The gas was turned on and the room was filled with the deadly odor. Two empty bottles which had contained laudanum were also found in her room, but the police found no evidence of its use.

While complaints of scarcity of coal are heard on all sides in other cities, the people of East Liverpool have warm fires and no worry about fuel supply. Happy the city which has natural gas in abundance!

The Democratic political row is breaking out very early. On Jackson's day there is to be a Democratic banquet in Cleveland, to which Tom Johnson will not be invited.

OBITUARY

Sarah F. Pratt.

Sarah Florence, the eight-months-old daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Pratt, passed peacefully away this morning at 5 o'clock. Although the little one had been seriously ill for many weeks death was nevertheless a great shock to the sorrowing family and also a large number of friends in this city, who extended to the family their most heartfelt sympathy and mourn with them in this great bereavement.

AT THE THEATER

There are comparatively few plays today that possess the fascination of Lewis Morrison's version of Goethe's "Faust," which appears at the Grand Tuesday evening. Among scholars and literateurs of all countries it is conceded that Goethe is not only the greatest poet of Germany, but he is one of the greatest poets of all ages. He is so great that after a lapse of nearly two years since "Faust" was given to the world, scholars are unable to form a correct judgment of his exact precedence in the list of Homer, Dante and Shakespeare.

A comfortable theater and the prospect of a good play appealed to many last evening, and as a result the Grand was well filled. The attraction, "Her Marriage Vow," was one of the best comedy dramas of the season and in scenic effects has certainly not been surpassed. The fortunes of Kate, the daughter of Bill, the engineer, and the machinations of the son of the railroad superintendent were romantic and exciting enough to hold the closest attention of the audience. The company of actors was above the average.

As a thrill-maker the ghost in "The Silver Dagger" takes precedence over any effect devised for dramatic plays in recent years. At the Grand New Year's day matinee and night.

a special interest, because of their intimate associations when they were boys, was Michael McKinnon, who was then residing on his farm at the top of the hill this side of the present Riverview cemetery. My brother then asked him if he lived in the city. "No," he replied, "I live in Covington, on the opposite side of the river." Then it was the name of Jesse Grant first suggested itself to my brother, and in answer to further questions the father of General Grant was thus personally made known to him.

My brother communicated these facts to my father, who wrote to Mr. Grant for fuller and more definite information in regard to a matter of so much local interest. Mr. Grant replied briefly in substance that his father, Noah Grant, in the year 1799, when Jesse was about five years of age, moved into what was then known as the Northwest territory, now constituting the state of Ohio, and located at a point about two miles below the Pennsylvania line on the Ohio river near what was then known as Dry Run. This would make it somewhere in the neighborhood of the Neville institute in the East End. Here he said he resided for five or six years, or until his father removed to Portage county, O.

He noted further that the first sermon he ever heard in his life of which he had a distinct recollection was preached on Christmas day, 1799, in Fawcettstown, now East Liverpool, by a Methodist preacher named Dobbins. Here in a little Methodist meeting house his father and mother were wont to worship when divine services were held, which was at rare intervals.

Noah Grant, the father of Jesse and grandfather of the general, was a shoemaker and farmer, and during his residence here supported himself and family by cobbling shoes and tilling a small farm. It is also believed he tanned his own leather. I remember hearing Mr. McKinnon, to whom we have referred above, and who was the father of Riley McKinnon, now residing on a portion of his father's farm, speak of his boyish pride when Noah Grant fitted him out with a brand new pair of shoes of Grant's own make. Mr. McKinnon well remembered Noah Grant and could recall his reputation for honesty and industry, and his position among his neighbors as a man of intelligence and influence.

OBITUARY

Sarah F. Pratt.

Sarah Florence, the eight-months-old daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Pratt, passed peacefully away this morning at 5 o'clock. Although the little one had been seriously ill for many weeks death was nevertheless a great shock to the sorrowing family and also a large number of friends in this city, who extended to the family their most heartfelt sympathy and mourn with them in this great bereavement.

Death of An Infant.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dascomb, of Thompson avenue, died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The child was but three weeks' old, and was only ill a few days. The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday, with interment in River-view cemetery.

AT THE THEATER

There are comparatively few plays today that possess the fascination of Lewis Morrison's version of Goethe's "Faust," which appears at the Grand Tuesday evening. Among scholars and literateurs of all countries it is conceded that Goethe is not only the greatest poet of Germany, but he is one of the greatest poets of all ages. He is so great that after a lapse of nearly 100 years since "Faust" was given to the world, scholars are unable to form a correct judgment of his exact precedence in the list of Homer, Dante and Shakespeare.

A comfortable theater and the prospect of a good play appealed to many last evening, and as a result the Grand was well filled. The attraction, "Her Marriage Vow," was one of the best comedy dramas of the season and in scenic effects has certainly not been surpassed. The fortunes of Kate, the daughter of Bill, the engineer, and the machinations of the son of the railroad superintendent were romantic and exciting enough to hold the closest attention of the audience. The company of actors was above the average.

As a thrill-maker the ghost in "The Silver Dagger" takes precedence over any effect devised for dramatic plays in recent years. At the Grand New Year's day matinee and night.

a special interest, because of their intimate associations when they were boys, was Michael McKinnon, who was then residing on his farm at the top of the hill this side of the present Riverview cemetery. My brother then asked him if he lived in the city. "No," he replied, "I live in Covington, on the opposite side of the river." Then it was the name of Jesse Grant first suggested itself to my brother, and in answer to further questions the father of General Grant was thus personally made known to him.

My brother communicated these facts to my father, who wrote to Mr. Grant for fuller and more definite information in regard to a matter of so much local interest. Mr. Grant replied briefly in substance that his father, Noah Grant, in the year 1799, when Jesse was about five years of age, moved into what was then known as the Northwest territory, now constituting the state of Ohio, and located at a point about two miles below the Pennsylvania line on the Ohio river near what was then known as Dry Run. This would make it somewhere in the neighborhood of the Neville institute in the East End. Here he said he resided for five or six years, or until his father removed to Portage county, O.

He noted further that the first sermon he ever heard in his life of which he had a distinct recollection was preached on Christmas day, 1799, in Fawcettstown, now East Liverpool, by a Methodist preacher named Dobbins. Here in a little Methodist meeting house his father and mother were wont to worship when divine services were held, which was at rare intervals.

Noah Grant, the father of Jesse and grandfather of the general, was a shoemaker and farmer, and during his residence here supported himself and family by cobbling shoes and tilling a small farm. It is also believed he tanned his own leather. I remember hearing Mr. McKinnon, to whom we have referred above, and who was the father of Riley McKinnon, now residing on a portion of his father's farm, speak of his boyish pride when Noah Grant fitted him out with a brand new pair of shoes of Grant's own make. Mr. McKinnon well remembered Noah Grant and could recall his reputation for honesty and industry, and his position among his neighbors as a man of intelligence and influence.

After the ice has melted from the sidewalks this time, wouldn't it be a good idea to enforce the city ordinance compelling property owners to keep their sidewalks clean? Leaving the snow to melt away is culpable negligence, in view of the alarming accidents constantly resulting from such a course. Hardly a sidewalk in the city can now be found that is not almost a glare of ice. Such a condition should not be suffered to continue, especially as it can all be prevented by due exercise of shovel, broom and muscle after each snowfall.

The Alliance Review is urging the people of that section to "besiege Congressman Taylor with petitions for more rural free delivery routes." That is all right, but the people will make it easier to get what they want if they first take active steps to secure improved rural roads. It will not be long, under the present energetic policy of the postoffice department until every agricultural community so supplied will have the manifold advantages of free delivery.

Congressman Taylor in an interview says that he is profoundly convinced that President Roosevelt has made certain his renomination and probably his election. And the best of it is that he has done so without trying. The president is a man who would not deviate a hair's breadth from the course he believes to be right, no matter if political ruin stared him in the face. He is a true American with the true American's best quality, backbone, strongly developed.

"Congress is bluffing," says Democratic newspapers. "It will not pass an anti-trust bill." Judging others by the record of their own party, are they? They are most likely to be deceived. The Republican party has both, and is not addicted to bluffing.

The question who shall be the Republican candidate for governor in Ohio is attracting much attention. It is not difficult to solve. Wellsville Man Who Admits Having Gambled Tells the Mayor a Surprising Tale.

A young man rushing into the mayor's office early last evening said he wanted to secure a vest, a button hook and $2 which he claimed a Third street saloon keeper had stolen from him. Only a few weeks ago he won $34.80 in a poker game from the same saloon keeper.

The mayor warned the young man that Wellsville had a police force.

"I have played poker in this city several times and have not been caught in the act, and I don't believe that you will catch me in this, either," said the fellow.

The young man has not left the city, nor has he been near the saloon keeper. He is being watched.

Stricklin entered the office while she was there and the papers were served. His effort at reconciliation failed.

FERRYBOAT ABANDONED

Ice Makes It Impossible For the Ida to Make Her Trips to Congo.

Since ice began floating down the Ohio several days ago, Wellsville and Congo people who have been patrons of the ferryboat Ida, are compelled to use the bridge between East Liverpool and Chester. The ferryboat has been abandoned and will probably not be used again till the ice has left the river.

Dislocated His Jaw.

James McKay, a brakeman in the employ of the C. & P. road, while passing the shops depot on a freight train yesterday accidentally slipped and fell to the ground. His jaw was dislocated. He is unable to work and will probably be disabled for life.

Wife Is Missing.

While C. F. Bowers, an employe of the C. & P. road, was away from his home in the West End, his wife slipped out, leaving a three-year-old son to care for. Her reasons for going away cannot be learned. She has been seen in the city several times since by friends of Bowers.

Delinquents Are Many.

Sixty-four delinquent tax cases have been brought into 'Squire A. G. Mackenzie's court. They will be heard January 2 and 3. It was thought the delinquent tax collector had gathered in every item of delinquent taxes.

A WEDDING OCCURED
IN EARLY MORNING

'SQUIRE SAT UP UNTIL AFTER MIDNIGHT TRAIN ARRIVED.

Couple from Allegheny County United in This City at the Unusual Hour of 2:30 a. m.

A wedding performed between the hours of 2 and 3 in the morning is something seldom witnessed, but Daniel Taylor, a street car conductor in Allegheny, and Miss Hilda C. Ackley, also of the same city, were married at that hour in this city this morning. Justice H. P. McCarron, of this city, was asked yesterday to officiate at this wedding, but owing to business engagements at Pittsburg was unable to be present. Justice Daniel McLane was then called and the wedding was to take place immediately after the 7 o'clock train came down from Pittsburg. The young couple did not get here till about 2 o'clock and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ecker, of Market street, and remained there after the ceremony was performed.

They expected to reach this city early in the evening, but missed the train and telephoned that they would be here on the midnight train and asked that the 'squire wait on them till then. Justice McLane accommodated them, and when No. 41 came in a cab was awaiting them and the couple was hurried to the home of Mr. Ecker. The family and a number of newspaper men were present. The ceremony was performed about 2:30 in the morning and after congratulations had been extended the newly wedded pair the visitors left, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Taylor all the good things in life.

AMERICAN ECONOMIC MEETING

Fourth Session Opened by the Discussion of Problems of Organized Labor.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—The fourth session of the annual meeting of the American Economic association was opened yesterday by the discussion of problems of organized labor. Henry White, secretary of the United Garment Workers of America, delivered an address on "The Union Shop."

The discussion was taken part in by Samuel B. Donnelly, former president of Typographical Union No. 6, New York, and John E. George, assistant professor of economics, Northwestern university.

The aims of organized labor was the topic of the afternoon session. Frank K. Foster, of Boston, chairman of the legislative committee of Massachusetts Federation of Labor, read a paper on "The Ideals of Trade Unions."

The discussion which followed the reading of the paper was participated in by Simon P. Chase, manager of the King Philip mill, Fall River; M. J. Ford, member of the executive board of the International Association of Machinists, New York; Felix Adler, professor of social and political ethics, Columbia university, and George Gunton, Institute of Social Economics, New York.

Jeremiah W. Jenks, professor of political economy and politics, Cornell university, was the chief speaker at last night's session of the convention. His topic, "Currency Problems in the Orient," was discussed by Charles A. Conant, treasurer Morton Trust company, New York, and G. Bruce Webster, New York agent of the chartered bank of India, Australia and China.

Judge S. E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, read a paper on the topic, "American Business Corporations Before 1789." This closed the business session of the convention. Today was devoted to sightseeing by the delegates.

MEET TO ARRANGE
FOR THE ELECTION

Commissioners Will Assemble Tonight to Perfect Plans For the Event of Thursday.

The election commissioners of Chester will meet tonight to conclude the arrangements for the municipal election to be held Thursday. The commissioners are Enoch Riley, Frank Huff, O. O. Allison, F. F. Steadman and Daniel McBane. They will decide at this meeting how many clerks will be necessary at the election. Some were of the opinion that two clerks would be required for each ward, but it is likely that the commissioners will decide that two are enough to do the work for the entire town at this election.

Now that the date is so near great interest is manifested in the result not only for mayor and recorder but also for members of council. A large number of bets have been made on the results in the different wards and it is said that considerable money will change hands over the election. It is also said that an effort will be made to bar those voting who have been betting on the result. If this is attempted there may be some excitement on election day. No odds are being offered and no large sums of money have been posted but the statement was made this morning that several hundred dollars had been put up by the friends of the different candidates in small amounts.

M'BEE NOT LOCATED

The Assailant of Arch Bruce Thought to Be in Vicinity of Steubenville.

The whereabouts of William McBee, who recently shot Arch Bruce, are still unknown. There appears to be a growing belief that he went to Steubenville, and is now located in that vicinity. The citizens of Chester are anxious that he be captured and brought to justice, as there is too much rowdiness prevalent around this part of Hancock county. If one of the offenders was captured and properly punished it might have a wholesome effect on the conduct of others living in the community.

A movement has been started to raise funds to secure the capture of McBee, and if he is caught a serious charge will be given him to answer.

No Clue to the Robbers.

So far no clue has been found of the three men who entered the house of Charles Stevens yesterday morning and demanded money at the point of a revolver. Stevens' injuries amounted to but little and he is more concerned over the destruction of the household goods than from any physical pain suffered. The police are quietly investigating the affair and have hopes of landing at least one of the trio.

Potteries in Operation.

Both potteries in Chester have resumed operations since the annual shutdown for the holidays. Work was resumed in both plants yesterday, although some departments are not working full and will not till after the first of the year. Prospects are good for a long run at both plants and the condition of their trade has seldom been better at this time of the year.

Stores Will Close.

A large number of the stores and business houses in Chester will be closed Thursday. The postoffice will be open from 9 a. m. till 10 a. m. From 1 p. m. till 3 p. m. and from 4 p. m. till 5 p. m.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Meeting.

Miss Abbey Rowley left yesterday for Pittsburg, where she will spend a few days visiting relatives.

A. C. Hood, of East Palestine, spent a few days the past week with his brother, of Carolina avenue.

A social was held last night at Rock Springs park by the members of the Episcopal church, who have been conducting a mission there. The children of the mission were given a treat and the evening was spent very pleasantly by all.

SMASHED WITH PAVING BLOCK.

Bold Robber Breaks Window of New York Pawn Shop and Gets $10,000 Worth of Diamonds.

New York, Dec. 30.—In full sight of the passing crowds a window in the pawn shop of R. Simpson & Co., on West Forty-second street, was smashed with a Belgian paving block last night and $10,000 worth of diamonds were stolen.

Only three of the gems were recovered after the capture of the robber. It is believed by the police that several men were in the job and that the man who broke the window passed the jewels to confederates.

After an exciting chase, which was entered into by hundreds of men, the robber, who drew a pistol and fought desperately for his liberty, was captured. He was more dead than alive when the police rescued him from the crowd of pursuers. He is 19 years old and calls himself William Madison, of Boston.

Madison later told the police that his name is August W. McPherson, and that he is a bell boy at a well-known hotel in this city. He said he was heavily in debt and sought to relieve his financial stringency by robbery.

HERRICK AND DICK
BOTH IN THE RACE

Neither General Dick nor Colonel Herrick had anything to say concerning the conference last night, except that no decision of any kind had been reached, and that the situation was the same as before.

General Dick arrived from Akron yesterday morning and called upon Senator Hanna in the Perry-Payne building. In discussing the gubernatorial question the senator simply outlined to General Dick his position in the matter, as heretofore set forth. The general then called on Colonel Herrick at the latter's office in the Society for Savings building and the two were in conference for over two hours.

"How long will this uncertainty last?" was asked of General Dick and Colonel Herrick.

The general replied that so far as he was concerned he saw no reason for hasty action; that the convention would not be held for six months and there was plenty of time between now and then for him to formally announce whether or not he would be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. On the other hand Colonel Herrick intimated that so far as he was concerned the uncertainty would not last much longer.

General Dick's position in the gubernatorial matter is simply this: That he is not asking for the endorsement of his candidacy by Senator Hanna; that he cannot see any danger to the present official organization of the Republican party if both he and Colonel Herrick are candidates; that the convention should select the candidates and that Senator Hanna should not be forced into the attitude of dictating the nomination for governor.

The indications are that in the near future Colonel Herrick will formally announce his intentions regarding the gubernatorial nomination, and the announcement will probably be a formal declaration of his candidacy. On the other hand, General Dick will probably let it be generally known that he is a receptive candidate for the nomination without a formal announcement of his candidacy.

Governor Nash was among Senator Hanna's callers yesterday and spent most of the day at the latter's office. Regarding the situation between Herrick and Dick Senator Hanna said:

"I understand that no decision of any kind was reached, and that matters stand as they were before the conference was held."

A Punctual Bird.

What tempts the little humming bird that we see in our gardens to travel every spring from near the equator to as far north as the arctic circle, leaving behind him, as he does, for a season, many tropical delights? He is the only one of many humming birds that pluckily leaves the land of gayly colored birds to go into voluntary exile in the north, east of the Mississippi. How it stirs the imagination to picture the solitary, tiny migrant, a mere atom of bird life, moving above the range of human sight through the vast dome of the sky! Borne swiftly onward by rapidly vibrating little wings, he covers the thousands of miles between his winter home and his summer one by easy stages and arrives at his chosen destination, weather permitting, at approximately the same date year after year.—Country Life in America.

The Woman and Her Face.

Once upon a time a woman had a quarrel with her features because they made ugly faces at her when she looked in the glass. She scolded and scolded, but it all did no good.

Finally she sat in front of her mirror, and with rouge, powder and black pencil went deliberately to work to show her face how wrong it was and succeeded.

After a time she smiled a smile of intense satisfaction, and her face smiled pleasantly back at her.

WELL-KNOWN LAWYER
VIOLENTLY INSANE

ATTORNEY D. E. ROGERS, OF ALLIANCE, LOSES HIS MIND.

Created a Scene at the Court House at Youngstown—Four Guards Needed to Control Him.

Alliance, December 30.—D. E. Rogers, a prominent attorney of Alliance, was suddenly taken violently insane last Saturday. Mr. Rogers, who recently completed his second term as city solicitor of Alliance, was recognized not only as an attorney of unusual ability, but as an indefatigable student and an active worker in church and temperance matters.

On Saturday Attorney Rogers left Alliance in the forenoon for Youngstown, where he was scheduled to take part in the trial of a case in which he represented one of the contestants. At some point between this city and Youngstown, while riding on the train, his mind became clouded, and when the train stopped at Youngstown he had to be aroused and told to get off. He left the Youngstown station and wandered to a physician's office, where he was vaccinated.

From the doctor's office he went to the court house, but instead of presenting himself in the case in which he was interested, he sat down in the rear of the room. The case was called, and the attorneys for the opposition stated that Attorney Rogers was not present, whereat Mr. Rogers rose from his seat and called out to the judge that such was not the case.

He at once became violent, rushing wildly about the room. The services of four guards were required to keep him within bounds. His legal friends in Youngstown took charge of him, and on Saturday evening he was brought home. He is now kept under guard. On Sunday he was still quite violent, though at times he became more quiet. Today, under medical treatment, he is more rational, and it is hoped that he will recover.

Overwork and mental exhaustion are assigned as the causes of the sudden attack. Mr. Rogers is well known all over Stark, Mahoning and Columbiana counties. His family consists of a wife and one son.

FIREMEN'S MEETING

The Benefit Fund Still Has a Surplus. Old Officers Re-Elected.

The Associated Firemen of East Liverpool held their annual meeting last night at the central fire station. The meeting was attended by the majority of the members and considerable business of importance was transacted. The annual reports of the officers for the past year were filed. The report of the treasurer showed that $268.35 remained in the benefit fund of the organization. Since the last meeting of the firemen two liberal donations have been received from local business men.

CLAIMED HE WAS ROBBED
BY A SALOON KEEPER

Wellsville Man Who Admits Having Gambled Tells the Mayor a Surprising Tale.

A young man rushing into the mayor's office early last evening said he wanted to secure a vest, a button hook and $2 which he claimed a Third street saloon keeper had stolen from him. Only a few weeks ago he won $34.80 in a poker game from the same saloon keeper.

The mayor warned the young man that Wellsville had a police force.

"I have played poker in this city several times and have not been caught in the act, and I don't believe that you will catch me in this, either," said the fellow.

The young man has not left the city, nor has he been near the saloon keeper. He is being watched.

HERRICK AND DICK

Neither General Dick nor Colonel Herrick had anything to say concerning the conference last night, except that no decision of any kind had been reached, and that the situation was the same as before.

General Dick arrived from Akron yesterday morning and called upon Senator Hanna in the Perry-Payne building. In discussing the gubernatorial question the senator simply outlined to General Dick his position in the matter, as heretofore set forth. The general then called on Colonel Herrick at the latter's office in the Society for Savings building and the two were in conference for over two hours.

"How long will this uncertainty last?" was asked of General Dick and Colonel Herrick.

The general replied that so far as he was concerned he saw no reason for hasty action; that the convention would not be held for six months and there was plenty of time between now and then for him to formally announce whether or not he would be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. On the other hand Colonel Herrick intimated that so far as he was concerned the uncertainty would not last much longer.

General Dick's position in the gubernatorial matter is simply this: That he is not asking for the endorsement of his candidacy by Senator Hanna; that he cannot see any danger to the present official organization of the Republican party if both he and Colonel Herrick are candidates; that the convention should select the candidates and that Senator Hanna should not be forced into the attitude of dictating the nomination for governor.

The indications are that in the near future Colonel Herrick will formally announce his intentions regarding the gubernatorial nomination, and the announcement will probably be a formal declaration of his candidacy. On the other hand, General Dick will probably let it be generally known that he is a receptive candidate for the nomination without a formal announcement of his candidacy.

Governor Nash was among Senator Hanna's callers yesterday and spent most of the day at the latter's office. Regarding the situation between Herrick and Dick Senator Hanna said:

"I understand that no decision of any kind was reached, and that matters stand as they were before the conference was held."

A Punctual Bird.

What tempts the little humming bird that we see in our gardens to travel every spring from near the equator to as far north as the arctic circle, leaving behind him, as he does, for a season, many tropical delights? He is the only one of many humming birds that pluckily leaves the land of gayly colored birds to go into voluntary exile in the north, east of the Mississippi. How it stirs the imagination to picture the solitary, tiny migrant, a mere atom of bird life, moving above the range of human sight through the vast dome of the sky! Borne swiftly onward by rapidly vibrating little wings, he covers the thousands of miles between his winter home and his summer one by easy stages and arrives at his chosen destination, weather permitting, at approximately the same date year after year.—Country Life In America.

The Woman and Her Face.

Once upon a time a woman had a quarrel with her features because they made ugly faces at her when she looked in the glass. She scolded and scolded, but it all did no good.

Finally she sat in front of her mirror, and with rouge, powder and black pencil went deliberately to work to show her face how wrong it was and succeeded.

After a time she smiled a smile of intense satisfaction, and her face smiled pleasantly back at her.

ATTORNEY D. E. ROGERS, OF ALLIANCE, LOSES HIS MIND.

Created a Scene at the Court House at Youngstown—Four Guards Needed to Control Him.

Alliance, December 30.—D. E. Rogers, a prominent attorney of Alliance, was suddenly taken violently insane last Saturday. Mr. Rogers, who recently completed his second term as city solicitor of Alliance, was recognized not only as an attorney of unusual ability, but as an indefatigable student and an active worker in church and temperance matters.

On Saturday Attorney Rogers left Alliance in the forenoon for Youngstown, where he was scheduled to take part in the trial of a case in which he represented one of the contestants. At some point between this city and Youngstown, while riding on the train, his mind became clouded, and when the train stopped at Youngstown he had to be aroused and told to get off. He left the Youngstown station and wandered to a physician's office, where he was vaccinated.

From the doctor's office he went to the court house, but instead of presenting himself in the case in which he was interested, he sat down in the rear of the room. The case was called, and the attorneys for the opposition stated that Attorney Rogers was not present, whereat Mr. Rogers rose from his seat and called out to the judge that such was not the case. He at once became violent, rushing wildly about the room. The services of four guards were required to keep him within bounds. His legal friends in Youngstown took charge of him, and on Saturday evening he was brought home. He is now kept under guard. On Sunday he was still quite violent, though at times he became more quiet. Today, under medical treatment, he is more rational, and it is hoped that he will recover.

Overwork and mental exhaustion are assigned as the causes of the sudden attack. Mr. Rogers is well known all over Stark, Mahoning and Columbiana counties. His family consists of a wife and one son.

FIREMEN'S MEETING

The Benefit Fund Still Has a Surplus. Old Officers Re-Elected.

The Associated Firemen of East Liverpool held their annual meeting last night at the central fire station. The meeting was attended by the majority of the members and considerable business of importance was transacted. The annual reports of the officers for the past year were filed. The report of the treasurer showed that $268.35 remained in the benefit fund of the organization. Since the last meeting of the firemen two liberal donations have been received from local business men.

The officers for the coming year were continued as follows: President, William Rhue; secretary, William Terrence; treasurer, James F. McCullough.

WELLSVILLE

BY A SALOON KEEPER

Wellsville Man Who Admits Having Gambled Tells the Mayor a Surprising Tale.

A young man rushing into the mayor's office early last evening said he wanted to secure a vest, a button hook and $2 which he claimed a Third street saloon keeper had stolen from him. Only a few weeks ago he won $34.80 in a poker game from the same saloon keeper.

The mayor warned the young man that Wellsville had a police force.

"I have played poker in this city several times and have not been caught in the act, and I don't believe that you will catch me in this, either," said the fellow.

The young man has not left the city, nor has he been near the saloon keeper. He is being watched.

FOUND HIS WIFE

Samuel Stricklin Greeted By Her And a Writ At a 'Squires' Office.

Evidently Mrs. Samuel Stricklin, of Wellsville, is not much missing, as her husband reported. Before 'Squire Mackenzie in Wellsville yesterday she got a writ to force her husband to vacate their home, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, which she claims to own. Stricklin entered the office while she was there and the papers were served. His effort at reconciliation failed.

FERRYBOAT ABANDONED

Ice Makes It Impossible For the Ida to Make Her Trips to Congo.

Since ice began floating down the Ohio several days ago, Wellsville and Congo people who have been patrons of the ferryboat Ida, are compelled to use the bridge between East Liverpool and Chester. The ferryboat has been abandoned and will probably not be used again till the ice has left the river.

Dislocated His Jaw.

James McKay, a brakeman in the employ of the C. & P. road, while passing the shops depot on a freight train yesterday accidentally slipped and fell to the ground. His jaw was dislocated. He is unable to work and will probably be disfigured for life.

Wife Is Missing.

While C. F. Bowers, an employe of the C. & P. road, was away from his home in the West End, his wife slipped out, leaving a three-year-old son to care for. Her reasons for going away cannot be learned. She has been seen in the city several times since by friends of Bowers.

Delinquents Are Many.

Sixty-four delinquent tax cases have been brought into 'Squire A. G. Mackenzie's court. They will be heard January 2 and 3. It was thought the delinquent tax collector had gathered in every item of delinquent taxes.

A WEDDING OCCURED

'SQUIRE SAT UP UNTIL AFTER MIDNIGHT TRAIN ARRIVED.

Couple from Allegheny County United in This City at the Unusual Hour of 2:30 a. m.

A wedding performed between the hours of 2 and 3 in the morning is something seldom witnessed, but Daniel Taylor, a street car conductor in Allegheny, and Miss Hilda C. Ackley, also of the same city, were married at that hour in this city this morning. Justice H. P. McCarron, of this city, was asked yesterday to officiate at this wedding, but owing to business engagements at Pittsburgh was unable to be present. Justice Daniel McLane was then called and the wedding was to take place immediately after the 7 o'clock train came down from Pittsburgh. The young couple did not get here till about 2 o'clock and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ecker, of Market street, and remained there after the ceremony was performed.

They expected to reach this city early in the evening, but missed the train and telephoned that they would be here on the midnight train and asked that the 'squire wait on them till then. Justice McLane accommodated them, and when No. 41 came in a cab was awaiting them and the couple was hurried to the home of Mr. Ecker. The family and a number of newspaper men were present. The ceremony was performed about 2:30 in the morning and after congratulations had been extended the newly wedded pair the visitors left, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Taylor all the good things in life.

AMERICAN ECONOMIC MEETING

Fourth Session Opened by the Discussion of Problems of Organized Labor.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—The fourth session of the annual meeting of the American Economic association was opened yesterday by the discussion of problems of organized labor. Henry White, secretary of the United Garment Workers of America, delivered an address on "The Union Shop."

The discussion was taken part in by Samuel B. Donnelly, former president of Typographical Union No. 6, New York, and John E. George, assistant professor of economics, Northwestern university.

The aims of organized labor was the topic of the afternoon session. Frank K. Foster, of Boston, chairman of the legislative committee of Massachusetts Federation of Labor, read a paper on "The Ideals of Trade Unions."

The discussion which followed the reading of the paper was participated in by Simon P. Chase, manager of the King Philip mill, Fall River; M. J. Ford, member of the executive board of the International Association of Machinists, New York; Felix Adler, professor of social and political ethics, Columbia university, and George Gunton, Institute of Social Economics, New York.

Jeremiah W. Jenks, professor of political economy and politics, Cornell university, was the chief speaker at last night's session of the convention. His topic, "Currency Problems in the Orient," was discussed by Charles A. Conant, treasurer Morton Trust company, New York, and G. Bruce Webster, New York agent of the chartered bank of India, Australia and China.

Judge S. E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, read a paper on the topic, "American Business Corporations Before 1789." This closed the business session of the convention. Today was devoted to sightseeing by the delegates.

MEET TO ARRANGE
FOR THE ELECTION

Commissioners Will Assemble Tonight to Perfect Plans For the Event of Thursday.

The election commissioners of Chester will meet tonight to conclude the arrangements for the municipal election to be held Thursday. The commissioners are Enoch Riley, Frank Huff, O. O. Allison, F. F. Steadman and Daniel McBane. They will decide at this meeting how many clerks will be necessary at the election. Some were of the opinion that two clerks would be required for each ward, but it is likely that the commissioners will decide that two are enough to do the work for the entire town at this election.

Now that the date is so near great interest is manifested in the result not only for mayor and recorder but also for members of council. A large number of bets have been made on the results in the different wards and it is said that considerable money will change hands over the election. It is also said that an effort will be made to bar those voting who have been betting on the result. If this is attempted there may be some excitement on election day. No odds are being offered and no large sums of money have been posted but the statement was made this morning that several hundred dollars had been put up by the friends of the different candidates in small amounts.

M'BEE NOT LOCATED

The Assailant of Arch Bruce Thought to Be in Vicinity of Steubenville.

The whereabouts of William McBee, who recently shot Arch Bruce, are still unknown. There appears to be a growing belief that he went to Steubenville, and is now located in that vicinity. The citizens of Chester are anxious that he be captured and brought to justice, as there is too much rowdiness prevalent around this part of Hancock county. If one of the offenders was captured and properly punished it might have a wholesome effect on the conduct of others living in the community.

A movement has been started to raise funds to secure the capture of McBee, and if he is caught a serious charge will be given him to answer.

No Clue to the Robbers.

So far no clue has been found of the three men who entered the house of Charles Stevens yesterday morning and demanded money at the point of a revolver. Stevens' injuries amounted to but little and he is more concerned over the destruction of the household goods than from any physical pain suffered. The police are quietly investigating the affair and have hopes of landing at least one of the trio.

Potteries in Operation.

Both potteries in Chester have resumed operations since the annual shutdown for the holidays. Work was resumed in both plants yesterday, although some departments are not working full and will not till after the first of the year. Prospects are good for a long run at both plants and the condition of their trade has seldom been better at this time of the year.

Stores Will Close.

A large number of the stores and business houses in Chester will be closed Thursday. The postoffice will be open from 9 a. m. till 10 a. m. From 1 p. m. till 3 p. m. and from 4 p. m. till 5 p. m.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Junior Mechanics was held last night at their hall in Chester. Considerable business of importance was transacted and the preliminary arrangements made for a banquet to be held about the middle of January. Fuller details will be arranged for this banquet later, and it promises to be a swell affair.

Too Much Fudge.

Fred, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McGlumphy, is seriously ill at his home, Ninth street and Phoenix avenue. His illness is due to eating too much fudge.

CHESTER NOTES.

George Wilson, of Vandergrift, Pa., arrived in Chester yesterday to begin work in the tin mill.

Miss Abbey Rowley left yesterday for Pittsburgh, where she will spend a few days visiting relatives.

A. C. Hood, of East Palestine, spent a few days the past week with his brother, of Carolina avenue.

A social was held last night at Rock Springs park by the members of the Episcopal church, who have been conducting a mission there. The children of the mission were given a treat and the evening was spent very pleasantly by all.

SMASHED WITH PAVING BLOCK.

Bold Robber Breaks Window of New York Pawn Shop and Gets $10,000 Worth of Diamonds.

New York, Dec. 30.—In full sight of the passing crowds a window in the pawn shop of R. Simpson & Co., on West Forty-second street, was smashed with a Belgian paving block last night and $10,000 worth of diamonds were stolen.

Only three of the gems were recovered after the capture of the robber. It is believed by the police that several men were in the job and that the man who broke the window passed the jewels to confederates.

After an exciting chase, which was entered into by hundreds of men, the robber, who drew a pistol and fought desperately for his liberty, was captured. He was more dead than alive when the police rescued him from the crowd of pursuers. He is 19 years old and calls himself William Madison, of Boston.

Madison later told the police that his name is August W. McPherson, and that he is a bell boy at a well-known hotel in this city. He said he was heavily in debt and sought to relieve his financial stringency by robbery.

KIDNEY DISEASE IS FATAL

Blood Wine is a Wonderful Protection.

When disease gets into the kidneys it is just as certain to take a person off as leprosy, unless it is checked before it goes too far. If people just knew the danger that lurked in diseases of these delicate organs, they would be as careful of them as they are of their eyes. People who have sound kidneys should understand how to protect and take care of them. "Blood Wine" is a sure cure of Kidney Diseases because it removes the poisons that collect in the blood through the inactivity of the kidneys.

Mr. John T. Foster, of Manchester, N. H., speaks as thousands speak.

"Blood Wine" is truly a most remarkable medicine. In my case it has been little more than a miracle. For some time I suffered with Kidney disease and Rheumatism, of a most painful and advanced type. I tried about everything, without relief, and expected the same result from "Blood Wine," but fortunately for me when I struck "Blood Wine" I struck the Rock of Gibraltar. It stood my severe test and conquered my trouble, and today I am a well man, due wholly to this great medicine. To my mind there is absolutely nothing that will compare with it, and I have no hesitation in advising any one in ill health to give it a thorough test.

Just read this letter from Mr. James B. Mirick, Worcester, Mass.:

"As a tonic and invigorant as well as a specific for all kidney and bladder ills 'Blood Wine' is unequalled. I have used it and do not hesitate to heartily recommend it."

Miss A. Davis, 180 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., says:

"For kidney trouble, I believe there is nothing better than 'Blood Wine.' I have been troubled with difficulties arising from kidney disease for years, and have found nothing to compare with 'Blood Wine.'"

Mr. Dan A. Metzler, 202 S. 8th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., says:

"For some years past I have suffered greatly with my kidneys and rheumatism, which at times almost unfit me for work. I heard of a few cases that 'Blood Wine' had cured and tried it. It cured me entirely. Have not had a sign of my trouble since."

FREE BLOOD TEST.

The only way to tell just what is in your blood—is to have it examined by an expert bacteriologist under a powerful microscope. You can have your blood examined free of charge by sending your name to the Louis Daudet & Co., Worcester, Mass., for full particulars.

REALM OF SPORTS

CHAMPIONSHIP CHANCES

Two Monarchs Dethroned—Those At the Head of the List at Present.

During the year just closing two boxing champions were dethroned. Frank Erne, the leader of the lightweights, lowered his colors to Joe Gans, the colored pugilist and Frank Childs passed the colored heavyweight title to "Denver" Ed. Martin. In all other divisions the titles are held by the same men who possessed them a year ago. The year just closing has been a good one in boxing when compared to the season of 1901. Although the game has had many hard knocks, has been driven out of some states and restricted in others, it has come up smiling, after every round and looks stronger now than could be expected.

Boxing contests were held during the year in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Colorado, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, and in Canada. In Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky, Michigan and Connecticut there has been opposition to boxing, but it has been directed against the champions only. In all of the states named the boxers without titles have been allowed to compete.

The pugilistic champions in the different classes are now as follows:

Heavyweight—James J. Jeffries, Los Angeles, Cal.

Heavyweight (colored)—"Denver" Ed. Martin, Denver.

Light heavyweight—George Gardner, Lowell, Mass.

Middleweight—Tommy Ryan, Chicago.

Welterweight—Joe Walcott, (colored), Boston.

Lightweight—Joe Gans, (colored), Baltimore.

Featherweight—William Bothwell, ("Young" Corbett), Denver.

Bantamweight—Harry Forbes, Chicago.

Five Men Died During the Year As the Result of Boxing Bouts.

Five men met death during the year as the direct result of boxing bouts—two of them in Philadelphia. Thomas Hornkoth (Tommy White) died four days after he was knocked out by Thomas Markey at the Knickerbocker A. C. on March 29. Albert Terrill ("Kid" Albert) collapsed in the Golden Gate A. C. ring while boxing with William Stokes, on September 1, and died four hours later. Frank J. Smith died at Allentown as the result of a bout with Hans Hartman the night previous. James Cassidy (Tom Noonan) died the day after his bout with Eddie Dixon, at Boston, on May 22, while Charles Giddy died at Detroit on August 11 as the result of being knocked out by John Beabein two weeks before.

In addition to three deaths quite a number of other boxers died from other causes. Charley Johnson committed suicide in Philadelphia, on August 21. "Wild Bill" Hanrahan died of pneumonia at Chicago on April 18, while Tommy Hogan, a Pittsburgher, died of typhoid fever at a New York hospital. One-eyed Connolly, well-known in the pugilistic world, died in a Chicago hospital.

MUNROE GETS A JOB

Will Join the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons Combination And Learn the Fistic Art.

According to a special from Butte, Jack Munroe, the young miner who created a furore in the pugilistic world by staying four rounds with Champion Jeffries and incidentally winning $250, has accepted the terms of Clark Ball, Jeffries' manager, and will within a few days join the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons combination, now traveling in that section. The terms are, it is understood, $500 a week and traveling expenses.

It is announced that Munroe will be taught the science of the game, and by the time the company is in the eastern states he will be in a fit condition to pit against Sharkey, McCoy and others of that class.

A RELICIOUS PAPER SCORES FOOTBALL

The Prize Ring Has Nothing Like Its Record of Casualties to Show.

The Presbyterian Banner, of which Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, president of Washington & Jefferson college, is one of the editors, says:

"The foot ball season is over and a careful count has been kept of the dead and wounded. Twelve young men are dead and 28 are more or less seriously wounded as the result of the campaign. The total of casualties compares with that of many a battle. The prize ring has nothing like this to show. If it resulted in several deaths a year, popular indignation would sweep it away. A game that results in such heavy loss of and injury to the flower of our young manhood in course of training for the highest positions in life, calls for reconsideration.

"It is true that it is a game that has many good points and fascinates and stirs the blood of young men and of spectators as no other game does. It is true that it is played at nearly all our colleges and universities under official management, and receives the enthusiastic support of most alumni. Yet the call for reconsideration is growing louder each year. All efforts to eliminate rough play and brutality have not succeeded, as these fatalities show.

"Professionalism is rampant in many colleges and is creeping in under disguised forms into some of the highest universities. It is being widely felt and loudly said that something decisive must be done to banish professionalism and brutality and rough play and an unreasonable degree of danger from the game or it must go. The secular papers are saying this more loudly than the religious papers. College authorities should take hold of this problem. Not one college can well act alone. The colleges might well form a combination or trust for the purpose of dealing with this evil, and should then mend it or end it."

League Not a Success.

The Inter-State basket ball league which started out so promising, is rapidly deteriorating in the minds of the public, and it is a satisfaction to know that the Steubenville team has taken part in only one league game during the season. Most of the teams are far below the average, says the Steubenville Gazette.

MOROCCO SITUATION SERIOUS.

Sultan Said to Have Barricaded Himself at Fez and Missionaries Are Leaving—Spain Sends Cruiser.

Tangier, Morocco, Dec. 30.—The sultan of Morocco is said to have retired to the palace at Fez with all his available artillery and ammunition, and to have strongly barricaded himself, in consequence of a threatened attack on the part of the rebels.

London, Dec. 30.—A dispatch from Tangier, dated Sunday, received in London yesterday, gives notice of the departure of the English women missionaries at Fez and Tetuan for the coast. No mention is made of the departure of the Americans, several of whom were stationed at Fez and Mogue, nor of the departure of the English male missionaries.

Madrid, Dec. 30.—King Alfonso last night discussed the Moroccan crisis with General Weyler, minister of war, and the Duke of Veragua, minister of marine. In addition to the cruiser Infanta Isabelle, which has already gone to Tangier, other vessels are to be held in readiness at Malaga and Algeiras to take reinforcements to Ceuta and Melilla. The government has asked its ambassadors at Paris and London to ascertain the views of the French and British governments concerning the Moroccan situation. It seems to be feared in political circles here that some foreign power will intervene in Morocco. The latest news to reach Madrid confirms the previous reports that Fez has been invested by the rebels.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

London, Dec. 30.—As a result of a fire in a small house in Stepney yesterday a Mrs. Schlessinger and her five young children were burned to death.

London, Dec. 30.—It was said a good authority in Liverpool yesterday that contracts had been made for 200,000 tons of coal for shipment from English, Scotch and Welsh ports to eastern ports of the United States.

Havana, Dec. 30.—United States Minister Squiers has formally begun negotiations in the matter of securing a coaling station on the Isle of Pines. It is understood that the United States asks for one naval and three coaling stations.

Delhi, India, Dec. 30.—The viceroy, Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, made his state entry yesterday into the capital of the Moguls. This constituted the official opening of the durbar, held to celebrate the accession of King Edward as emperor of India.

Manila, Dec. 30.—Moros on the island of Mindanao report that the cholera is depopulating the villages on the east side of Lake Lanao. At Maciu there is an average of 50 deaths a day. The disease also prevails at Bacold. It has appeared on all sides of Lake Lanao, but the Visayan residents of the island do not yet seem to have been attacked.

SOME TRI-STATE HAPPENINGS.

Hinton, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Miss Sylvia Adkins, while attempting to cross New River here, fell out of skiff and was drowned. Her body was found.

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 30.—The operators of the Hat Top coal field will give their miners an advance of 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Jan. 1. Twelve thousand men are affected.

Uricksville, O., Dec. 30.—Walter Bucy, aged 26, of Moorefield, committed suicide here in the back room of a saloon. He came to town last week with $125 and since then has been drinking.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time. "The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

A Lark's Lofly Flight. Some Bavarian officers experimenting with a balloon 6,000 feet aloft noticed a little black speck that seemed to accompany them and which, they thought, was one of the cards they carried for throwing out reports and that the dropping of the balloon drew it along, but on looking at the barometer they found that the balloon was rising and not dropping. Suddenly, however, a loud chirping showed that it was a lark which, flying at this extraordinary height, had been frightened by the balloon.

KIDNEY DISEASE IS FATAL

Blood Wine is a Wonderful Protection.

James B. Mirkel.
When disease gets into the kidneys it is just as certain to take a person off as leprosy, unless it is checked before it goes too far. If people just knew the danger that lurked in diseases of these delicate organs, they would be as careful of them as they are of their eyes. People who have sound kidneys should understand how to protect and take care of them. "Blood Wine" is a sure cure of Kidney Diseases because it removes the poisons that collect in the blood through the inactivity of the kidneys.

Mr. John T. Foster, of Manchester, N. H., speaks as thousands speak.

"Blood Wine" is truly a most remarkable medicine. In my case its work has been little more than a miracle. For some time I suffered with Kidney disease and Rheumatism, of most painful and advanced type. I tried about everything, without relief, and expected the same result from "Blood Wine," but fortunately for me when I struck "Blood Wine" I struck the Rock of Gibraltar. It stood my severe test and conquered my trouble, and today I am a well man, due wholly to this great medicine. To my mind there is absolutely nothing that will compare with it, and I have no hesitation in advising any one in ill health to give it a thorough test.

Just read this letter from Mr. James B. Mirkel, Worcester, Mass.:

"As a tonic and invigorant as well as a specific for all kidney and bladder ills 'Blood Wine' is unexcelled. I have used it and do not hesitate to heartily recommend it."

Miss A. Davis, 186 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., says:

"For kidney trouble, I believe there is nothing better than 'Blood Wine.' I have been troubled with difficulties arising from kidney disease for years, and have found nothing to compare with 'Blood Wine.'"

Mr. Dan A. Metzler, 202 S. 8th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., says:

"For some years past I have suffered greatly with my kidneys and rheumatism, which at times almost under me for work. I heard of a few cases that 'Blood Wine' had cured and tried it. It cured me entirely. Have not had a sign of my trouble since."

FREE BLOOD TEST.

The only way to tell just what is in your blood is to have it examined by an expert bacteriologist under a powerful microscope. You can have your blood examined free of charge by sending your name to the Louis Daudet & Co., Worcester, Mass., for full particulars.

REALM OF SPORTS

CHAMPIONSHIP CHANGES

Two Monarchs Dethroned—Those At the Head of the List at Present.

During the year just closing two boxing champions were dethroned. Frank Erne, the leader of the lightweights, lowered his colors to Joe Gans, the colored pugilist and Frank Childs passed the colored heavyweight title to "Denver" Ed. Martin. In all other divisions the titles are held by the same men who possessed them a year ago. The year just closing has been a good one in boxing when compared to the season of 1901. Although the game has had many hard knocks, has been driven out of some states and restricted in others, it has come up smiling after every round and looks stronger now than could be expected.

Boxing contests were held during the year in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Colorado, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, and in Canada. In Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky, Michigan and Connecticut there has been opposition to boxing, but it has been directed against the champions only. In all of the states named the boxers without titles have been allowed to compete.

The pugilistic champions in the different classes are now as follows:

Heavyweight—James J. Jeffries, Los Angeles, Cal.

Heavyweight (colored)—"Denver" Ed. Martin, Denver.

Light heavyweight—George Gardner, Lowell, Mass.

Middleweight—Tommy Ryan, Chicago.

Welterweight—Joe Walcott, (colored), Boston.

Lightweight—Joe Gans, (colored), Baltimore.

Featherweight—William Bothwell, ("Young" Corbett), Denver.

Bantamweight—Harry Forbes, Chicago.

Youngstown, O., Dec. 30.—The Bessemer plant of the Republic Iron and Steel company will be placed in operation the first of next week. The plant has been closed for the purpose of installing a new billet mill and other machinery.

A Lark's Lofly Flight.
Some Bavarian officers experimenting with a balloon 6,000 feet aloft noticed a little black speck that seemed to accompany them and which, they thought, was one of the cards they carried for throwing out reports and that the dropping of the balloon drew it along, but on looking at the barometer they found that the balloon was rising and not dropping. Suddenly, however, a loud chirping showed that it was a lark which, flying at this extraordinary height, had been frightened by the balloon.

Can't "go" cod liver oil?
Very few people can take the ordinary, nauseating, greasy, fishy kind.

That's just the reason so many physicians specify Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil that contains all the active principles of cod liver oil but none of the grease—no fishy flavor; no odor to disagree with taste or stomach. You get only the active principles of the best Norwegian cod liver oil—the good part that does good; that agrees with the stomach, feeds the blood and strengthens the nerves and body. Builds new tissue and muscle—puts action into organic function and promotes robust, rugged health.

KIDNEY DISEASE IS FATAL

Blood Wine is a Wonderful Protection.

When disease gets into the kidneys it is just as certain to take a person off as leprosy, unless it is checked before it goes too far. If people just knew the danger that lurked in diseases of these delicate organs, they would be as careful of them as they are of their eyes. People who have sound kidneys should understand how to protect and take care of them. "Blood Wine" is a sure cure of Kidney Diseases because it removes the poisons that collect in the blood through the inactivity of the kidneys.

Mr. John T. Foster, of Manchester, N. H., speaks as thousands speak.

"Blood Wine" is truly a most remarkable medicine. In my case its work has been little short of a miracle. For some time I suffered with Kidney disease and Rheumatism, of a most painful and advanced type. I tried about everything, without relief, and expected the same result from "Blood Wine," but fortunately for me when I struck "Blood Wine," I struck the Rock of Gibraltar. It stood my severe test and conquered my trouble, and today I am a well man, due wholly to this great medicine. To my mind there is absolutely nothing that will compare with it, and I have no hesitation in advising any one in ill health to give it a thorough test.

Just read this letter from Mr. James B. Mirick, Worcester, Mass.:

"As a tonic and invigorant as well as a specific for all kidney and bladder ills 'Blood Wine' is unequalled. I have used it and do not hesitate to heartily recommend it."

Miss A. Davis, 180 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., says:

"For kidney trouble, I believe there is nothing better than 'Blood Wine.' I have been troubled with difficulties arising from kidney disease for years, and have found nothing to compare with 'Blood Wine.'"

Mr. Dan A. Metzler, 202 S. 8th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., says:

"For some years past I have suffered greatly with my kidneys and rheumatism, which at times almost made me give up. I heard of a few cases that 'Blood Wine' had cured and tried it. It cured me entirely. Have not had a sign of my trouble since."

FREE BLOOD TEST.

The only way to tell just what is in your blood is to have it examined by an expert bacteriologist under a powerful microscope. You can have your blood examined free of charge by sending your name to the Louis Daudet Co., Worcester, Mass., for full particulars.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

Two Monarchs Dethroned—Those At the Head of the List at Present.

During the year just closing two boxing champions were dethroned. Frank Erne, the leader of the lightweights, lowered his colors to Joe Gans, the colored pugilist and Frank Childs passed the colored heavyweight title to "Denver" Ed. Martin. In all other divisions the titles are held by the same men who possessed them a year ago. The year just closing has been a good one in boxing when compared to the season of 1901. Although the game has had many hard knocks, has been driven out of some states and restricted in others, it has come up smiling after every round and looks stronger now than could be expected.

Boxing contests were held during the year in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Colorado, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, and in Canada. In Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky, Michigan and Connecticut there has been opposition to boxing, but it has been directed against the champions only. In all of the states named the boxers without titles have been allowed to compete.

The pugilistic champions in the different classes are now as follows:

Heavyweight—James J. Jeffries, Los Angeles, Cal.

Heavyweight (colored)—"Denver" Ed. Martin, Denver.

Light heavyweight—George Gardner, Lowell, Mass.

Middleweight—Tommy Ryan, Chicago.

Welterweight—Joe Walcott, (colored), Boston.

Lightweight—Joe Gans, (colored), Baltimore.

Featherweight—William Bothwell, ("Young" Corbett), Denver.

DEATHS IN THE PRIZE RING

Five Men Died During the Year As the Result of Boxing Bout.

Five men met death during the year as the direct result of boxing bouts—two of them in Philadelphia. Thomas Horneth (Tommy White) died four days after he was knocked out by Thomas Markey at the Knickerbocker A. C. on March 29. Albert Terrill ("Kid" Albert) collapsed in the Golden Gate A. C. ring while boxing with William Stokes, on September 1, and died four hours later. Frank J. Smith died at Allentown as the result of a bout with Hans Hartranft the night previous. James Cassidy (Tom Noonan) died the day after his bout with Eddie Dixon, at Boston, on May 22, while Charles Giddy died at Detroit on August 11 as the result of being knocked out by John Beabein two weeks before.

In addition to three deaths quite a number of other boxers died from other causes. Charley Johnson committed suicide in Philadelphia, on August 21. "Wild Bill" Hanrahan died of pneumonia at Chicago on April 18, while Tommy Hogan, a Pittsburgher, died of typhoid fever at a New York hospital. One-eyed Connolly, well-known in the pugilistic world, died in a Chicago hospital.

MUNROE GETS A JOB

Will Join the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons Combination And Learn the Fistic Art.

According to a special from Butte, Jack Munroe, the young miner who created a furore in the pugilistic world by staying four rounds with Champion Jeffries and incidentally winning $250, has accepted the terms of Clark Ball, Jeffries' manager, and will within a few days join the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons combination, now traveling in that section. The terms are, it is understood, $500 a week and traveling expenses.

It is announced that Munroe will be taught the science of the game, and by the time the company is in the eastern states he will be in a fit condition to pit against Sharkey, McCoy and others of that class.

A RELIGIOUS PAPER SCORES FOOTBALL

The Prize Ring Has Nothing Like Its Record of Casualties to Show.

The Presbyterian Banner, of which Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, president of Washington & Jefferson college, is one of the editors, says:

"The foot ball season is over and a careful count has been kept of the dead and wounded. Twelve young men are dead and 88 are more or less seriously wounded as the result of the campaign. The total of casualties compares with that of many a battle. The prize ring has nothing like this to show. If it resulted in several deaths a year, popular indignation would sweep it away. A game that results in such heavy loss of and injury to the flower of our young manhood in course of training for the highest positions in life, calls for reconsideration.

"It is true that it is a game that has many good points and fascinates and stirs the blood of young men and of spectators as no other game does. It is true that it is played at nearly all our colleges and universities under official management, and receives the enthusiastic support of most alumni. Yet the call for reconsideration is growing louder each year. All efforts to eliminate rough play and brutality have not succeeded, as these fatalities show.

"Professionalism is rampant in many colleges and is creeping in under disguised forms into some of the highest universities. It is being widely felt and loudly said that something decisive must be done to banish professionalism and brutality and rough play and an unreasonable degree of danger from the game or it must go. The secular papers are saying this more loudly than the religious papers. College authorities should take hold of this problem. Not one college can well act alone. The colleges might well form a combination or trust for the purpose of dealing with this evil, and should then mend it or end it."

League Not a Success.

The Inter-State basket ball league which started out so promising, is rapidly deteriorating in the minds of the public, and it is a satisfaction to know that the Steubenville team has taken part in only one league game during the season. Most of the teams are far below the average, says the Steubenville Gazette.

MOROCCO SITUATION SERIOUS.

Sultan Said to Have Barricaded Himself at Fez and Missionaries Are Leaving—Spain Sends Cruiser.

Tangier, Morocco, Dec. 30.—The sultan of Morocco is said to have retired to the palace at Fez with all his available artillery and ammunition, and to have strongly barricaded himself, in consequence of a threatened attack on the part of the rebels.

London, Dec. 30.—A dispatch from Tangier, dated Sunday, received in London yesterday, gives notice of the departure of the English women missionaries at Fez and Tetuan for the coast. No mention is made of the departure of the Americans, several of whom were stationed at Fez and Moguinez, nor of the departure of the English male missionaries.

Madrid, Dec. 30.—King Alfonso last night discussed the Moroccan crisis with General Weyler, minister of war, and the Duke of Veragua, minister of marine. In addition to the cruiser Infanta Isabelle, which has already gone to Tangier, other vessels are to be held in readiness at Malaga and Algeiras to take reinforcements to Ceuta and Melilla. The government has asked its ambassadors at Paris and London to ascertain the views of the French and British governments concerning the Moroccan situation. It seems to be feared in political circles here that some foreign power will intervene in Morocco. The latest news to reach Madrid confirms the previous reports that Fez has been invested by the rebels.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

London, Dec. 30.—As a result of a fire in a small house in Stepney yesterday a Mrs. Schlessinger and her five young children were burned to death.

London, Dec. 30.—It was said on good authority in Liverpool yesterday that contracts had been made for 200,000 tons of coal for shipment from English, Scotch and Welsh ports to eastern ports of the United States.

Havana, Dec. 30.—United States Minister Squiers has formally begun negotiations in the matter of securing a coaling station on the Isle of Pines. It is understood that the United States asks for one naval and three coaling stations.

Delhi, India, Dec. 30.—The viceroy, Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, made his state entry yesterday into the capital of the Moguls. This constituted the official opening of the durbar, held to celebrate the accession of King Edward as emperor of India.

Manila, Dec. 30.—Moros on the island of Mindanao report that the cholera is depopulating the villages on the east side of Lake Lanao. At Maciu there is an average of 50 deaths a day. The disease also prevails at Bacolod. It has appeared on all sides of Lake Lanao, but the Visayan residents of the island do not yet seem to have been attacked.

SOME TRI-STATE HAPPENINGS.

Hinton, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Miss Sylvia Adkins, while attempting to cross New river here, fell out of skiff and was drowned. Her body was found.

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 30.—The operators of the Hat Top coal field will give their miners an advance of 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Jan. 1. Twelve thousand men are affected.

Urishville, O., Dec. 30.—Walter Bucy, aged 24, of Moorefield, committed suicide here in the back room of a saloon. He came to town last week with $125 and since then has been drinking.

Sharon, Pa., Dec. 30.—James A.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time. "The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

West, while adjusting a bolt at the Sharon steel works, was run over by an electric crane, death resulting instantly. He was 21 years old and lived in Cleveland.

Coshocton, O., Dec. 30.—Andrew Carnegie has offered Coshocton $15,000 for a library if the city will donate a site and provide $1,500 for its annual maintenance. A special meeting of the council will be called to accept the proposition.

Youngstown, O., Dec. 30.—The Bessemer plant of the Republic Iron and Steel company will be placed in operation the first of next week. The plant has been closed for the purpose of installing a new billet mill and other machinery.

Diseases Caused by Measles.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Tonic and Nervine Cured After Thirty-one Years.

"I was a perfectly healthy young man up to February 1865. When my regiment was in Camp Randall I was taken sick with the measles and I did not enjoy good health up to the time I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic in 1896. Doctors have told me it came from inactivity of the liver. I cannot say how many physicians did treat me but have had all kinds. Dieting has never helped me. Biliousness, attacks of headache, rheumatism, nasal catarrh, hay fever, asthma, and chronic diarrhoea have all taken their turn with me. Thanks to the Nervine and Tonic I am completely restored to health. I have also used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with good results and I think that the Dr. Miles Remedies are perfect."—Rev. Hiram Bender, Sparta, Wis.

"I want to say a few good words for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have been troubled very much with insomnia since I made the change to the new paper and on account of this have tried various remedies without relief. I was finally induced by a wholesale druggist, a personal friend of mine, to try Nervine. I can assure you it has done me a lot of good. I do not find it necessary to use it regularly now but occasionally when I find that I am excessively nervous and restless I again take it up as I always keep a supply on hand. It has never failed to give me the desired relief."—A. Hueglin, Publisher "Daily Free-Press" Milwaukee, Wis.

Suffocated by Escaping Gas.

Shamokin, Pa., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Geo. H. Hoffman was suffocated Sunday night at her home in Herndon, owing to escaping coal gas from a stove. Her husband is in a critical condition from the same cause. The couple were found unconscious in bed by one of their children, who had been awakened by scenting the gas. Mrs. Hoffman could not be resuscitated.

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER.

My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called "Lane's Tea" or Baggage Cars Frequently Receive the Roughest Treatment in a Wreck. An Old Railroaders' Advice to Those Who Travel.

"Which car is the safest one to occupy in a railroad wreck?" is a question that has received much consideration at the hands of travelers.

The recent railroad wreck on the Grand Trunk in Canada, in which 20 or 30 persons were killed, has caused a revival of the discussion, especially in this vicinity where railroad wrecks have occurred with alarming frequency during the last year.

Railroad men are not among those who discuss this question seriously. This problem to all intents and purposes was solved by them long ago. When a railroad superintendent hears the mere report of a wreck, he can tell, if he knows the makeup of the train and whether it was a head-on or rear-end collision, which of the cars received the brunt of the shock.

Railroad wrecks in Ohio are usually of the rear-end collision or head-on collision variety, and in no case in the last decade have the casualties been heavy. Another kind of wreck is caused by the spreading of rails. There have been three or four of these near Cleveland within the last two years.

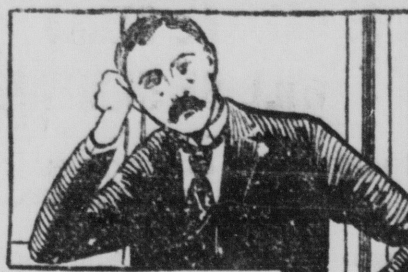

"As a general principle it is safe to stick to the Pullman cars," is the advice of an old railroadman, "and if there are no Pullmans on the train, size up the cars and try to occupy the heaviest of them. Whatever you do, keep out of the smoker."

There are good and sufficient reasons for this advice. The smoker on a train, to begin with, is the lightest of all the cars, as a rule, and is generally at the forward end of the train. If the baggage car happens to be heavily loaded the smoker is pinched between two heavy sections, and offering the least resistance, is reduced to kindling wood.

The car that receives the roughest treatment in a wreck, however, is the mail or baggage car. Unless this car is extraordinarily heavy it is bound to suffer. In every wreck that has taken place near this city during the last two years the baggage car has borne the brunt of the shock and has been the most dangerous car in the train. In the recent Erie wreck at Union street Cleveland, great holes were punched through the bottom of the car, it was dived of its trucks, and was so badly shattered that the trunks and boxes inside were scattered around the wreck. The other cars were not damaged much with the exception of some badly smashed window lights.

In a wreck on the Big Four near Oberlin a few years ago, an accident due to the spreading of the rails, the passenger coaches crashed into the baggage car, leaving only the front end of the car intact. The other cars on this train were practically uninjured and the passengers continued their journey without delay.

Another wreck on the Big Four near the Willet street bridge, where a wash out caused the engine to go over an embankment, the engine and two baggage cars left the road-bed and found

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physical cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richmond Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place, was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets'. After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more of and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

a temporary resting place at the bottom of a ditch 15 feet below. The smoker remained partially on the top of the embankment. None of the passengers in the coaches behind were seriously injured.

Accidents that have occurred where all the casualties were in the smoker other passengers escaping unharmed, have demonstrated the truth of some of the foregoing statements. So evident is it that a weak car between two heavy ones will be the one to be smashed in a wreck that there is a state law preventing railroad companies from placing baggage cars at the rear of a train.

An interesting fact in this connection is that rear-end collisions have taken place where the rear car in the first train, the one to receive the impact of the blow, was scarcely damaged, while towards the front of the train the smoker was smashed to pieces.

Lieutenant Dovalle, of the United States hydrographic office, has been an interested observer of results in this respect for years past.

"So apparent is it that the light car not only receive the full force of the collision, but are the means of saving the other cars in the train from being wrecked," said he, "that it has been advocated in some states that the railroad companies be compelled to have an empty car on each train which would be sacrificed in case of a wreck. This car would act as a buffer for the others, in case of a collision."

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Speculative Sentiment Shows Sensitiveness to Development in Call Money—Bonds Irregular.

New York, Dec. 30.—Speculative sentiment yesterday showed greater sensitiveness to the developments in the call money market, than was the case last week, when a 15 per cent rate was practically ignored. Yesterday, when money opened at 10 per cent, with an advancing tendency, prices broke sharply all around. The rate touched 12 per cent in the morning and then relaxed, followed by a rally in the stock market, but when money rose again to 15 per cent prices of stocks promptly yielded.

The altered sentiment toward the money market is believed to be due to the strict attitude assumed by the banks and to the calling in of loans. The largest selling of yesterday was attributed to the pools, which were credited with causing last week's advance in prices and which are believed to have received renewed warning against expansion of credits for speculative purposes at present.

The foreign exchange problem is still unsettled, with the possibility that foreign requirements will draw large amounts of gold from our market upon any relaxation in money rates.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,050,000.

United States 2s, the new 4s, coupon, and the old 4s advanced 1/4 per cent on the last call.

Overcrowding Breeds Consumption.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Overcrowding of the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville is breeding consumption fast among the 370 convicts who have to double up in the 500 small, ill-ventilated cells. The death Sunday night of Cornelius Johnson, of McDowell county, a short term prisoner, has precipitated the startling disclosure that the disease is due for more victims unless better accommodations are provided. Warden Haddock says he will appeal to the legislature, which convenes next month. The contract to board the federal prisoners from the District of Columbia is responsible for the overcrowding. The deaths this year average nearly one a week.

STRONG OPPOSITION.

Sentiment Against Ratifying Cuban Reciprocity Treaty Is Growing More Pronounced.

FEAR OTHERS WOULD ASK SAME

President Sees in the Proposed Ratification No Possible Assault on the Tariff System of This Country and Wants Prompt Action.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Considerable opposition is developing to the ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty now pending in the senate. It is not taking quite the form that the opposition to the Cuban legislation took last spring, but it is sufficient in substance to give concern to the friends of the treaty.

From time to time, as opportunity offers, the president is discussing the matter with senators, particularly those who are known to have objected to the enactment of legislation extending tariff concessions to the Cuban republic. Several weeks ago it appeared that the treaty, when presented to the senate, would be ratified without difficulty, but some senators now are taking as strong ground against the treaty as they took against the legislation proposed at the last session of congress. These senators are of two classes, those who are opposed on principle to any "tariff tinkering" and those who represent states whose products may be affected by the concessions extended to Cuba by the pending treaty.

Fear Others Would Ask Concessions.

Senators of the first class might be induced to support the treaty, inasmuch as it does not involve, in their view, an attack on the system of protection, were it not for their apprehension that the ratification of the Cuban treaty may lead to a demand from other countries that they, too, be accorded special tariff concessions by the United States. It has been indicated to the president that in the event of the ratification of the Cuban treaty a demand may be expected from Germany within 30 days for concessions similar to those accorded Cuba. The most distinct desire of the German emperor, it is pointed out, is for the extension of the foreign commerce of his empire. He, of course, regards Cuba as a nation foreign to the United States, and, so far as that point is concerned, on all fours with Germany. If tariff concessions are granted to Cuba, Germany, under the most favored nation clause, will request that she be given similar concessions. The request may take the form almost of a demand. If it be not granted the fear is expressed that Germany may initiate legislation that will be inimical to the industrial development of this country, so far as Germany is concerned, even if it should not curtail American commerce already established in Germany and its possessions.

The same argument is applied to other countries, Germany being used simply as an example of what may be expected of all of the great foreign nations with which the United States has extensive commercial relations.

No Captious Opposition.

Yesterday the president had an hour's conference with Senator Scott, of West Virginia, during which they discussed the reciprocity question in all its phases. Senator Scott is offering no captious opposition to the Cuban treaty, but he is particularly desirous that nothing should be done that in the end might result in any recession on the part of the United States from its present tariff policy.

The president, it is understood, believes that the pending treaty with Cuba will be ratified. He desires that it should be ratified as promptly as possible and with as little friction as may be. He sees in the proposed ratification no possible assault on the tariff system of this country, and believes that it would be simply the redemption of a promise, direct or implied, made to the Cuban people when they were in the throes of the organization of their government. In this view the president is supported by a large majority of the Republican senators. While some trouble is anticipated in effecting the ratification of the treaty, it is believed generally that ratification will not be delayed seriously.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Tonic and Nervine Cured After Thirty-one Years.

"I was a perfectly healthy young man up to February 1865. When my regiment was in Camp Randall I was taken sick with the measles and I did not enjoy good health up to the time I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic in 1896. Doctors have told me it came from inactivity of the liver. I cannot say how many physicians did treat me but have had all kinds. Dieting has never helped me. Biliousness, attacks of headache, rheumatism, nasal catarrh, hay fever, asthma, and chronic diarrhoea; have all taken their turn with me. Thanks to the Nervine and Tonic I am completely restored to health. I have also used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with good results and I think that the Dr. Miles Remedies are perfect."—Rev. Hiram Bender, Sparta, Wis.

"I want to say a few good words for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have been troubled very much with insomnia since I made the change to the new paper and on account of this have tried various remedies without relief. I was finally induced by a wholesale druggist, a personal friend of mine, to try Nervine. I can assure you it has done me a lot of good. I do not find it necessary to use it regularly now but occasionally when I find that I am excessively nervous and restless I again take it up as I always keep a supply on hand. It has never failed to give me the desired relief."—A. Huegin, Publisher "Daily Free-Press" Milwaukee, Wis.

Diseases Caused by Measles.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Tonic and

Nervine Cured After Thirty-one Years.

"I was a perfectly healthy young man up to February 1865. When my regiment was in Camp Randall I was taken sick with the measles and I did not enjoy good health up to the time I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic in 1896. Doctors have told me it came from inactivity of the liver. I cannot say how many physicians did treat me but have had all kinds. Dieting has never helped me. Biliousness, attacks of headache, rheumatism, nasal catarrh, hay fever, asthma, and chronic diarrhoea have all taken their turn with me. Thanks to the Nervine and Tonic I am completely restored to health. I have also used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with good results and I think that the Dr. Miles' Remedies are perfect."—Rev. Hiram Bender, Sparta, Wis.

"I want to say a few good words for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have been troubled very much with insomnia since I made the change to the new paper and on account of this have tried various remedies without relief. I was finally induced by a wholesale druggist, a personal friend of mine, to try Nervine. I can assure you it has done me a lot of good. I do not find it necessary to use it regularly now but occasionally when I find that I am excessively nervous and restless I again take it up as I always keep a supply on hand. It has never failed to give me the desired relief."—A. Hueglin, Publisher "Daily Free-Press" Milwaukee, Wis.

HEAVIEST CARS ARE THE SAFEST

Lighter Coaches in a Train Generally Bear the Brunt of a Collision.

SMOKERS ARE DANGEROUS

Baggage Cars Frequently Receive the Roughest Treatment in a Wreck. An Old Railroader's Advice to Those Who Travel.

"Which car is the safest one to occupy in a railroad wreck?" is a question that has received much consideration at the hands of travelers.

The recent railroad wreck on the Grand Trunk in Canada, in which 20 or 30 persons were killed, has caused a revival of the discussion, especially in this vicinity where railroad wrecks have occurred with alarming frequency during the last year.

Railroad men are not among those who discuss this question seriously. This problem to all intents and purposes was solved by them long ago. When a railroad superintendent hears the mere report of a wreck, he can tell, if he knows the makeup of the train and whether it was a head-on or rear-end collision, which of the cars received the brunt of the shock.

Railroad wrecks in Ohio are usually of the rear-end collision or head-on collision variety, and in no case in the last decade have the casualties been heavy. Another kind of wreck is caused by the spreading of rails. There have been three or four of these near Cleveland within the last two years.

"As a general principle it is safe to stick to the Pullman cars," is the advice of an old railroader, "and if there are no Pullmans on the train, size up the cars and try to occupy the heaviest of them. Whatever you do, keep out of the smoker."

There are good and sufficient reasons for this advice. The smoker on a train, to begin with, is the lightest of all the cars, as a rule, and is generally at the forward end of the train. If the baggage car happens to be heavily loaded the smoker is placed between two heavy sections, and offering the least resistance, is reduced to kindling wood.

The car that receives the roughest treatment in a wreck, however, is the mail or baggage car. Unless this car is extraordinarily heavy it is bound to suffer. In every wreck that has taken place near this city during the last two years the baggage car has borne the brunt of the shock and has been the most dangerous car in the train. In the recent Erie wreck at Union street, Cleveland, great holes were punched through the bottom of the car, it was dented of its trucks, and was so badly shattered that the trunks and boxes inside were scattered around the wreck. The other cars were not damaged much with the exception of some badly smashed window lights.

In a wreck on the Big Four near Oberlin a few years ago, an accident due to the spreading of the rails, the passenger coaches crashed into the baggage car, leaving only the front end of the car intact. The other cars on this train were practically uninjured and the passengers continued their journey without delay.

Another wreck on the Big Four near the Willet street bridge, where a wash out caused the engine to go over an embankment, the engine and two baggage cars left the road-bed and four Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physical cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place, was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

a temporary resting place at the bottom of a ditch 15 feet below. The smoker remained partially on the top of the embankment. None of the passengers in the coaches behind were seriously injured.

Accidents that have occurred where all the casualties were in the smoker, other passengers escaping unharmed, have demonstrated the truth of some of the foregoing statements. So evident is it that a weak car between two heavy ones will be the one to be smashed in a wreck that there is a state law preventing railroad companies from placing baggage cars at the rear of a train.

An interesting fact in this connection is that rear-end collisions have taken place where the rear car in the first train, the one to receive the impact of the blow, was scarcely damaged, while towards the front of the train the smoker was smashed to pieces.

Lieutenant Dovalle, of the United States hydrographic office, has been an interested observer of results in this respect for years past.

"So apparent is it that the light car not only receive the full force of the collision, but are the means of saving the other cars in the train from being wrecked," said he, "that it has been advocated in some states that the railroad companies be compelled to have an empty car on each train which would be sacrificed in case of a wreck. This car would act as a buffer for the others, in case of a collision."

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Speculative Sentiment Shows Sensitiveness to Development in Call Money—Bonds Irregular.

New York, Dec. 30.—Speculative sentiment yesterday showed greater sensitiveness to the developments in the call money market than was the case last week, when a 15 per cent rate was practically ignored. Yesterday, when money opened at 10 per cent, with an advancing tendency, prices broke sharply all around. The rate touched 12 per cent in the morning and then relaxed, followed by a rally in the stock market, but when money rose again to 15 per cent prices of stocks promptly yielded.

The altered sentiment toward the money market is believed to be due to the strict attitude assumed by the banks and to the calling in of loans. The largest selling of yesterday was attributed to the pools, which were credited with causing last week's advance in prices and which are believed to have received renewed warning against expansion of credits for speculative purposes at present.

The foreign exchange problem is still unsettled, with the possibility that foreign requirements will draw large amounts of gold from our market upon any relaxation in money rates.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,050,000.

United States 2s, the new 4s, coupon, and the old 4s advanced 1/4 per cent on the last call.

Overcrowding Breeds Consumption.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Overcrowding of the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville is breeding consumption fast among the 970 convicts who have to double up in the 500 small, ill-ventilated cells. The death Sunday night of Cornelius Johnson, of McDowell county, a short term prisoner, has precipitated the startling disclosure that the disease is due for more victims unless better accommodations are provided. Warden Haddox says he will appeal to the legislature, which convenes next month. The contract to board the federal prisoners from the District of Columbia is responsible for the overcrowding. The deaths this year average nearly one a week.

STRONG OPPOSITION.

Sentiment Against Ratifying Cuban Reciprocity Treaty Is Growing More Pronounced.

President Sees in the Proposed Ratification No Possible Assault on the Tariff System of This Country and Wants Prompt Action.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Considerable opposition is developing to the ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty now pending in the senate. It is not taking quite the form that the opposition to the Cuban legislation took last spring, but it is sufficient in substance to give concern to the friends of the treaty.

From time to time, as opportunity offers, the president is discussing the matter with senators, particularly those who are known to have objected to the enactment of legislation extending tariff concessions to the Cuban republic. Several weeks ago it appeared that the treaty, when presented to the senate, would be ratified without difficulty, but some senators now are taking as strong ground against the treaty as they took against the legislation proposed at the last session of congress. These senators are of two classes, those who are opposed on principle to any "tariff tinkering" and those who represent states whose products may be affected by the concessions extended to Cuba by the pending treaty.

Fear Others Would Ask Concessions.

Senators of the first class might be induced to support the treaty, inasmuch as it does not involve, in their view, an attack on the system of protection, were it not for their apprehension that the ratification of the Cuban treaty may lead to a demand from other countries that they, too, be accorded special tariff concessions by the United States. It has been indicated to the president that in the event of the ratification of the Cuban treaty a demand may be expected from Germany within 30 days for concessions similar to those accorded Cuba. The most distinct desire of the German emperor, it is pointed out, is for the extension of the foreign commerce of his empire. He, of course, regards Cuba as a nation foreign to the United States, and, so far as that point is concerned, on all fours with Germany. If tariff concessions are granted to Cuba, Germany, under the most favored nation clause, will request that she be given similar concessions. The request may take the form almost of a demand. If it be not granted the fear is expressed that Germany may initiate legislation that will be inimical to the industrial development of this country, so far as Germany is concerned, even if it should not curtail American commerce already established in Germany and its possessions.

The same argument is applied to other countries, Germany being used simply as an example of what may be expected of all of the great foreign nations with which the United States has extensive commercial relations.

No Captious Opposition.

Yesterday the president had an hour's conference with Senator Scott, of West Virginia, during which they discussed the reciprocity question in all its phases. Senator Scott is offering no captious opposition to the Cuban treaty, but he is particularly desirous that nothing should be done that in the end might result in any recession on the part of the United States from its present tariff policy.

The president, it is understood, believes that the pending treaty with Cuba will be ratified. He desires that it should be ratified as promptly as possible and with as little friction as may be. He sees in the proposed ratification no possible assault on the tariff system of this country, and believes that it would be simply the redemption of a promise, direct or implied, made to the Cuban people when they were in the throes of the organization of their government. In this view the president is supported by a large majority of the Republican senators. While some trouble is anticipated in effecting the ratification of the treaty, it is believed generally that ratification will not be delayed seriously.

Gentlemen.—A couple of years ago, while experimenting through the South, I found that by spending a part of my time in marshy neighborhoods filled with miasma, my entire system was being slowly poisoned. I had chills and fever, ached all over, lost appetite and sleep. The doctor told me that I had malaria, and quinine was prescribed. I took it for two weeks and as I kept getting worse, decided to change treatment. I spoke to a friend about my condition. He said that he had some of that he wished I would try. I used it for three days and felt better, and sent for six bottles and used them while in camp. It acted like magic in driving the poison out of my system, cleansed my blood, restored my appetite, and I am now in perfect health. I keep it on hand and find that an occasional dose keeps me well.

Very truly yours,

CARVIN-BURGESS

Couple Well Known in This City Married in Pittsburgh Yesterday.

Miss Annie Garvin and Gus Burgess were married yesterday at Pittsburgh at the home of a relative of the bride. The young couple left here on Christmas day, Miss Gavern to visit relatives and Mr. Burgess to spend his holiday vacation with friends. Only their immediate friends suspected the true motive of the trip. They will return to this city to receive the congratulation of their many friends and will go to housekeeping in the near future.

The bride is an attractive and popular young lady who has lived here for several years. The groom is a son of Sanitary Policeman Burgess and is employed at the Murphy pottery as a jiggerman.

ENJOYABLE EVENING

Spent By a Number of Young People at the Home of William Brunt.

An evening of pleasure was spent when quite a large number of young people accepted the hospitality of Misses Alice and May Way, at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brunt, Broadway and Kossuth streets. The evening was spent in dancing, and McGraw's orchestra furnished excellent music throughout the period. Other features of amusement which afforded much pleasure to the crowd were fortune telling and ping pong.

Late in the evening a light luncheon was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Edna Green, of Cleveland, and Helen and Elsie Sebring, of Sebring.

A Ping Pong Party.

Messrs. Carl and Earl Cripps will entertain about 10 of their boy friends at their home on Jackson street tomorrow evening. The evening will be one of great pleasure, for the young people will indulge in the popular game of ping pong.

THE CAPITAL STOCK WILL BE INCREASED

COOPERATIVE STORE TO HAVE A CAPITAL OF $10,000.

Decision is Reached At a Business Meeting of the Stockholders Last Night.

The stockholders of the new cooperative store held a meeting at the Brotherhood hall last evening, and a temporary organization was effected, by the election of the following officers: President—U. G. King; secretary—Fred Pennington; treasurer—Samuel Steele; directors—Richard Herbert, G. M. B. Beatty, and Jacob Herman.

As soon as the meeting had adjourned the newly elected officers made out and forwarded to Columbus an application for a charter.

There was a good attendance at the meeting and it was decided to increase the capital stock from $5,000 to $10,000.

A committee was appointed whose duty it will be to draft a constitution and by laws. A week was allowed to the committee in which to complete its work. Notification will be sent to all subscribers on the first of January, to the effect that their subscription will be due and payable on or before February 1, and one of the banks will be designated as depositor and will issue the stock certificates.

The examining committee is meeting this afternoon in Brotherhood hall, and the members are empowered to receive subscriptions.

A LISBON CLUB IS LIKELY TO BE SUED

Young Men's Lyceum Has Trouble With an Orchestra Company Over Canceled Engagement.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—The Young Men's lyceum, a social club in this city, will probably be defendant in a suit brought by the management of the Salisbury orchestra, of Chicago, which had been booked to give an entertainment her last evening, but whose contract was canceled a few weeks ago. Some time in October the lyceum boys engaged the orchestra, signing a contract by which the Salisbury people were to play for the annual dance to have been held here last night.

The manager of the orchestra was informed later that the event would have to be postponed on account of the smallpox scare, and that the services of the orchestra would not be required. With the disappearance of smallpox the club fixed on New Year's night as the date for holding the dance, and engaged the Mahoning orchestra, of Youngstown. The Salisbury orchestra refused to be canceled, however, unless the entire town was under quarantine, and arrived here yesterday afternoon. The lyceum refused to deal with the company, and an offer by the latter to give an entertainment in the opera house for $50 was refused. The price stipulated in the contract was $90 and expenses, which would have amounted to $150.

The manager of the orchestra was in consultation with attorneys yesterday afternoon.

It was reported that negotiations were on for a settlement, the terms being that the club should pay a part of the original contract price.

LEAD PIPE STOLEN FROM NEW HOUSE

Twenty Dollars Worth of Material Removed in the Night By Thieves.

J. W. Jones, the plumber, reported to the police this morning the theft of about $20 worth of lead pipe from a new house on which he was working.

Mr. Jones is piping the house of Thomas Steele on Pine street and has had considerable trouble protecting his tools and other materials from thieves. Last night everything in sight was either taken away or destroyed. The entire loss to Mr. Jones will amount to over $20. Fourteen feet of good lead pipe was stolen outright and the remainder destroyed.

THE COLD WEATHER CHECKED THE RISE

Sudden Freeze Dispelled Prospects of a Coal Boat Stage of Water.

The weather conditions yesterday were favorable for another coal boat stage of water until the freeze of last night spoiled the prospect. In spite of the rain and snow that reached the river yesterday it is only stationary here today. A rise of several feet is expected at Pittsburgh today and if it materializes it will bring out the ice from the Allegheny and some damage may result to river craft. Packets and tugs are the only boats moving around Pittsburgh.

The Queen City was the Cincinnati boat up today, she arriving at 1 p. m. with only a fair trip. The trade has not yet recovered from the holiday depression and business with all the packets is somewhat light.

The Kanawha is due down at 8 o'clock tonight from Pittsburgh for points on the Kanawha river.

The funeral of Captain W. W. O'Neil occurred yesterday morning from his home in Elizabeth, Pa. There were hundreds of well known rivermen and coal operators at the funeral. The interment was made in the Versailles cemetery. The Pittsburgh Coal Exchange, National Board of Steam Navigation, Marine National bank, Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company and other institutions with which Captain O'Neil had been identified, sent beautiful floral tributes.

Captain Ira B. Huntington, traveling passenger and freight agent for the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet Line, spent the day in this city. In the few weeks he has served in his present capacity he has added greatly to the line of boats he represents.

An evening of pleasure was spent when quite a large number of young people accepted the hospitality of Misses Alice and May Way, at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brunt, Broadway and Kossuth streets. The evening was spent in dancing, and McGraw's orchestra furnished excellent music throughout the period. Other features of amusement which afforded much pleasure to the crowd were fortune telling and ping pong.

Late in the evening a light luncheon was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Edna Green, of Cleveland, and Helen and Elsie Sebring, of Sebring.

A Ping Pong Party.

Messrs. Carl and Earl Cripps will entertain about 10 of their boy friends at their home on Jackson street tomorrow evening. The evening will be one of great pleasure, for the young people will indulge in the popular game of ping pong.

CARVIN-BURGESS

Couple Well Known in This City Married in Pittsburgh Yesterday.
Miss Annie Garvin and Gus Burgess were married yesterday at Pittsburgh at the home of a relative of the bride. The young couple left here on Christmas day. Miss Gavern to visit relatives and Mr. Burgess to spend his holiday vacation with friends. Only their immediate friends suspected the true motive of the trip. They will return to this city to receive the congratulation of their many friends and will go to housekeeping in the near future.

The bride is an attractive and popular young lady who has lived here for several years. The groom is a son of Sanitary Policeman Burgess and is employed at the Murphy pottery as a jiggerman.

ENJOYABLE EVENING

Spent By a Number of Young People at the Home of William Brunt.

An evening of pleasure was spent when quite a large number of young people accepted the hospitality of Misses Alice and May Way, at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brunt, Broadway and Kossuth streets. The evening was spent in dancing, and McGraw's orchestra furnished excellent music throughout the period. Other features of amusement which afforded much pleasure to the crowd were fortune telling and ping pong.

Late in the evening a light luncheon was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Edna Green, of Cleveland, and Helen and Elsie Sebring, of Sebring.

A Ping Pong Party.

Messrs. Carl and Earl Cripps will entertain about 10 of their boy friends at their home on Jackson street tomorrow evening. The evening will be one of great pleasure, for the young people will indulge in the popular game of ping pong.

RAISED A DISTURBANCE

Lisbon Man Arrested For Drunkenness And Resisting An Officer.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special)—Eben McClain was arrested for drunkenness yesterday, and will have to answer to Mayor Ferrall today for malicious destruction of property and resisting an officer. McClain was in the bar room of the Hasbrook hotel and was ordered out by the proprietor. He became angry and threw a brick in the door.

Information was made against McClain, and he was arrested. McClain resister Officer John Costello, and was severely clubbed before he became submissive.

MASONIC HALL

Third Floor of Golding Building Leased For the Use of Lodge.

The Masonic lodges in this city have leased the entire third floor of the M. E. Golding building, Fifth and Washington streets, the deal being closed today. Possession will be given on the first day of January, when the work of remodeling the floor will be made to accommodate the entire Masonic body and the new room will be one of the finest in this section. Peabody lodge No. 19 now occupies the rear part of the third floor and it will be displaced. It is not been known where it will find a location.

THE CAPITAL STOCK WILL BE INCREASED

COOPERATIVE STORE TO HAVE A CAPITAL OF $10,000.

Decision is Reached At a Business Meeting of the Stockholders Last Night.

The stockholders of the new cooperative store held a meeting at the Brotherhood hall last evening, and a temporary organization was effected, by the election of the following officers: President—U. G. King; secretary—Fred Pennington; treasurer—Samuel Steele; directors—Richard Herbert, G. M. B. Beatty, and Jacob Herman.

As soon as the meeting had adjourned the newly elected officers made out and forwarded to Columbus an application for a charter.

There was a good attendance at the meeting and it was decided to increase the capital stock from $5,000 to $10,000.

A committee was appointed whose duty it will be to draft a constitution and by laws. A week was allowed to the committee in which to complete its work. Notification will be sent to all subscribers on the first of January, to the effect that their subscription will be due and payable on or before February 1, and one of the banks will be designated as depositor and will issue the stock certificates.

The examining committee is meeting this afternoon in Brotherhood hall, and the members are empowered to receive subscriptions.

Young Men's Lyceum Has Trouble With an Orchestra Company Over Canceled Engagement.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special)—The Young Men's lyceum, a social club in this city, will probably be defendant in a suit brought by the management of the Salisbury orchestra, of Chicago, which had been booked to give an entertainment her last evening, but whose contract was canceled a few weeks ago. Some time in October the lyceum boys engaged the orchestra, signing a contract by which the Salisbury people were to play for the annual dance to have been held here last night.

The manager of the orchestra was informed later that the event would have to be postponed on account of the smallpox scare, and that the services of the orchestra would not be required. With the disappearance of smallpox the club fixed on New Year's night as the date for holding the dance, and engaged the Mahoning orchestra, of Youngstown. The Salisbury orchestra refused to be canceled, however, unless the entire town was under quarantine, and arrived here yesterday afternoon. The lyceum refused to deal with the company, and an offer by the latter to give an entertainment in the opera house for $50 was refused. The price stipulated in the contract was $300 and expenses, which would have amounted to $150.

The manager of the orchestra was in consultation with attorneys yesterday afternoon.

It was reported that negotiations were on for a settlement, the terms being that the club should pay a part of the original contract price.

LEAD PIPE STOLEN FROM NEW HOUSE

Twenty Dollars Worth of Material Removed in the Night By Thieves.

J. W. Jones, the plumber, reported to the police this morning the theft of about $20 worth of lead pipe from a new house on which he was working.

Mr. Jones is piping the house of Thomas Steele on Pine street and has had considerable trouble protecting his tools and other materials from thieves. Last night everything in sight was either taken away or destroyed. The entire loss to Mr. Jones will amount to over $20. Fourteen feet of good lead pipe was stolen outright and the remainder destroyed.

THE COLD WEATHER CHECKED THE RISE

Sudden Freeze Dispelled Prospects of a Coal Boat Stage of Water.

The weather conditions yesterday were favorable for another coal boat stage of water until the freeze of last night spoiled the prospect. In spite of the rain and snow that reached the river yesterday it is only stationary here today. A rise of several feet is expected at Pittsburgh today and if it materializes it will bring out the ice from the Allegheny and some damage may result to river craft. Packets and tugs are the only boats moving around Pittsburgh.

The Queen City was the Cincinnati boat up today, she arriving at 1 p. m. with only a fair trip. The trade has not yet recovered from the holiday depression and business with all the packets is somewhat light.

The Kanawha is due down at 8 o'clock tonight from Pittsburgh for points on the Kanawha river.

The funeral of Captain W. W. O'Neil occurred yesterday morning from his home in Elizabeth, Pa. There were hundreds of well known rivermen and coal operators at the funeral. The interment was made in the Versailles cemetery. The Pittsburgh Coal Exchange, National Board of Steam Navigation, Marine National bank, Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company and other institutions with which Captain O'Neil had been identified, sent beautiful floral tributes.

Captain Ira B. Huntington, traveling passenger and freight agent for the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet Line, spent the day in this city. In the few weeks he has served in his present capacity he has added greatly to the line of boats he represents.

G. W. MEREDITH ARRESTED HELD UNDER $5,000 BOND

Wholesale Liquor Dealer Charged by the Revenue Officers With Serious Offences.

MUST APPEAR BEFORE THE U. S. GRAND JURY

A dispatch from Cleveland states that investigation in that city has resulted in the discovery in the United States district attorney's office that part of the wholesale liquor establishment of G. W. Meredith, of East Liverpool, has been seized by Collector of Internal Revenue McCord, by authority of the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington.

The Cleveland dispatch says further: "A revenue agent located at Cincinnati has been quietly investigating the case at East Liverpool, and the facts were laid before McCord, who in turn reported the affair officially to the United States Attorney John J. Sullivan. A warrant, which was sworn to by T. E. Peckinpaugh, McCord's first deputy, was issued for Meredith's arrest.

"The affidavit charged Meredith with unlawfully making false entries

and failing to make entries and with rectifying spirits without giving notice to the collector and without the intervention of a gauger. He was also charged with changing the inspection marks, using his goods with fraudulent brands, shipping them under false trade names and failing to destroy the marks and stamps on empty spirit packages.

"As soon as the affidavit was sworn to, Sullivan notified Meredith to come to Cleveland. He did so Saturday and was formally placed under arrest. He was accompanied by a number of influential citizens of East Liverpool, including Judge Billingsley, of Billingsley & Taylor, who acted as his attorneys.

"A hearing was had Saturday afternoon before United States Commissioner John Simpson. Meredith pleaded not guilty and he was bound over to the United States grand jury on $5,000 bail."

U. J. SMITH COMES WITH NEW PROMISES

Is Now Very Anxious to Build a Trolley Line From Salem to This City.

OFFER TO POST FORFEIT

Of $50,000 That He Will Carry Out the Project—Started Today to Drive Over the Line of the Surveyed Road.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—U. J. Smith, of Cleveland, the electric railway promoter who secured franchises along the public highway for a line from Salem to East Liverpool a few years ago, was in Lisbon today and started early this morning to drive over the old route. He was accompanied by T. A. Wright and son, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Mr. Smith says he will build the line which was projected when the franchises were secured, and signified his willingness to post a $50,000 forfeit that his project will be carried out.

With J. C. Kernahan, son of Landlord J. J. Kernahan, of the Hostetter House, Mr. Smith has been developing lead mines at Piton, Mo. The property abounds in rich deposits of lead and zinc ore, some of which shows an assay of 80 per cent. A mine on contiguous territory produces a supply from which $500 worth is sold daily. Landlord Kernahan is about to dispose of his interests here preparatory to moving to the field of operations in Missouri.

MEEK AS A LAMB IN THE MORNING

John McCord Terrorized Smoky Row And Now Wonders Where His $52 Is.

John McCord, from Rochester, Pa., terrorized Smoky Row last evening, but was as meek as a lamb this morning when arraigned before the mayor. He was sorry he had been a bad actor and pleaded guilty to the charges of drunk and disorderly and carrying concealed weapons. He was assessed $2 and costs for the former and $5 and costs for the latter offense, and he is to stand committed until the fine and costs are paid. McCord is wondering what has become of the $52 he came to town with, as it would come in quite handy in satisfying the claims of justice.

McCord came to town Saturday and found the Smoky Row district so attractive that he could not get away from it. He had a roll and soon found friends to help him spend it. The spree was prolonged until last evening and McCord was in a half-crazed condition. About 9 o'clock he entered the saloon of Mrs. Maud Smith on lower Broadway and drawing a .38-caliber bulldog revolver from his pocket chased all the occupants from the room. He then went to the rooms above the bar, occupied by Mrs. Smith and threatened to shoot any person who attempted to ascend the stairs. The police had been telephoned for and Officer McDermott was the first to respond. The dangerous looking weapon in the hands of the drink-crazed man did not bluff him, and although it was necessary to use force the arrest was soon made.

A HORSE KILLED UPON THE STREET

COLLISION BETWEEN SLEIGHS RESULTS FATALITY.

The Animal Driven By James Finn Met Death—Occupants of Both Vehicles Upset.

A horse being driven by James Finn, the well known dipper, was instantly killed last night at 10 o'clock in a collision on Fifth street with an outfit in the hands of Jesse Fisher, the baker.

Considerable racing had been going on during the evening, but at the time of the accident few other vehicles were on the street. The men were driving in opposite directions and at the spot where they met there had been left a mortar box. Fisher was keeping well to the curb, but when the box was reached was compelled to pull out.

When the horses came together the occupants of both sleighs were thrown out and the horses were knocked down. The animal driven by Finn was instantly killed, and Fisher's horse was stunned for several minutes, but was soon able to walk to the barn. The horse killed was valued at $60.

SCARLET FEVER STILL CONTINUES

Though Checked the Disease Still Continues—Three Cases Under Quarantine at Present.

In spite of the precautions of the health officers and the severe weather the scarlet fever epidemic is not at an end, although its progress has been effectually checked. This morning there were only three cases under the supervision of the health authorities and two of these will be released from quarantine tomorrow. Both of these cases are in the home of Edward Anon, of lower Third street. The other case is in the East End, a little daughter of Elmer Stevenson being the victim.

Mr. Stevenson and his family are visiting here in the family of Will Price, of St. George street, and had been here but a few days when their child was taken with the contagion.

WANT CONIACKERS

Secret Service Men in the City on the Trail of a Band of Counterfeiters.

Several secret service detectives, on the trail of a band of counterfeiters who have been flooding the upper Ohio valley with spurious coins during the past few months, have been in this city for the past several days. So mysterious was the visit of the detectives here that no one knew of their presence until they had been here and gone. They kept their presence completely concealed, not even notifying the local police, and their identity was not discovered until after they had been here for some time and left for parts unknown.

Three of them arrived here about two weeks ago and sought employment in different parts of the city, meeting clandestinely each night to go over the information each one had discovered during the day. One of the party was a barber, and giving the name of Richard Wynn, secured a position with Fred Furrer, the Sixth street barber. He had little to say as to who he was, except that he had come from Milwaukee to secure employment in this part of the country. He was a man of prepossessing appearance and of more than ordinary intelligence. During the time he worked in the barber shop he received several telegrams each day, which aroused the suspicions of Mr. Furrer that the newcomer was something more than a barber, but just who or what he was he could not understand.

His leaving was as mysterious as his coming. He worked three days, and without notifying anybody that he was going away, or even asking for his pay, suddenly disappeared, and it was not until after he had gone that his identity was discovered. One of the other men secured a position in the tin mill at Chester, and like his partner, left suddenly without even asking for his pay.

The third one pretended to work in Wellsville, but the most of his time was spent in riding on the street cars and loafing about the saloons on Third street in Wellsville. The three went away together and no one knows where they have gone. From what information could be learned of their visit here they were on the trail of the counterfeiters who have been making and passing counterfeit dimes in nearly every city between Pittsburg and Wheeling during the past few months.

The banks in particular in many of the towns have been heavy losers by having the spurious coins passed on them, and they have been instrumental in bringing the government officers to this part of the country. The counterfeit money is described as being almost perfect in appearance, having the exact weight and size of the genuine coins, and it is only after they have been used for a considerable time that it is possible to detect that they are not genuine.

HERRICK AND DICK BOTH IN THE RACE

The Way the Situation as Regards Gubernatorial Contest Stands at Present.

HANNA KEEPING HANDS OFF EAST END SCHOOL HOUSES

Conference at Cleveland Not Productive of Results—Announcement of Col. Herrick's Candidacy Expected Soon—Gen. Dick's Position.

Cleveland, December 30.—Unless there is a decided change in the mind of either General Charles Dick, of Akron, or Colonel Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, both will be candidates for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Although these gentlemen held a long conference yesterday in reference to their respective aspirations for the governorship the meeting did not result in any material change in the situation. If anything, it only resulted in a more firm determination on the part of both men to be candidates.

Senator Hanna is not only being embarrassed, but is being actually annoyed by the determined efforts on the part of friends of General Dick and Colonel Herrick to induce him to use his good offices and influence toward having one of the candidates withdraw from the field and then come out in an open declaration for the remaining candidate. Several days ago the senator said emphatically that he did not desire to become involved in the candidacies of his two friends and argued that it was no more than just and right that he should be permitted to remain absolutely neutral in the matter. He himself is a candidate for reelection next fall, and for that reason if no other, he believes that he should be relieved of all of the embarrassments and entanglements connected with active participation in contests for nomination for state offices.

While he does not like to see two of his close friends pitted against each other for a nomination and would be greatly pleased to see one of them withdraw from the race, he believes that it is the inherent right of every man to be ambitious and realize his ambition if possible. Believing this, he determined to assume an absolutely neutral position so far as General Dick and Colonel Herrick are concerned. It was therefore only in accordance with this determination that Senator Hanna took no part in the conference held by the two candidates yesterday.

NEW CONTRACT IS TO BE MADE

Board of Education Will Cut Loose From the Fort Pitt Gas Company.

Hereafter to Be Supplied With Fuel By the Ohio Valley Company—Contractor Cain Ordered to Hasten the Work on McKinley School Building.

The board of education intends to cut loose from the Fort Pitt Gas company, and at the meeting last evening instructed its clerk, Walter B. Hill, to enter into a contract with the Ohio Valley company to supply gas to the two East End school buildings. Until very recently these buildings were served by the Fort Pitt company, but the numerous breaks in the mains proved such an inconvenience that it was found necessary to change the furnaces so that coal could be used in them. On several occasions school was dismissed on account of the shortage in the gas supply. At the present time the Ohio Valley company has no service along the streets on which these buildings are located, the nearest main being the one that serves the Laughlin No. 2 and the National potteries. The board proposes that the gas company put in all the necessary pipes, and for the first school year are to receive 20 cents per thousand feet for the gas. After the first of the year the price is to be reduced to 15 cents.

John C. Cain, who has the contract for the new McKinley school building in the Bradshaw addition, was severely censured for the slow progress of his work. Some of the members of the board think he is making no special effort to have the building ready for occupancy in the near future, and they are very desirous of having at least a few of the rooms, as they are greatly needed. According to the contract four of the eight rooms were to have been ready for use on the first day of December. The roof is not yet on the building. The clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Cain that unless he proceeded with all possible speed to finish his contract the board would take the building out of his hands and finish it and charge the cost to his account.

President Vordrey reported that it had been found impossible to make the proposed sanitary improvement on the Grant street school building on account of the cold weather. The board ordered the payment of

FACT LONG FORGOTTEN OF HISTORIC INTEREST IN THIS PART OF OHIO

The Grandfather of Gen. Grant Once a Resident Here and Remembered by Old Settlers.

BY REV. W. E. HILL.

I perused with much interest the article reproduced in your columns last week from the Wayne county Democrat descriptive of the historic scenes, notable men and glorious landscapes of old Columbiana county. A few weeks ago a similar article relating to scenes and incidents in the early history of this county, with special reference to the region about Lisbon, appeared in a Pittsburg paper, and was published in the News Review.

I have read many other sketches of a historic character in recent years concerning this immediate region more especially sketches of the early history of East Liverpool, or Fawcettstown, as it was originally called. In this communication I wish to call attention to the fact that these sketches without exception fail to make mention of one of the most interesting and important historical facts in connection with either our town or county.

AN INSANE MAN TAKEN TO LISBON

Charles O'Malley, of Salem, is in Custody—His Singular Delusions.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—W. D. Turner, Salem's chief of police, came here just before noon today, having in custody Charles O'Malley, the insane man for whom the authorities have been on the lookout.

O'Malley, who has been employed in the Mullins' cornice works at Salem, is not violent, and appears rational most of the time. He has a delusion that his friends are endeavoring to discredit him, by circulating false reports concerning him.

Prospecting for Coal.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—A Pittsburg firm is preparing to prospect for coal in this vicinity, and has its representative, A. H. Porter, securing options in Elkrun township.

If it was ever known to the public it seems to have been forgotten that the immediate ancestors of General U. S. Grant once resided within the present corporate limits of the city of East Liverpool.

During the civil war my brother, Colonel H. R. Hill, was for a time with his company—he was then a captain—stationed at Cincinnati as part of a detached command doing patrol duty in that city. One day he had a caller who introduced himself by simply saying that his name was Grant, and that he understood there was a company stationed in the city from East Liverpool, and he wished to make inquiry about a number of persons whom he formerly knew and who had once resided in that community. He himself had resided there when a boy and was anxious to know if any of the associates of his boyhood were still living there and how they fared.

DR. M'FARLAND SOMEWHAT BETTER

Had Brief Periods of Consciousness Yesterday and Friends Were Encouraged.

LETTER TO RELATIVES HERE

Gives Ground For Hope—Two Specialists in Constant Attendance—Wife Keeps a Sleepless Vigil at Her Husband's Bedside.

A letter received in this city today by Mrs. James Cain, of Third street, from Mrs. Dr. McFarland, at the bedside of her husband, Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, says the doctor is slightly better.

Mrs. McFarland stated her husband was still unconscious at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, but was better later on.

Two specialists have been constantly in attendance, and one of them, a brain expert, admits that he is puzzled. However, he gives Mr. Rose a little hope.

The doctor is well cared for, Mrs. McFarland says, having two nurses constantly in attendance. They are very kind to her, and though she was not slept since her arrival at Columbus, she is permitted to remain at the bedside of her husband.

A dispatch from Columbus this morning says:

It was reported from Mt. Carmel hospital Monday morning that Dr. Fred McFarland, of East Liverpool, who became unconscious at the Davidson hotel Saturday, had partially regained consciousness. He asked where he was and whether he had been sick, and insists that he is not now sick. His wife is with him and when he saw her he anxiously inquired what had happened to him. After learning what had happened to him he asked whether his money or clothing were safe. After brief periods of consciousness the patient lapses into a stupor and the physicians are still very much puzzled. They say, however, that the patient's chances for recovery now appear to be very good.

Upon a recent visit to the local post-office Joseph F. Herron, an old soldier, while attending to some correspondence left a valuable paper lying on one of the desks. It was handed to Postmaster W. H. Surles and proved to be his discharge papers from the war of the rebellion. Mr. Surles is holding the document pending a call from the old soldier.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

PRINTERS' OCCUPATION GOING.

Although much has been said concerning the introduction of improved machinery in the potteries, and in some cases it seems the argument in its favor in several departments has succeeded in encouraging and inviting its establishment, the fact remains that in the printing department the new process has worked injury. It has been but a comparatively short time since the first press for labor saving and rapid work was introduced in the potteries throughout the district, but nevertheless the trade of the printer is not as good as it was before, and is steadily growing worse. The question of whether labor saving machinery has been a detriment to the tradesmen generally is one which has been discussed for many years, and while nearly all of the union organizations antagonized its introduction in the beginning, there are many trades today in which the men are glad to see it come. It may be said here, however, that in the latter instance the craftsmen have absolute control of the various devices, in the matter of their operation and also the wages which are to control their manipulation. With the pottery printing press it is different. In not a few cases these machines have proved a failure, and when this occurs no time is lost in re-establishing the printers at their benches. Where this occurs the cause has invariably been traced to a defect in the make of the machine. It must be remembered that there are a number of different kinds of presses, and more failures have been recorded than is worth while to count. Many of the presses found to be unreliable have been allowed to remain in position, and upon these machines the decorations of a cheaper grade are done. There are few decorating shops in the East Liverpool district where a press or presses have not been installed, but there are not many that have proved the success expected—that is, that first class decorations can be made from. In several shops not a printer is now employed where formerly there were from two to half a dozen. What makes it much worse for the trade is not an instance has been recorded where a printer has been placed in charge of one of the machines. It can be seen that under such a condition of affairs the old time printer is either compelled to enter another department of the potting trade or leave the craft entirely.

48 NEW KILNS.

Although the advancement of Trenton as a pottery center has never been questioned, it will doubtless occasion some surprise when it is stated that forty-eight kilns have been added to its facilities during 1902. This number, too, does not include the acquisition to old plants or the construction of new potteries in Camden, Elizabeth, Philadelphia and other cities within easy reach of Trenton. The additions have all been made in this city alone. The sales record of 1902 easily overtopped any previous Trenton achievement. Prices have been well maintained throughout the past twelve months, and operatives who, in former years frequently found occasion to investigate trouble in the wage or other questions have not been heard from in a single instance. Trenton operative potters will, for the larger part, be obliged to satisfy their vacation ideas this year with but two days' lay-off—Christmas and New Year's. With not more than one or two exceptions the potteries are to operate uninterruptedly throughout the holiday week, save for the two days mentioned. It has been many years since the establishments have been so pushed for time as to necessitate the resumption of manufacture on the day succeeding Christmas.

A SHORT VACATION.

The West End pottery is in full operation in spite of the fact that it is the gay holiday season and nearly all the other plants are resting or making repairs. The operatives were allowed only Christmas day and while it was disappointing to some, very few complaints were heard. The disappointment will entirely disappear on pay day. The work on the new part of the plant has progressed as rapidly as the weather would permit though it is still far from completion. The new decorating kilns are now in use and a great deal of decorated ware is being turned out. It was the intention to remove the decorating department temporarily to the part of the new building to be used for the packing shed but one thing and another has prevented. Manager Dudley has found his department much cramped in its present quarters but there seems to be no immediate relief as the orders continue to come thick and fast.

MANY VISITORS.

The number of out of town operatives who visited this city during the holiday vacation is conservatively estimated at between 500 and 600. A large proportion of them have worked in this city at one time and another, leaving for the new pottery towns as they sprang up. Many of them have relatives here and all are glad to get back to the old town at least once a year. Brotherhood headquarters have been thronged for the past week with out-of-town operatives who drop in to pay their respects to President Hughes and Secretary Duffy. The latter's many friends were disappointed until today as he has been visiting relatives in Wheeling. It was not alone for the welfare of the craft that so many visitors have been received at headquarters. Both the president and secretary are personally very popular and they know how to welcome the boys whom they delight in seeing.

ENGLISH NOTES.

The Staffordshire Sentinel says: "The staple trade of the district shows signs of further improvement, and it is generally anticipated that with the entry of the new year a much greater business will be transacted. Trade with the states maintains the improvement recently reported, and better orders are being received by each mail. These are mostly of an all-round character, but the better class of decorated ware in new shapes and designs are most freely inquired after. There are also fair inquiries for flat ware and good dinner services have been in request of late. Holloware pressers report employment as most regular. Sanitary pressers are in most cases working full time. Flat pressers report a general improvement, full time being the rule."

DIPPERS ARE PROSPEROUS.

At the meeting of Dippers' local No. 18, held late in the week, the following officers were elected: President, Major Adams, Sr.; recording secretary, William Greene; financial secretary, Major Adams, Jr.; treasurer, William Pittinger; inspector, Thomas Carr; guard, Henry Davis. P. J. McKeone at once installed the newly elected officers, and the new year will begin with an excellent prospect for good work. Though not many are employed at the trade, and consequently the membership is not large, the local is one of the most successful and prosperous in the Brotherhood.

NOTES OF THE POTTERS.

It was reported today that the Union would resume January 5. John Tracy, a saggermaker for the Akron China company, is among the prominent operatives here for the holidays.

Ed. J. Miller, presser at the French, at Sebring, is shaking hands with his numerous friends in this city. The French will resume operations Friday of this week.

Edward G. Hayes, of Fallston, Pa., is spending a few days in this city with old friends. He is now with the Reswick China company in the capacity of a printer and says he is well pleased with his employment. He re-

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

At Pittsburgh This Week—Program includes Herbert's Music And Hamburg, the Great Pianist.

The eighth program of the Pittsburgh orchestra season will be given in Carnegie music hall on Friday evening, January 2, and Saturday afternoon, January 3, with the assistance of Mark Hambourg, pianist, the separate numbers being:

Symphony, "Im Walde".....Raff
Concerto for piano and orchestra
in E Flat.....Liszt
Columbus, op. 35.....Herbert
(New, first performance.)

Piano solo.
Music of the Automaton and Waltz from "Coppella"....Delibes
This is a list of modern composers. The "Im Walde" symphony has not been heard in Pittsburgh in three seasons; it is extremely poetic and altogether is one of the modern classics.

Naturally there will be particular interest in Mr. Herbert's new composition, which comes as a pleasant surprise, as even those close to him were not aware that a composition of so much scope had been completed. It is in four movements.

The Delibes music is from the fascinating ballet of "Coppella" and makes the sort of ending that is now expected at the close of Pittsburgh orchestra programs.

Mark Hambourg, the soloist, was heard in Pittsburgh three seasons ago, and those who heard him then have not forgotten the tremendous impression he made. Hambourg is a Russian, a pupil of Rubinstein, and his playing has the virility as well as the poetry of that great master.

Decided Against Commonwealth.

Harrisburg, Dec. 30.—An opinion by Judge Weiss was handed down yesterday in the case of the commonwealth vs. H. B. Richter, recorder of deeds of Montgomery county, to decide whether the net excess of fees collected by the recorder in excess of $2,000 during any given year belong to the commonwealth, even though the act of 1901 directs the recorder to pay one-half of any such excess over $2,000 to the county treasurer for the use of the county. The question was decided against the commonwealth and judgment given for the defendant.

WANSTEAD INQUEST.

Dispatcher Kerr Takes Stand
and Gives Testimony as to Cause of Accident.

SENT ORDERS SIMULTANEOUSLY

Says Instructions Were Properly Repeated Back by Both Operators.
Andrew Carson, at Whose Door Is Laid the Blame, Testifies.

London, Ont., Oct. 30.—It was reported by the house surgeon at Victoria hospital last night that the condition of the injured in the Wanstead wreck was gratifying. All of them improved during the day, with the exception of Alex. M. Stewart, of Chicago, who is very low.

The seriously injured, Francis Baker, of London; John Bird, of Chicago; James Barnes, of Woodstock, and Flossie Cuthbertson, of Port Huron, have improved wonderfully and all are expected to recover.

Asked for Auxiliary.
Kerr said, "You must stop her." Kerr then called Kings Court for seven or eight minutes before raising that office. Kings Court reported No. 5 had passed. In a few minutes Wanstead called the dispatcher, asking if the trains were to cross at Wanstead, as he had heard a noise and had run from his house, thinking there was trouble. In a few minutes Assistant Superintendent Castello, who was on the express train, called Kerr and asked for the auxiliary to be sent, as a collision had occurred. W. J. Hanna who appeared for Carson, the station agent at Watford, cross-examined Kerr.

At the afternoon session of the inquest Dispatcher Kerr was recalled. Solicitor Pope, of the Grand Trunk, put him through a lengthy cross-examination on the subject of the company's rules for operators and dispatchers.

The witness would not say that the Kings Court operator, James Troyer, was remiss in his duty.

Did Not Hear Word "May."
Andrew Carson, the Watford operator, at whose door is laid the responsibility of the accident by the Grand Trunk officials, followed Kerr on the stand. He appeared to be cool and collected. He got the order for the two trains to cross at Wanstead, he said, and displayed his order board to stop the express. Soon after he heard Wyoming tell of the delay to the freight and then the London dispatcher called the witness and said, "Bust it." He did not hear the word "may" preceding "bust it." The express had stopped and the conductor asked for his order, but the witness told him it had been canceled, and gave the conductor a clearance order. "Bust it" is a common form of cancellation of orders, he said. He did not get a formal order annulling it. There was no written record of the order, "bust it."

The inquest then adjourned until today.

EAST END

A BROKEN LEG

Among the Accidents Due to Falls Upon the Slippery Streets.

The condition of the streets of the East End was very slippery this morning and many residents of that section of the city received bad falls. Several ladies sustained slight injuries and one or two rather serious. One lady residing in the Klondike slipped early this morning on the ice and fell to the ground breaking her leg. This was probably the worst of any of the accidents.

The doctors were called several times on account of these accidents but only this one was serious.

New Trial Refused.

Attorney J. E. Davis, of the East End, has received word from the justice of St. Clair township in regard to the arguments for a new trial in the case of Laughlin vs. S. Randall. This case was heard a few days ago and after it was finished one of the jurors claimed that undue influence had been used in securing the decision. Upon that ground a motion for a new trial was made and the arguments heard by the justice. In his communication to Mr. Davis the justice said that he had overruled the motion for a new trial and Laughlin will recover possession of his farm at once.

Fourteen Initiated.

The Ben Hur lodge held another meeting last night in the East End and fourteen new members were initiated. District Deputy D. T. McClelland was present and had charge of the degree work. The meeting was very enthusiastic and the members show considerable interest and hope to receive many new members before the coming year expires.

P. H. C. Meeting.

The Protected Home Circle will hold another meeting tonight in its hall in the East End. A large number of new candidates will be initiated and the business of the year will be closed. This lodge has been the most successful of any in the city in the past year in point of new members secured and has good prospects for the coming year.

Team Ran Away.

A team belonging to Larkins & Ferguson became frightened yesterday afternoon by snow sliding from the roof of the grocery and ran away around several blocks before it could be stopped. No damage was done to either the horses or delivery wagon to which the team was attached.

Taken Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Taylor Larkins was brought home from Sebring today at noon. Mrs. Larkins recently went to visit several relatives but was taken seriously ill upon her arrival there. Her condition is now rather serious and she was brought home today.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Clifford McCray returned to Sebring this morning after a short visit with relatives here.

John Cutright and Sam Young returned this morning to Ford City, Pa., after a short visit with friends here.

Justice W. L. Carman and son returned yesterday evening after a week's visit with relatives in Washington county, Pa.

Mrs. C. W. Mayers, of St. George street, expects to entertain a number of friends at her home this evening. The affair promises to be very pleasant as Mrs. Mayers is a delightful hostess.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional means. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

And Election of Officers Held By Painters' And Paper Hangers' Union.

Local union No. 165, Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, held a very important meeting at the hall last night. A number of matters were attended to, among them being a discussion of a few changes in the working conditions which now govern the local.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, E. L. Provo; vice president, J. H. Ingersoll; recording secretary, W. T. House; financial secretary and treasurer, Philip Mulligan; conductor, F. M. Beatty; warden, C. A. Trunic; trustee, 18 months, George Mulligan.

The year will be wound up with a smoker, to which the employing painters have been invited. It is proposed to make the affair one of the most enjoyable of the many entertainments held by No. 165, and with this end in view preparations have been in progress for some time.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

A piece of cold turkey left over from Christmas was fatal to David Regan, aged 65, at Youngstown. He choked to death.

Harry Jackson, a Youngstown electrician, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid after attending the funeral of a friend.

John Keith, who assaulted and nearly killed Thomas Knight at Kelly's coal works, near Steubenville, was arrested at Bellaire and is now in jail.

The residence of Cromwell Bucey at Brilliant, occupied by himself and son Oliver and Amanda Brindley, their house keeper, was burned to the ground. Mr. Bucey is 85 years old and very feeble.

Report comes from the neighborhood of Mahan's station of a demented man wandering about in the snow. He was seen several times and was supposed to be going in the direction of Holliday's Cove.

Rev. W. A. Williams began revival services in Cross Creek church Sunday and will continue each night. He closed the revival services at Two Ridges on Sunday with the communion service. There were seven accessions Friday night.

Good News.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of croup is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

WAITING ON CASTRO.

Allies Want to Hear from Venezuela Before Arranging Terms of Settlement.

German Government Silent as to When Blockade Will Be Raised. Praise for United States for Having the Dispute Sent to The Hague.

Berlin, Dec. 30.—Foreign Secretary Von Richthofen is awaiting the receipt of President Castro's answer to the proposal to submit the Venezuela dispute to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal, with certain reservations, before corresponding with Great Britain over the personnel of the tribunal or the date for raising the blockade. "Assuming that President Castro declines to accept the reservations, will arbitration fall through?" asked the correspondent of the Associated Press of a foreign office official yesterday. The official replied: "A settlement will be reached by arbitration in any event."

Silent as to Raising of Blockade. The German government is completely silent as to when the blockade will be raised or whether it will be raised at all until every question concerning arbitration is settled. The acceptance of arbitration after the blockade was begun is certainly not received with popular favor in Germany.

General Von Boguslawski, one of the foremost military writers, contributed to the Tagliche Rundschau his views of the Monroe doctrine and argues that the withdrawal of the blockade at this stage would show singular weakness. After alluding to the late Prince Bismarck's expression that the Monroe doctrine was "a great piece of impudence," the general says: "That was a true word. America is divided into many states. In varieties of race and language she is hardly second to Europe. How can one state assert that it has the right of interference and protection over an entire continent, and that it will tolerate only under certain conditions any action, however just, of European nations against an American state?"

Hails Refusal as Good News. The Frankfurter Zeitung hails President Roosevelt's refusal as good news and praises the United States for having done so much to bring The Hague tribunal into vogue, referring to the cases already sent there at the United States' instance.

The Lokal Anzeiger prints an inspired statement to the effect that nothing is known by the Berlin officials regarding the reported intention of the powers to raise the blockade, adding that the question has not yet been taken into consideration. The Neueste Nachrichten says it hopes the statement that Minister Bowen will represent Venezuela's case is not true, since the United States action would thus appear in a bad light, after refusing arbitration, and keeping the biggest hand in the game in a responsible way. The Lokal Anzeiger's Caracas correspondent asked President Castro if he was ready to apologize to the powers, to which the president replied: "General Castro has nothing to apologize for." The bystanders, the correspondent adds, cheered and shouted "Bravo" when they heard the president's reply.

The German merchants of Caracas, it is asserted by the correspondent, say they are ready to advance President Castro the money to meet the demands of Germany, "although they know the president is able to pay it himself."

Italy Appoints Representative. Rome, Dec. 30.—The Italian minister at The Hague, the Chevalier Tunge, has been ordered personally to supervise the procedure in the matter of the settlement of the Italian claims against Venezuela before the international peace court at The Hague. The documents in the case will be forwarded to him by courier.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Mr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, who has been in New York for some weeks past on a business mission, called at the state department yesterday and talked with Secretary Hay on the Venezuelan situation. The ambassador was unable to throw additional light on the subject, having received no advice from Berlin.

The Venezuelan negotiations now wait upon President Castro. Minister Bowen has been fully advised by the state department of the result of its exchanges with the foreign offices in London, Berlin and Rome, and he has been charged to take the case in hand himself and arrange the details of the protocol which will precede the submission of the foreign claims to the arbitration of The Hague tribunal. In so doing Mr. Bowen is acting not as United States minister, but as Venezuela's representative. The officials here wish it to be understood that their functions ceased, so far as the Venezuela difficulty was concerned, when they brought the parties to the controversy together.

Killed While Experimenting.

Doylestown, Pa., Dec. 30.—Frank Ross, aged 18 years, an assistant at the sub-power station of the Newtown Electric Street Railway company at Rushington, was instantly killed Sunday evening while experimenting with a high tension wire. The full current of 5,000 volts passed through his body.

BIG NEW SHEET MILL TO COST $135,000

IMPROVED PLANT TO BE ERECTED AT CANAL DOVER.

It Will Be Absolutely Fire Proof. Other Mills to Start February 1.

Canal Dover, December 30.—A new sheet steel mill to cost over $135,000 will be built here in the near future on the site of the big plant destroyed by fire two weeks ago. The new mill will be built entirely of structural steel and fire brick and will be absolutely fireproof. It will be equipped with all the latest improved machinery, and local officials say it will be one of the best sheet steel and roofing plants owned by the American Sheet Steel company.

Immediately after the fire two weeks ago the city officials took steps to prevent another big fire at the big mills. Arrangements were made for laying a big six-inch water main on all streets surrounding the mills, and about 15 or 20 fire plugs will be placed at convenient places. A large amount of new fire hose has been ordered, and as soon as the contemplated improvements are made it is thought that the plant will be amply protected. The prompt action of the city officials in making arrangements for the improvements is in a large measure responsible for the decision of the company to rebuild the mills here larger than ever.

The success of the American Sheet Steel company in closing a big contract at Pittsburg last Saturday for over $2,500,000 was also partially responsible. It was said today by a local official that the mills in New Philadelphia and Canton, both of which are admirably adapted for the work required by the contract, would probably be started about February 1, when the season opens.

The six big mills of the local plant, which were saved from destruction at the time of the big fire, but which had to be shut down the following Wednesday owing to the breaking of the main shaft, has started in full, giving employment to about 200 men.

CHILD LOVE LEADS TO STEALING

Two Tiny Cincinnati Girls Turn Shoplifters and Give Booty to Sweethearts.

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—Cloaked like real old-time shoplifters, Katie Sexton, aged 10, of Broadway, and Minnie Figue, also aged 10, of Hunt and Broadway, entered the Knox notion store, on Main street, yesterday and started to steal. With all the dexterity of skilled shoplifters they lifted several trinkets off the counters until observed by a saleswoman, who gave the alarm, and the children were turned over to the police. Not until they were arraigned before Chief Deitsch did they betray that they were merely amateurs.

The Figue girl looks innocence personified and cried when interviewed. The Sexton girl claimed that the Figue girl taught her to steal. They finally confessed that they had been stealing things from the store for some time and had given them to Luke and Arthur McGuff, of Twelfth street, their sweethearts. Upon investigation it was learned the boys were the recipients of numerous stolen presents, which their aunt, upon learning the facts, turned over to the police.

The Sexton girl when arrested had a bottle of cologne, a pair of spectacles and four pocketbooks.

CARDINAL AT WHEELING.

A Thousand Persons Greeted His Eminence at the Depot.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Cardinal Gibbons and party arrived from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon in the special car of President Loree, which was attached to the regular passenger train. A thousand persons greeted his eminence at the station, but there was no demonstration. The original program of an escort of Catholic societies was modified on account of inclement weather, and one company of the cathedral high school cadets formed a hollow square about the cardinal's carriage. At the episcopal residence the cardinal listened to an address on behalf of the cadets. Last night hundreds of city and county officials and clergymen of other denominations attended a public reception to his eminence at the Carroll club, and Cardinal Gibbons made a short address.

Found Dead. Dec. 30.—Miss Zede Ogden, aged 42 years, of Scranton, Pa., was found dead yesterday in her room at No. 675 North Eleventh street. The gas was turned on and the room was filled with the deadly odor. Two empty bottles which had contained laudanum were also found in her room, but the police found no evidence of its use.

After the ice has melted from the sidewalks this time, wouldn't it be a good idea to enforce the city ordinance compelling property owners to keep their sidewalks clean? Leaving the snow to melt away is culpable negligence, in view of the alarming accidents constantly resulting from such a course. Hardly a sidewalk in the city can now be found that is not almost a glare of ice. Such a condition should not be suffered to continue, especially as it can all be prevented by due exercise of shovel, broom and muscle after each snowfall.

The Alliance Review is urging the people of that section to "besiege Congressman Taylor with petitions for more rural free delivery routes." That is all right, but the people will make it easier to get what they want if they first take active steps to secure improved rural roads. It will not be long, under the present energetic policy of the postoffice department until every agricultural community so supplied will have the manifold advantages of free delivery.

Congressman Taylor in an interview says that he is profoundly convinced that President Roosevelt has made certain his renomination and probably his election. And the best of it is that he has done so without trying. The president is a man who would not deviate a hair's breadth from the course he believes to be right, no matter if political ruin stared him in the face. He is a true American with the true American's best quality, backbone, strongly developed.

"Congress is bluffing," says Democratic newspapers. "It will not pass an anti-trust bill." Judging others by the record of their own party, are they? They are most likely to be deceived. The Democratic party never had either a president or leaders who were determined to have legislation enacted for the people as against the trusts. The Republican party has both, and is not addicted to bluffing.

The question who shall be the Republican candidate for governor in Ohio is attracting much attention. It is not difficult to solve. The man who can get the most delegates in the state convention will be the nominee. And he will be a good man for the place. None who do not have that qualification will have the hardihood to enter the race.

The old Spanish fort at Porto Cabello in Venezuela was shot at nearly 1,000 times by a British cruiser and a score of times by a German cruiser. The fort was the only thing in the vicinity that was not hit. How much of it would have been left if there had been Yankee gunners behind the guns?

Emperor William has just advised President Roosevelt that he has killed his fifty thousandth pheasant, "the most beautiful bird he ever beheld." Shooting tame birds may be royal sport, but luckily there are few who think so.

States. The anthracite operators may yet discover that it is more profitable to pay living wages than to let outsiders gather up the business they could easily do.

While complaints of scarcity of coal are heard on all sides in other cities, the people of East Liverpool have warm fires and no worry about fuel supply. Happy the city which has natural gas in abundance!

The Democratic political row is breaking out very early. On Jackson's day there is to be a Democratic banquet in Cleveland, to which Tom Johnson will not be invited.

Matters are rather quiet in Venezuela just now. Dewey will continue to linger in the vicinity to see that they continue so.

Ex-President Cleveland takes a column to make it plain that his views about the Monroe doctrine have not changed.

Political conditions in Pittsburgh are getting almost as chaotic as in a South American republic.

The Hague tribunal will not satisfy the chronic kickers, whatever its verdict.

One more day in which to swear off.

OBITUARY

Sarah F. Pratt.

Sarah Florence, the eight-months-old daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Pratt, passed peacefully away this morning at 5 o'clock. Although the little one had been seriously ill for many weeks death was nevertheless a great shock to the sorrowing family and also a large number of friends in this city, who extended to the family their most heartfelt sympathy and mourn with them in this great bereavement.

Death of An Infant.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dascomb, of Thompson avenue, died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The child was but three weeks old, and was only ill a few days. The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday, with interment in River-view cemetery.

AT THE THEATER

There are comparatively few plays today that possess the fascination of Lewis Morrison's version of Goethe's "Faust," which appears at the Grand Tuesday evening. Among scholars and literateurs of all countries it is conceded that Goethe is not only the greatest poet of Germany, but he is one of the greatest poets of all ages. He is so great that after a lapse of nearly two years since "Faust" was given to the world, scholars are unable to form a correct judgment of his exact precedence in the list of Homer, Dante and Shakespeare.

A comfortable theater and the prospect of a good play appealed to many last evening, and as a result the Grand was well filled. The attraction, "Her Marriage Vow," was one of the best comedy dramas of the season and in scenic effects has certainly not been surpassed. The fortunes of Kate, the daughter of Bill, the engineer, and the machinations of the son of the railroad superintendent were romantic and exciting enough to hold the closest attention of the audience. The company of actors was above the average.

As a thrill-maker the ghost in "The Silver Dagger" takes precedence over any effect devised for dramatic plays in recent years. At the Grand New Year's day matinee and night.

a special interest, because of their intimate associations when they were boys, was Michael McKinnon, who was then residing on his farm at the top of the hill this side of the present Riverview cemetery. My brother then asked him if he lived in the city. "No," he replied, "I live in Covington, on the opposite side of the river." Then it was the name of Jesse Grant first suggested itself to my brother, and in answer to further questions the father of General Grant was thus personally made known to him.

My brother communicated these facts to my father, who wrote to Mr. Grant for fuller and more definite information in regard to a matter of so much local interest. Mr. Grant replied briefly in substance that his father, Noah Grant, in the year 1799, when Jesse was about five years of age, moved into what was then known as the Northwest territory, now constituting the state of Ohio, and located at a point about two miles below the Pennsylvania line on the Ohio river near what was then known as Dry Run. This would make it somewhere in the neighborhood of the Neville institute in the East End. Here he said he resided for five or six years, or until his father removed to Portage county, O.

He noted further that the first sermon he ever heard in his life of which he had a distinct recollection was preached on Christmas day, 1799, in Fawcettstown, now East Liverpool, by a Methodist preacher named Dobbins. Here in a little Methodist meeting house his father and mother were wont to worship when divine services were held, which was at rare intervals.

Noah Grant, the father of Jesse and grandfather of the general, was a shoemaker and farmer, and during his residence here supported himself and family by cobbling shoes and tilling a small farm. It is also believed he tanned his own leather. I remember hearing Mr. McKinnon, to whom we have referred above, and who was the father of Riley McKinnon, now residing on a portion of his father's farm, speak of his boyish pride when Noah Grant fitted him out with a brand new pair of shoes of Grant's own make. Mr. McKinnon well remembered Noah Grant and could recall his reputation for honesty and industry, and his position among his neighbors as a man of intelligence and influence.

WELLSVILLE

BY A SALOON KEEPER

Wellsville Man Who Admits Having Gambled Tells the Mayor a Surprising Tale.

A young man rushing into the mayor's office early last evening said he wanted to secure a vest, a button hook and $2 which he claimed a Third street saloon keeper had stolen from him. Only a few weeks ago he won $34.80 in a poker game from the same saloon keeper.

The mayor warned the young man that Wellsville had a police force.

"I have played poker in this city several times and have not been caught in the act, and I don't believe that you will catch me in this, either," said the fellow.

The young man has not left the city, nor has he been near the saloon keeper. He is being watched.

FOUND HIS WIFE

Samuel Stricklin Greeted By Her And a Writ At a 'Squires' Office.

Evidently Mrs. Samuel Stricklin, of Wellsville, is not much missing, as her husband reported. Before 'Squire Mackenzie in Wellsville yesterday she got a writ to force her husband to vacate their home, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, which she claims to own. Stricklin entered the office while she was there and the papers were served. His effort at reconciliation failed.

FERRYBOAT ABANDONED

Ice Makes It Impossible For the Ida to Make Her Trips to Congo.

Since ice began floating down the Ohio several days ago, Wellsville and Congo people who have been patrons of the ferryboat Ida, are compelled to use the bridge between East Liverpool and Chester. The ferryboat has been abandoned and will probably not be used again till the ice has left the river.

Dislocated His Jaw.

James McKay, a brakeman in the employ of the C. & P. road, while passing the shops depot on a freight train yesterday accidentally slipped and fell to the ground. His jaw was dislocated. He is unable to work and will probably be disabled for life.

Wife Is Missing.

While C. F. Bowers, an employe of the C. & P. road, was away from his home in the West End, his wife slipped out, leaving a three-year-old son to care for. Her reasons for going away cannot be learned. She has been seen in the city several times since by friends of Bowers.

Delinquents Are Many.

Sixty-four delinquent tax cases have been brought into 'Squire A. G. Mackenzie's court. They will be heard January 2 and 3. It was thought the delinquent tax collector had gathered in every item of delinquent taxes.

A WEDDING OCCURED

'SQUIRE SAT UP UNTIL AFTER MIDNIGHT TRAIN ARRIVED.

Couple from Allegheny County United in This City at the Unusual Hour of 2:30 a. m.

A wedding performed between the hours of 2 and 3 in the morning is something seldom witnessed, but Daniel Taylor, a street car conductor in Allegheny, and Miss Hilda C. Ackley, also of the same city, were married at that hour in this city this morning. Justice H. P. McCarron, of this city, was asked yesterday to officiate at this wedding, but owing to business engagements at Pittsburgh was unable to be present. Justice Daniel McLane was then called and the wedding was to take place immediately after the 7 o'clock train came down from Pittsburgh. The young couple did not get here till about 2 o'clock and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ecker, of Market street, and remained there after the ceremony was performed.

They expected to reach this city early in the evening, but missed the train and telephoned that they would be here on the midnight train and asked that the 'squire wait on them till then. Justice McLane accommodated them, and when No. 41 came in a cab was waiting them and the couple was hurried to the home of Mr. Ecker. The family and a number of newspaper men were present. The ceremony was performed about 2:30 in the morning and after congratulations had been extended the newly wedded pair the visitors left, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Taylor all the good things in life.

AMERICAN ECONOMIC MEETING

Fourth Session Opened by the Discussion of Problems of Organized Labor.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—The fourth session of the annual meeting of the American Economic association was opened yesterday by the discussion of problems of organized labor. Henry White, secretary of the United Garment Workers of America, delivered an address on "The Union Shop."

The discussion was taken part in by Samuel B. Donnelly, former president of Typographical Union No. 6, New York, and John E. George, assistant professor of economics, Northwestern university.

The aims of organized labor was the topic of the afternoon session. Frank K. Foster, of Boston, chairman of the legislative committee of Massachusetts Federation of Labor, read a paper on "The Ideals of Trade Unions."

The discussion which followed the reading of the paper was participated in by Simon P. Chase, manager of the King Philip mill, Fall River; M. J. Ford, member of the executive board of the International Association of Machinists, New York; Felix Adler, professor of social and political ethics, Columbia university, and George Gunton, Institute of Social Economics, New York.

Jeremiah W. Jenks, professor of political economy and politics, Cornell university, was the chief speaker at last night's session of the convention. His topic, "Currency Problems in the Orient," was discussed by Charles A. Conant, treasurer Morton Trust company, New York, and G. Bruce Webster, New York agent of the chartered bank of India, Australia and China.

Judge S. E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, read a paper on the topic, "American Business Corporations Before 1789." This closed the business session of the convention. Today was devoted to sightseeing by the delegates.

MEET TO ARRANGE
FOR THE ELECTION

Commissioners Will Assemble Tonight to Perfect Plans For the Event of Thursday.

The election commissioners of Chester will meet tonight to conclude the arrangements for the municipal election to be held Thursday. The commissioners are Enoch Riley, Frank Huff, O. O. Allison, F. F. Steadman and Daniel McBane. They will decide at this meeting how many clerks will be necessary at the election. Some were of the opinion that two clerks would be required for each ward, but it is likely that the commissioners will decide that two are enough to do the work for the entire town at this election.

Now that the date is so near great interest is manifested in the result not only for mayor and recorder but also for members of council. A large number of bets have been made on the results in the different wards and it is said that considerable money will change hands over the election. It is also said that an effort will be made to bar those voting who have been betting on the result. If this is attempted there may be some excitement on election day. No odds are being offered and no large sums of money have been posted but the statement was made this morning that several hundred dollars had been put up by the friends of the different candidates in small amounts.

M'BEE NOT LOCATED

The Assailant of Arch Bruce Thought to Be in Vicinity of Steubenville.

The whereabouts of William McBee, who recently shot Arch Bruce, are still unknown. There appears to be a growing belief that he went to Steubenville, and is now located in that vicinity. The citizens of Chester are anxious that he be captured and brought to justice, as there is too much rowdism prevalent around this part of Hancock county. If one of the offenders was captured and properly punished it might have a wholesome effect on the conduct of others living in the community.

A movement has been started to raise funds to secure the capture of McBee, and if he is caught a serious charge will be given him to answer.

No Clue to the Robbers.

So far no clue has been found of the three men who entered the house of Charles Stevens yesterday morning and demanded money at the point of a revolver. Stevens' injuries amounted to but little and he is more concerned over the destruction of the household goods than from any physical pain suffered. The police are quietly investigating the affair and have hopes of landing at least one of the trio.

Potteries in Operation.

Both potteries in Chester have resumed operations since the annual shutdown for the holidays. Work was resumed in both plants yesterday, although some departments are not working full and will not till after the first of the year. Prospects are good for a long run at both plants and the condition of their trade has seldom been better at this time of the year.

Stores Will Close.

A large number of the stores and business houses in Chester will be closed Thursday. The postoffice will be open from 9 a. m. till 10 a. m. From 1 p. m. till 3 p. m. and from 4 p. m. till 5 p. m.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Junior Mechanics was held last night at their hall in Chester. Considerable business of importance was transacted and the preliminary arrangements made for a banquet to be held about the middle of January. Fuller details will be arranged for this banquet later, and it promises to be a swell affair.

Too Much Fudge.

Fred, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McGlumphy, is seriously ill at his home, Ninth street and Phoenix avenue. His illness is due to eating too much fudge.

CHESTER NOTES.

George Wilson, of Vandergrift, Pa., arrived in Chester yesterday to begin work in the tin mill.

Miss Abbey Rowley left yesterday for Pittsburgh, where she will spend a few days visiting relatives.

A. C. Hood, of East Palestine, spent a few days the past week with his brother, of Carolina avenue.

A social was held last night at Rock Springs park by the members of the Episcopal church, who have been conducting a mission there. The children of the mission were given a treat and the evening was spent very pleasantly by all.

SMASHED WITH PAVING BLOCK.

Bold Robber Breaks Window of New York Pawn Shop and Gets $10,000 Worth of Diamonds.

New York, Dec. 30.—In full sight of the passing crowds a window in the pawn shop of R. Simpson & Co., on West Forty-second street, was smashed with a Belgian paving block last night and $10,000 worth of diamonds were stolen.

Only three of the gems were recovered after the capture of the robber. It is believed by the police that several men were in the job and that the man who broke the window passed the jewels to confederates.

After an exciting chase, which was entered into by hundreds of men, the robber, who drew a pistol and fought desperately for his liberty, was captured. He was more dead than alive when the police rescued him from the crowd of pursuers. He is 19 years old and calls himself William Mallison, of Boston.

Madison later told the police that his name is August W. McPherson, and that he is a bell boy at a well-known hotel in this city. He said he was heavily in debt and sought to relieve his financial stringency by robbery.

Caution.

"Willie, did you thank Mr. Speedway for taking you to drive?" said the mother of a small boy solicitously. No answer. The question was repeated. Still no answer.

"Willie, do you hear me? Did you thank Mr. Speedway for taking you to drive?"

"Yes," whispered Willie, "but he told me not to mention it."—Life.

HERRICK AND DICK

Neither General Dick nor Colonel Herrick had anything to say concerning the conference last night, except that no decision of any kind had been reached, and that the situation was the same as before.

General Dick arrived from Akron yesterday morning and called upon Senator Hanna in the Perry-Payne building. In discussing the gubernatorial question the senator simply outlined to General Dick his position in the matter, as heretofore set forth. The general then called on Colonel Herrick at the latter's office in the Society for Savings building and the two were in conference for over two hours.

"How long will this uncertainty last?" was asked of General Dick and Colonel Herrick.

The general replied that so far as he was concerned he saw no reason for hasty action; that the convention would not be held for six months and there was plenty of time between now and then for him to formally announce whether or not he would be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. On the other hand Colonel Herrick intimated that so far as he was concerned the uncertainty would not last much longer.

General Dick's position in the gubernatorial matter is simply this: That he is not asking for the endorsement of his candidacy by Senator Hanna; that he cannot see any danger to the present official organization of the Republican party if both he and Colonel Herrick are candidates; that the convention should select the candidates and that Senator Hanna should not be forced into the attitude of dictating the nomination for governor.

The indications are that in the near future Colonel Herrick will formally announce his intentions regarding the gubernatorial nomination, and the announcement will probably be a formal declaration of his candidacy. On the other hand, General Dick will probably let it be generally known that he is a receptive candidate for the nomination without a formal announcement of his candidacy.

Governor Nash was among Senator Hanna's callers yesterday and spent most of the day at the latter's office. Regarding the situation between Herrick and Dick Senator Hanna said:

"I understand that no decision of any kind was reached, and that matters stand as they were before the conference was held."

A Punctual Bird.

What tempts the little humming bird that we see in our gardens to travel every spring from near the equator to as far north as the arctic circle, leaving behind him, as he does, for a season, many tropical delights? He is the only one of many humming birds that pluckily leaves the land of gayly colored birds to go into voluntary exile in the north, east of the Mississippi. How it stirs the imagination to picture the solitary, tiny migrant, a mere atom of bird life, moving above the range of human sight through the vast dome of the sky! Borne swiftly onward by rapidly vibrating little wings, he covers the thousands of miles between his winter home and his summer one by easy stages and arrives at his chosen destination, weather permitting, at approximately the same date year after year.—Country Life in America.

The Woman and Her Face.

Once upon a time a woman had a quarrel with her features because they made ugly faces at her when she looked in the glass. She scolded and scolded, but it all did no good.

Finally she sat in front of her mirror, and with rouge, powder and black pencil went deliberately to work to show her face how wrong it was and succeeded.

After a time she smiled a smile of intense satisfaction, and her face smiled pleasantly back at her.

ATTORNEY D. E. ROGERS, OF ALLIANCE, LOSES HIS MIND.

Created a Scene at the Court House at Youngstown—Four Guards Needed to Control Him.

Alliance, December 30.—D. E. Rogers, a prominent attorney of Alliance, was suddenly taken violently insane last Saturday. Mr. Rogers, who recently completed his second term as city solicitor of Alliance, was recognized not only as an attorney of unusual ability, but as an indefatigable student and an active worker in church and temperance matters.

On Saturday Attorney Rogers left Alliance in the forenoon for Youngstown, where he was scheduled to take part in the trial of a case in which he represented one of the contestants. At some point between this city and Youngstown, while riding on the train, his mind became clouded, and when the train stopped at Youngstown he had to be aroused and told to get off. He left the Youngstown station and wandered to a physician's office, where he was vaccinated.

From the doctor's office he went to the court house, but instead of presenting himself in the case in which he was interested, he sat down in the rear of the room. The case was called, and the attorneys for the opposition stated that Attorney Rogers was not present, whereat Mr. Rogers rose from his seat and called out to the judge that such was not the case.

He at once became violent, rushing wildly about the room. The services of four guards were required to keep him within bounds. His legal friends in Youngstown took charge of him, and on Saturday evening he was brought home. He is now kept under guard. On Sunday he was still quite violent, though at times he became more quiet. Today, under medical treatment, he is more rational, and it is hoped that he will recover.

Overwork and mental exhaustion are assigned as the causes of the sudden attack. Mr. Rogers is well known all over Stark, Mahoning and Columbiana counties. His family consists of a wife and one son.

FIREMEN'S MEETING

The Benefit Fund Still Has a Surplus. Old Officers Re-Elected.

The Associated Firemen of East Liverpool held their annual meeting last night at the central fire station. The meeting was attended by the majority of the members and considerable business of importance was transacted. The annual reports of the officers for the past year were filed. The report of the treasurer showed that $268.35 remained in the benefit fund of the organization. Since the last meeting of the firemen two liberal donations have been received from local business men.

The officers for the coming year were continued as follows: President, William Rhue; secretary, William Terrence; treasurer, James F. McCullough.

KIDNEY DISEASE IS FATAL

Blood Wine is a Wonderful Protection.

James B. Mirick.

When disease gets into the kidneys it is just as certain to take a person off as leprosy, unless it is checked before it goes too far. If people just knew the danger that lurked in diseases of these delicate organs, they would be as careful of them as they are of their eyes. People who have sound kidneys should understand how to protect and take care of them. "Blood Wine" is a sure cure of Kidney Diseases because it removes the poisons that collect in the blood through the inactivity of the kidneys.

Mr. John T. Foster, of Manchester, N. H., speaks as thousands speak.

"Blood Wine" is truly a most remarkable medicine. In my case it has been little short of a miracle. For some time I suffered with Kidney disease and Rheumatism, of a most painful and advanced type. I tried about everything, without relief, and expected the same result from "Blood Wine," but fortunately for me when I struck "Blood Wine" I struck the Rock of Gibraltar. It stood my severe test and conquered my trouble, and today I am a well man, due wholly to this medicine. To my mind there is absolutely nothing that will compare with it, and I have no hesitation in advising any one in ill health to give it a thorough test.

Just read this letter from Mr. James B. Mirick, Worcester, Mass.:

"As a tonic and invigorant as well as a specific for all kidney and bladder ills, 'Blood Wine' is unexcelled. I have used it and do not hesitate to heartily recommend it."

Miss A. Davis, 186 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., says:

"For kidney trouble, I believe there is nothing better than 'Blood Wine.' I have been troubled with difficulties arising from kidney disease for years, and have found nothing to compare with 'Blood Wine.'"

Mr. Dan A. Metzel, 202 S. 8th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., says:

"For some years past I have suffered greatly with my kidneys and rheumatism, which at times almost unfit me for work. I heard of a few cases that 'Blood Wine' had cured, and tried it. It cured me entirely. Have not had a sign of my trouble since."

FREE BLOOD TEST.

The only way to tell just what is in your blood—is to have it examined by an expert bacteriologist under a powerful microscope. You can have your blood examined free of charge by sending your name to the Louis Daudet Co., Worcester, Mass., for full particulars.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle.

Two Monarchs Dethroned—Those At the Head of the List at Present.

During the year just closing two boxing champions were dethroned. Frank Erne, the leader of the lightweights, lowered his colors to Joe Gans, the colored pugilist and Frank Childs passed the colored heavyweight title to "Denver" Ed. Martin. In all other divisions the titles are held by the same men who possessed them a year ago. The year just closing has been a good one in boxing when compared to the season of 1901. Although the game has had many hard knocks, has been driven out of some states and restricted in others, it has come up smiling after every round and looks stronger now than could be expected.

Boxing contests were held during the year in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Colorado, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, and in Canada. In Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky, Michigan and Connecticut there has been opposition to boxing, but it has been directed against the champions only. In all of the states named the boxers without titles have been allowed to compete.

The pugilistic champions in the different classes are now as follows:

Heavyweight—James J. Jeffries, Los Angeles, Cal.

Heavyweight (colored)—"Denver" Ed. Martin, Denver.

Light heavyweight—George Gardner, Lowell, Mass.

Middleweight—Tommy Ryan, Chicago.

Welterweight—Joe Walcott, (colored), Boston.

Lightweight—Joe Gans, (colored), Baltimore.

Featherweight—William Bothwell, ("Young" Corbett), Denver.

Bantamweight—Harry Forbes, Chicago.

DEATHS IN THE PRIZE RING

Five Men Died During the Year As the Result of Boxing Bouts.

Five men met death during the year as the direct result of boxing bouts—two of them in Philadelphia. Thomas Hornketh (Tommy White) died four days after he was knocked out by Thomas Markey at the Knickerbocker A. C. on March 29. Albert Terrill ("Kid" Albert) collapsed in the Golden Gate A. C. ring while boxing with William Stokes, on September 1, and died four hours later. Frank J. Smith died at Allentown as the result of a bout with Hans Hartranft the night previous. James Cassidy (Tom Noonan) died the day after his bout with Eddie Dixon, at Boston, on May 22, while Charles Gildy died at Detroit on August 11 as the result of being knocked out by John Beabein two weeks before.

In addition to three deaths quite a number of other boxers died from other causes. Charley Johnson committed suicide in Philadelphia, on August 21. "Wild Bill" Hanrahan died of pneumonia at Chicago on April 18, while Tommy Hogan, a Pittsburgher, died of typhoid fever at a New York hospital. One-eyed Connolly, well-known in the pugilistic world, died in a Chicago hospital.

MUNROE GETS A JOB

Will Join the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons Combination And Learn the Fistic Art.

According to a special from Butte, Jack Munroe, the young miner who created a furore in the pugilistic world by staying four rounds with Champion Jeffries and incidentally winning $250, has accepted the terms of Clark Ball, Jeffries' manager, and will within a few days join the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons combination, now traveling in that section. The terms are, it is understood, $500 a week and traveling expenses.

It is announced that Munroe will be taught the science of the game, and by the time the company is in the eastern states he will be in a fit condition to pit against Sharkey, McCoy and others of that class.

A RELIGIOUS PAPER SCORES FOOTBALL

The Prize Ring Has Nothing Like Its Record of Casualties to Show.

The Presbyterian Banner, of which Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, president of Washington & Jefferson college, is one of the editors, says:

"The foot ball season is over and a careful count has been kept of the dead and wounded. Twelve young men are dead and 28 are more or less seriously wounded as the result of the campaign. The total of casualties compares with that of many a battle. The prize ring has nothing like this to show. If it resulted in several deaths a year, popular indignation would sweep it away. A game that results in such heavy loss of and injury to the flower of our young manhood in course of training for the highest positions in life, calls for reconsideration.

"It is true that it is a game that has many good points and fascinates and stirs the blood of young men and of spectators as no other game does. It is true that it is played at nearly all our colleges and universities under official management, and receives the enthusiastic support of most alumni. Yet the call for reconsideration is growing louder each year. All efforts to eliminate rough play and brutality have not succeeded, as these fatalities show.

"Professionalism is rampant in many colleges and is creeping in under disguised forms into some of the highest universities. It is being widely felt and loudly said that something decisive must be done to banish professionalism and brutality and rough play and an unreasonable degree of danger from the game or it must go. The secular papers are saying this more loudly than the religious papers. College authorities should take hold of this problem. Not one college can well act alone. The colleges might well form a combination or trust for the purpose of dealing with this evil, and should then mend it or end it."

League Not a Success.

The Inter-State basket ball league which started out so promising, is rapidly deteriorating in the minds of the public, and it is a satisfaction to know that the Steubenville team has taken part in only one league game during the season. Most of the teams are far below the average, says the Steubenville Gazette.

MOROCCO SITUATION SERIOUS.

Sultan Said to Have Barricaded Himself at Fez and Missionaries Are Leaving—Spain Sends Cruiser.

Tangier, Morocco, Dec. 30.—The sultan of Morocco is said to have retired to the palace at Fez with all his available artillery and ammunition, and to have strongly barricaded himself, in consequence of a threatened attack on the part of the rebels.

London, Dec. 30.—A dispatch from Tangier, dated Sunday, received in London yesterday, gives notice of the departure of the English women missionaries at Fez and Tetuan for the coast. No mention is made of the departure of the Americans, several of whom were stationed at Fez and Morocco, nor of the departure of the English male missionaries.

Madrid, Dec. 30.—King Alfonso last night discussed the Moroccan crisis with General Weyler, minister of war, and the Duke of Veragua, minister of marine. In addition to the cruiser Infanta Isabelle, which has already gone to Tangier, other vessels are to be held in readiness at Malaga and Algeiras to take reinforcements to Ceuta and Melilla. The government has asked its ambassadors at Paris and London to ascertain the views of the French and British governments concerning the Moroccan situations. It seems to be feared in political circles here that some foreign power will intervene in Morocco. The latest news to reach Madrid confirms the previous reports that Fez has been invested by the rebels.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

London, Dec. 30.—As a result of a fire in a small house in Stepney yesterday a Mrs. Schlessinger and her five young children were burned to death.

London, Dec. 30.—It was said a good authority in Liverpool yesterday that contracts had been made for 200,000 tons of coal for shipment from English, Scotch and Welsh ports to eastern ports of the United States.

Havana, Dec. 30.—United States Minister Squiers has formally begun negotiations in the matter of securing a coaling station on the Isle of Pines. It is understood that the United States asks for one naval and three coaling stations.

Delhi, India, Dec. 30.—The viceroy, Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, made his state entry yesterday into the capital of the Mogula. This constituted the official opening of the durbar, held to celebrate the accession of King Edward as emperor of India.

Manila, Dec. 30.—Moros on the island of Mindanao report that the cholera is depopulating the villages on the east side of Lake Lanao. At Macu there is an average of 50 deaths a day. The disease also prevails at Bacolod. It has appeared on all sides of Lake Lanao, but the Visayan residents of the island do not yet seem to have been attacked.

SOME TRI-STATE HAPPENINGS.

Hinton, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Miss Sylvia Adkins, while attempting to cross New river here, fell out of skiff and was drowned. Her body was found.

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 30.—The operators of the Flat Top coal field will give their miners an advance of 10 to 20 per cent, beginning Jan. 1. Twelve thousand men are affected.

Urichsville, O., Dec. 30.—Walter Bucy, aged 26, of Moorefield, committed suicide here in the back room of a saloon. He came to town last week with $125 and since then has been drinking.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time.

"The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

West, while adjusting a bolt at the Sharon steel works, was run over by an electric crane, death resulting instantly. He was 21 years old and lived in Cleveland.

Coshocton, O., Dec. 30.—Andrew Carnegie has offered Coshocton $15,000 for a library if the city will donate a site and provide $1,500 for its annual maintenance. A special meeting of the council will be called to accept the proposition.

Youngstown, O., Dec. 30.—The Bessemer plant of the Republic Iron and Steel company will be placed in operation the first of next week. The plant has been closed for the purpose of installing a new billet mill and other machinery.

A Lark's Lofly Flight.

Some Bavarian officers experimenting with a balloon 6,000 feet aloft noticed a little black speck that seemed to accompany them and which, they thought, was one of the cards they carried for throwing out reports and that the dropping of the balloon drew it along, but on looking at the barometer they found that the balloon was rising and not dropping. Suddenly, however, a loud chirping showed that it was a lark which, flying at this extraordinary height, had been frightened by the balloon.

Diseases Caused by Measles.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Tonic and

Nervine Cured After Thirty-one Years.

"I was a perfectly healthy young man up to February 1865. When my regiment was in Camp Randall I was taken sick with the measles and I did not enjoy good health up to the time I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic in 1896. Doctors have told me it came from inactivity of the liver. I cannot say how many physicians did treat me but have had all kinds. Disting has never helped me. Biliousness, attacks of headache, rheumatism, nasal catarrh, hay fever, asthma, and chronic diarrhoea; have all taken their turn with me. Thanks to the Nervine and Tonic I am completely restored to health. I have also used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with good results and I think that the Dr. Miles Remedies are perfect."—Rev. Hiram Bender, Sparta, Wis.

"I want to say a few good words for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have been troubled very much with insomnia since I made the change to the new paper and on account of this have tried various remedies without relief. I was finally induced by a wholesale druggist, a personal friend of mine, to try Nervine. I can assure you it has done me a lot of good. I do not find it necessary to use it regularly now but occasionally when I find that I am excessively nervous and restless I again take it up as I always keep a supply on hand. It has never failed to give me the desired relief."—A. Huggin, Publisher "Daily Free-Press" Milwaukee, Wis.

Found Charges True.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—The report of the committee of the state board of charities which investigated the irregularities existing at the Eastern penitentiary, in their report to Governor Stone, it is said, found every one of the major charges against Alexander Balfour true. While the board has not the power to ask for Mr. Balfour's resignation, it is believed that Governor Stone may demand that action since members of the board think that he should withdraw.

HEAVIEST CARS ARE THE SAFEST

Lighter Coaches in a Train Generally Bear the Brunt of a Collision.

SMOKERS ARE DANGEROUS

Baggage Cars Frequently Receive the Roughest Treatment in a Wreck. An Old Railroader's Advice to Those Who Travel.

"Which car is the safest one to occupy in a railroad wreck?" is a question that has received much consideration at the hands of travelers.

The recent railroad wreck on the Grand Trunk in Canada, in which 20 or 30 persons were killed, has caused a revival of the discussion, especially in this vicinity where railroad wrecks have occurred with alarming frequency during the last year.

Railroad men are not among those who discuss this question seriously. This problem to all intents and purposes was solved by them long ago. When a railroad superintendent hears the mere report of a wreck, he can tell, if he knows the makeup of the train and whether it was a head-on or rear-end collision, which of the cars received the brunt of the shock.

Railroad wrecks in Ohio are usually of the rear-end collision or head-on collision variety, and in no case in the last decade have the casualties been heavy. Another kind of wreck is caused by the spreading of rails. There have been three or four of these near Cleveland within the last two years.

"As a general principle it is safe to stick to the Pullman cars," is the advice of an old railroader, "and if there are no Pullmans on the train, size up the cars and try to occupy the heaviest of them. Whatever you do, keep out of the smoker."

There are good and sufficient reasons for this advice. The smoker on a train, to begin with, is the lightest of all the cars, as a rule, and is generally at the forward end of the train. If the baggage car happens to be heavily loaded the smoker is pinched between two heavy sections, and offering the least resistance, is reduced to kindling wood.

The car that receives the roughest treatment in a wreck, however, is the mail or baggage car. Unless this car is extraordinarily heavy it is bound to suffer. In every wreck that has taken place near this city during the last two years the baggage car has borne the brunt of the shock and has been the most dangerous car in the train. In the recent Erie wreck at Union street, Cleveland, great holes were punched through the bottom of the car, it was dived of its trucks, and was so badly shattered that the trunks and boxes inside were scattered around the wreck. The other cars were not damaged much with the exception of some badly smashed window lights.

In a wreck on the Big Four near Oberlin a few years ago, an accident due to the spreading of the rails, the passenger coaches crashed into the baggage car, leaving only the front end of the car intact. The other cars on this train were practically uninjured and the passengers continued their journey without delay.

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physical cause of mental depression. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Food medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richmond Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place, was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. Could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

A temporary resting place at the bottom of a ditch 15 feet below. The smoker remained partially on the top of the embankment. None of the passengers in the coaches behind were seriously injured.

Accidents that have occurred where all the casualties were in the smoker, other passengers escaping unharmed, have demonstrated the truth of some of the foregoing statements. So evident is it that a weak car between two heavy ones will be the one to be smashed in a wreck that there is a state law preventing railroad companies from placing baggage cars at the rear of a train.

An interesting fact in this connection is that rear-end collisions have taken place where the rear car in the first train, the one to receive the impact of the blow, was scarcely damaged, while towards the front of the train the smoker was smashed to pieces.

Lieutenant Doval, of the United States hydrographic office, has been an interested observer of results in this respect for years past.

"So apparent is it that the light car not only receive the full force of the collision, but are the means of saving the other cars in the train from being wrecked," said he, "that it has been advocated in some states that the railroad companies be compelled to have an empty car on each train which would be sacrificed in case of a wreck. This car would act as a buffer for the others, in case of a collision."

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Speculative Sentiment Shows Sensitiveness to Development in Cattle Money—Bonds Irregular.

New York, Dec. 30.—Speculative sentiment yesterday showed greater sensitiveness to the developments in the cattle money market than was the case last week, when a 15 per cent rate was practically ignored. Yesterday, when money opened at 10 per cent, with an advancing tendency, prices broke sharply all around. The rate touched 12 per cent in the morning and then relaxed, followed by a rally in the stock market, but when money rose again to 15 per cent prices of stocks promptly yielded.

The altered sentiment toward the money market is believed to be due to the strict attitude assumed by the banks and to the calling in of loans. The largest selling of yesterday was attributed to the pools, which were credited with causing last week's advance in prices and which are believed to have received renewed warning against expansion of credits for speculative purposes at present.

The foreign exchange problem is still unsettled, with the possibility that foreign requirements will draw large amounts of gold from our market upon any relaxation in money rates.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,050,000.

United States 2s, the new 4s, coupon, and the old 4s advanced 1/4 per cent on the last call.

Overcrowding Breeds Consumption.
Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Overcrowding of the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville is breeding consumption fast among the 970 convicts who have to double up in the 500 small, ill-ventilated cells. The death Sunday night of Cornelius Johnson, of McDowell county, a short term prisoner, has precipitated the startling disclosure that the disease is due for more victims unless better accommodations are provided. Warden Haddock says he will appeal to the legislature, which convenes next month. The contract to board the federal prisoners from the District of Columbia is responsible for the overcrowding. The deaths this year average nearly one a week.

STRONG OPPOSITION.

Sentiment Against Ratifying Cuban Reciprocity Treaty Is Growing More Pronounced.

President Sees in the Proposed Ratification No Possible Assault on the Tariff System of This Country and Wants Prompt Action.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Considerable opposition is developing to the ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty now pending in the senate. It is not taking quite the form that the opposition to the Cuban legislation took last spring, but it is sufficient in substance to give concern to the friends of the treaty.

From time to time, as opportunity offers, the president is discussing the matter with senators, particularly those who are known to have objected to the enactment of legislation extending tariff concessions to the Cuban republic. Several weeks ago it appeared that the treaty, when presented to the senate, would be ratified without difficulty, but some senators now are taking as strong ground against the treaty as they took against the legislation proposed at the last session of congress. These senators are of two classes, those who are opposed on principle to any "tariff tinkering" and those who represent states whose products may be affected by the concessions extended to Cuba by the pending treaty.

Fear Others Would Ask Concessions.

Senators of the first class might be induced to support the treaty, inasmuch as it does not involve, in their view, an attack on the system of protection, were it not for their apprehension that the ratification of the Cuban treaty may lead to a demand from other countries that they, too, be accorded special tariff concessions by the United States. It has been indicated to the president that in the event of the ratification of the Cuban treaty a demand may be expected from Germany within 30 days for concessions similar to those accorded Cuba. The most distinct desire of the German emperor, it is pointed out, is for the extension of the foreign commerce of his empire. He, of course, regards Cuba as a nation foreign to the United States, and so far as that point is concerned, on all four sides of Germany. If tariff concessions are granted to Cuba, Germany, under the most favored nation clause, will request that she be given similar concessions. The request may take the form almost of a demand. If it be not granted the fear is expressed that Germany may initiate legislation that will be inimical to the industrial development of this country, so far as Germany is concerned, even if it should not curtail American commerce already established in Germany and its possessions.

The same argument is applied to other countries, Germany being used simply as an example of what may be expected of all of the great foreign nations with which the United States has extensive commercial relations.

No Captious Opposition.

Yesterday the president had an hour's conference with Senator Scott, of West Virginia, during which they discussed the reciprocity question in all its phases. Senator Scott is offering no captious opposition to the Cuban treaty, but he is particularly desirous that nothing should be done that in the end might result in any recession on the part of the United States from its present tariff policy.

The president, it is understood, believes that the pending treaty with Cuba will be ratified. He desires that it should be ratified as promptly as possible and with as little friction as may be. He sees in the proposed ratification no possible assault on the tariff system of this country, and believes that it would be simply the redemption of a promise, direct or implied, made to the Cuban people when they were in the throes of the organization of their government. In this view the president is supported by a large majority of the Republican senators. While some trouble is anticipated in effecting the ratification of the treaty, it is believed generally that ratification will not be delayed seriously.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NEWS.

The twenty-first annual meeting of the American Forestry association will be held here tomorrow.

Captain Robert Berry, now in command of the Norfolk (Va.) navy yard, has been ordered to the command of the battleship Kentucky.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science began its fifty-second annual meeting here yesterday. The attendance was large.

Formal orders were issued yesterday by the navy department detailing Rear Admiral Glass as commander-in-chief of the Pacific station. He will succeed Rear Admiral Casey, who has been placed on waiting orders.

Chicago, Ill., December, 1901.
Gentlemen:—A couple of years ago, while experimenting through the South, I found that by spending a part of my time in marshy neighborhoods filled with miasm, my entire system was being slowly poisoned. I had chills and fever, ached all over, lost appetite and sleep. The doctor told me that I had malaria, and quinine was prescribed. I took it for two weeks and as I kept getting worse, decided to change treatment. I spoke to a friend about my condition. He said that he had some of that he wished I would try. I used it for three days and felt better, and sent for six bottles and used them while in camp. It acted like magic in driving the poison out of my system, cleansed my blood, restored my appetite, and I am now in perfect health. I keep it on hand and find that an occasional dose keeps me well. Very truly yours,
Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin

The Life Plant Co., Canton, Ohio.
Gentlemen:—I have used nearly two bottles of LIFE PLANT and must say it is a fine medicine for the kidneys. It is the best medicine I have ever taken and I recommend it to all who are suffering from kidney diseases.
F. F. EDWARDS, 136 Third St.

Kidney diseases are very common and very dangerous. They cause more deaths than any other affliction, and yet they can be cured, quickly and easily by taking LIFE PLANT. An improper treatment is worse than none. It excites the kidneys to unusual action for a time, causing a seeming benefit, but the result is increased weakness.

LIFE PLANT leaves you permanently cured or your money is refunded. Whatever the stage of your trouble, your druggist will warrant that LIFE PLANT will succeed with you.

The fearful fatality caused by kidney diseases is the result of neglect and wrong treatment. Commence now by using the only guaranteed treatment, LIFE PLANT. It's a wonder.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Couple Well Known in This City Married in Pittsburgh Yesterday.

Miss Annie Garvin and Gus Burgess were married yesterday at Pittsburgh at the home of a relative of the bride. The young couple left here on Christmas day, Miss Gavern to visit relatives and Mr. Burgess to spend his holiday vacation with friends. Only their immediate friends suspected the true motive of the trip. They will return to this city to receive the congratulation of their many friends and will go to housekeeping in the near future.

The bride is an attractive and popular young lady who has lived here for several years. The groom is a son of Sanitary Policeman Burgess and is employed at the Murphy pottery as a jiggerman.

ENJOYABLE EVENING

Spent By a Number of Young People at the Home of William Brunt.

An evening of pleasure was spent when quite a large number of young people accepted the hospitality of Misses Alice and May Way, at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brunt, Broadway and Kossuth streets. The evening was spent in dancing, and McGraw's orchestra furnished excellent music throughout the period. Other features of amusement which afforded much pleasure to the crowd were fortune telling and ping pong.

Late in the evening a light luncheon was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Edna Green, of Cleveland, and Helen and Elsie Sebring, of Sebring.

A Ping Pong Party.

Messrs. Carl and Earl Cripps will entertain about 10 of their boy friends at their home on Jackson street tomorrow evening. The evening will be one of great pleasure, for the young people will indulge in the popular game of ping pong.

RAISED A DISTURBANCE

Lisbon Man Arrested For Drunkenness And Resisting An Officer.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—Eben McClain was arrested for drunkenness yesterday, and will have to answer to Mayor Ferrall today for malicious destruction of property and resisting an officer. McClain was in the bar room of the Hasbrook hotel and was ordered out by the proprietor. He became angry and threw a brick in the door.

Information was made against McClain, and he was arrested. McClain resister Officer John Costello, and was severely clubbed before he became submissive.

MASONIC HALL

Third Floor of Golding Building Leased For the Use of Lodge.

The Masonic lodges in this city have leased the entire third floor of the M. E. Golding building, Fifth and Washington streets, the deal being closed today. Possession will be given on the first day of January, when the work of remodeling the floor will be made to accommodate the entire Masonic body and the new room will be one of the finest in this section. Peabody lodge No. 19 now occupies the rear part of the third floor and it will be displaced. It is not been known where it will find a location.

THE CAPITAL STOCK WILL BE INCREASED

COOPERATIVE STORE TO HAVE A CAPITAL OF $10,000.

Decision is Reached At a Business Meeting of the Stockholders Last Night.

The stockholders of the new cooperative store held a meeting at the Brotherhood hall last evening, and a temporary organization was effected, by the election of the following officers: President—U. G. King; secretary—Fred Pennington; treasurer—Samuel Steele; directors—Richard Herbert, G. M. B. Beatty, and Jacob Herman.

As soon as the meeting had adjourned the newly elected officers made out and forwarded to Columbus an application for a charter.

There was a good attendance at the meeting and it was decided to increase the capital stock from $5,000 to $10,000.

A committee was appointed whose duty it will be to draft a constitution and by laws. A week was allowed to the committee in which to complete its work. Notification will be sent to all subscribers on the first of January, to the effect that their subscription will be due and payable on or before February 1, and one of the banks will be designated as depositor and will issue the stock certificates.

The examining committee is meeting this afternoon in Brotherhood hall, and the members are empowered to receive subscriptions.

Young Men's Lyceum Has Trouble With an Orchestra Company Over Canceled Engagement.

Lisbon, December 30.—(Special.)—The Young Men's lyceum, a social club in this city, will probably be defendant in a suit brought by the management of the Salisbury orchestra, of Chicago, which had been booked to give an entertainment her last evening, but whose contract was canceled a few weeks ago. Some time in October the lyceum boys engaged the orchestra, signing a contract by which the Salisbury people were to play for the annual dance to have been held here last night.

The manager of the orchestra was informed later that the event would have to be postponed on account of the smallpox scare, and that the services of the orchestra would not be required. With the disappearance of smallpox the club fixed on New Year's night as the date for holding the dance, and engaged the Mahoning orchestra, of Youngstown. The Salisbury orchestra refused to be canceled, however, unless the entire town was under quarantine, and arrived here yesterday afternoon. The lyceum refused to deal with the company, and an offer by the latter to give an entertainment in the opera house for $50 was refused. The price stipulated in the contract was $90 and expenses, which would have amounted to $150.

The manager of the orchestra was in consultation with attorneys yesterday afternoon.

It was reported that negotiations were on for a settlement, the terms being that the club should pay a part of the original contract price.

Twenty Dollars Worth of Material Removed in the Night By Thieves.

J. W. Jones, the plumber, reported to the police this morning the theft of about $20 worth of lead pipe from a new house on which he was working. Mr. Jones is piping the house of Thomas Steele on Pine street and has had considerable trouble protecting his tools and other materials from thieves. Last night everything in sight was either taken away or destroyed. The entire loss to Mr. Jones will amount to over $20. Fourteen feet of good lead pipe was stolen, outright and the remainder destroyed.

THE COLD WEATHER CHECKED THE RISE

Sudden Freeze Dispelled Prospects of a Coal Boat Stage of Water.

The weather conditions yesterday were favorable for another coal boat stage of water until the freeze of last night spoiled the prospect. In spite of the rain and snow that reached the river yesterday it is only stationary here today. A rise of several feet is expected at Pittsburgh today and if it materializes it will bring out the ice from the Allegheny and some damage may result to river craft. Packets and tugs are the only boats moving around Pittsburgh.

The Queen City was the Cincinnati boat up today, she arriving at 1 p. m. with only a fair trip. The trade has not yet recovered from the holiday depression and business with all the packets is somewhat light.

The Kanawha is due down at 8 o'clock tonight from Pittsburgh for points on the Kanawha river.

The funeral of Captain W. W. O'Neil occurred yesterday morning from his home in Elizabeth, Pa. There were hundreds of well known rivermen and coal operators at the funeral. The interment was made in the Versailles cemetery. The Pittsburgh Coal Exchange, National Board of Steam Navigation, Marine National bank, Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company and other institutions with which Captain O'Neil had been identified, sent beautiful floral tributes.

Captain Ira B. Huntington, traveling passenger and freight agent for the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet Line, spent the day in this city. In the few weeks he has served in his present capacity he has added greatly to the line of boats he represents.
